it is the first book length engagement with the subject of queer Wales it covers period from the 18th century to the present it considers literature art history film television drama crime motherhood education and a range of other questions across these categories Horror Television in the Age of Consumption Kimberly Jackson, Linda Belau, 2017-11-15

Characterized as it is by its interest in and engagement with the supernatural psycho social formations the gothic and issues of identity and subjectivity horror has long functioned as an allegorical device for interrogations into the seamier side of cultural foundations This collection therefore explores both the cultural landscape of this recent phenomenon and the reasons for these television series wide appeal focusing on televisual aesthetics technological novelties the role of adaptation and seriality questions of gender identity and subjectivity and the ways in which the shows themes comment on the culture that consumes them Featuring new work by many of the field s leading scholars this collection offers innovative readings and rigorous theoretical analyses of some of our most significant contemporary texts in the genre of Horror Television

Dancing with the Doctor Lorna Jowett, 2017-06-30 Lorna Jowett delves into the distinctive stories and characters including the Doctors themselves their female and male companions Captain Jack Harkness Missy Sarah Jane and her young comrades She considers the showrunners directors producers and writers and the problems this flagship science fiction series has had in offering alternative gender models Constructions of masculinity the author function and how gender intersects with the other facets of identity race ethnicity and age are just some of the areas explored in this accessible and wide ranging re view of these hotly debated elements of the successful BBC franchise Transatlantic Television Drama Matt Hills, Michele Hilmes, Roberta E. Pearson, 2019 In 2014 the UK science fiction television series Black Mirror was released on Netflix worldwide quickly becoming a hit with US audiences Like other beloved British imports this series piqued Americans interest with hints of dark comedy clever plotlines and six episode seasons that left audiences frantic for more In Transatlantic Television Drama volume editors Michele Hilmes Matt Hills and Roberta Pearson team up with leading scholars in TV studies and transnational television to look at how serial dramas like Black Mirror captivate US audiences and what this reveals about the ways Americans and Brits relate to each other on and off the screen Focusing on production strategies performance styles and audience reception chapters delve into some of the most widely discussed programs on the transatlantic circuit from ongoing series like Game of Thrones Downton Abbey Orphan Black and Sherlock to those with long histories of transnational circulation like Masterpiece and Doctor Who to others whose transnational success speaks to the process of exchange adaptation and cooperation such as Rome Parade s End Broadchurch and Gracepoint The book s first section investigates the platforms that support British American exchange from distribution partnerships and satellite providers to streaming services The second section concentrates on the shift in meaning across cultural contexts such as invocations of heritage genre shifts in adaptation performance styles and in the case of Episodes actual dramatized depiction of the process of transatlantic television production In section three attention turns to contexts of audience reception ranging from fan conventions and fiction to television criticism the effects of national branding on audiences and the role of social media in de or re contextualizing fans response to transnational programs Gender and the Quest in British Science Fiction Television Tom Powers, 2016-11-01 The subjects of this book constitute a significant cross section of BBC science fiction television With such characters as the Doctor an enigmatic time traveling alien Kerr Avon a problematic rebel leader Dave Lister a slovenly last surviving human and Captain Jack Harkness a complex omnisexual immortal these shows have both challenged and reinforced viewer expectations about the small screen masculine hero This book explores the construction of gendered heroic identity in the series from both production and fan perspectives The paradoxical relationships between the producers writers and fans of the four series are discussed Fan fiction criticism and videos are examined that both celebrate and criticize BBC science fiction heroes and villains

Post-Object Fandom Rebecca Williams, 2016-07-28 Fandom is generally viewed as an integral part of everyday life which impacts upon how we form emotional bonds with ourselves and others in a modern mediated world Whilst it is inevitable for television series to draw to a close the reactions of fans have rarely been considered Williams explores this everyday occurrence through close analysis of television fans to examine how they respond to discuss and work through their feelings when shows finish airing Through a range of case studies including The West Wing NBC 2000 2006 Lost ABC 2004 2010 Buffy the Vampire Slayer 1997 2003 Doctor Who BBC 1963 1989 2005 The X Files FOX 1993 2002 Firefly FOX 2002 and Sex and the City HBO 1998 2004 Williams considers how fans prepare for the final episodes of shows how they talk about this experience with fellow fans and how through re viewing discussion and other fan practices they seek to maintain their fandom after the show s cessation

New Dimensions of Doctor Who David Mellor, Matt Hills, 2013-09-03 The Doctor may have regenerated on many occasions but so too has Doctor Who Moving with the times the show has evolved across fifty years New Dimensions of Doctor Who explores contemporary developments in Doctor Who s music design and representations of technology as well as issues of showrunner authority and star authorship Putting these new dimensions in context means thinking about changes in the TV industry such as the rise of branding and transmedia storytelling Along with its faster narrative pace and producer fan interaction via Twitter new Who also has a new home at Roath Lock Studios Cardiff Bay Studying the Doctor Who Experience in its Cardiff setting and considering audience nostalgia alongside anniversary celebrations this book explores how current Doctor Who relates to real world spaces and times New Directions of Doctor Who is the scholarly equivalent of a multi Doctor story bringing together the authors of Triumph of a Time Lord and TARDISbound as well as the editors of Time and Relative Dissertations in Space Impossible Worlds Impossible Things Torchwood Declassified and Doctor Who The Eleventh Hour It also features contributions from experts on TV brands bioethics transmedia and cultural icons As new Who creates ongoing mysteries and poses exciting questions this collection demonstrates the vitality of Doctor Who studies

TV Horror Lorna Jowett, Stacey Abbott, 2013-01-18 Horror is a universally popular pervasive TV genre with shows like True Blood Being Human The Walking Dead and American Horror Story making a bloody splash across our television screens This complete utterly accessible sometimes scary new book is the definitive work on TV horror It shows how this most adaptable of genres has continued to be a part of the broadcast landscape unsettling audiences and pushing the boundaries of acceptability The authors demonstrate how TV Horror continues to provoke and terrify audiences by bringing the monstrous and the supernatural into the home whether through adaptations of Stephen King and classic horror novels or by reworking the gothic and surrealism in Twin Peaks and Carnivale. They uncover horror in mainstream television from procedural dramas to children's television and through close analysis of landmark TV auteurs including Rod Serling, Nigel Kneale, Dan Curtis and Stephen Moffat together with case studies of such shows as Dark Shadows, Dexter, Pushing Daisies, Torchwood and Supernatural they explore its evolution on television. This book is a must have for those studying TV Genre as well as for anyone with a taste for the gruesome and the macabre.
