Towards International Government John Atkinson Hobson, 1915 Public Diplomacy in Ireland and Japan John Neary, 2025-10-01 Public diplomacy enables private citizens to be involved in international relations either through initiatives sponsored by governments or through direct people to people contacts in areas such as culture business education tourism and sport Public Diplomacy in Ireland and Japan traces the evolution of this growing branch of diplomacy and examines the role it has played in the foreign policies of Ireland and Japan and in their bilateral relationship It concludes that public diplomacy has contributed significantly to strengthening the links between the two countries 21st-Century Statecraft Nayef Al-Rodhan, 2022-07-28 From civilisational frontier risks associated with new challenges like disruptive technologies to the shifting nature of great power conflicts and subversion the 21st century requires a new approach to statecraft In 21st Century Statecraft Professor Nayef Al Rodhan proposes five innovative statecraft concepts He makes the case for a new method of geopolitical analysis called meta geopolitics and for dignity based governance He shows how in an interdependent and interconnected world traditional thinking must move beyond zero sum games and focus on multi sum and symbiotic realist interstate relations This requires a new paradigm of global security premised on five dimensions of security and a new concept of power just power which highlights the centrality of justice to state interests These concepts enable states to balance competing interests and work towards what the author calls reconciliation statecraft Throughout Professor Al Rodhan brings his philosophical and neuroscientific expertise to bear providing a practical model for conducting statecraft in a sustainable way Whither Indian Ocean Maritime Order? Contributions to a Seminar on Narendra Modi's SAGAR Speech Ambassador Yogendra Kumar, 2017-02-15 Prime Minister Modi articulated his vision for the future of the Indian Ocean region when he presented the Offshore Patrol Vessel Barracuda to the Mauritian Coast Guard on March 12 2015 at Port Louis Such authoritative statement on Indian Ocean by an Indian leader has not been made for a long time It evoked considerable interest amongst strategic analysts everywhere Whilst infusing a soft civilisational complexion to India's envisaged role it signifies also a determination to seek a future of Security and Growth for All in the Region or SAGAR Hindi for sea As Indian Ocean assumes greater significance in the wake of profound geo strategic shifts and multitudinous challenges to regional stability there is universal interest in India's policy approach and capabilities toward the shaping of a stable maritime order The Indian political leadership is conscious of the evolving strategic situation and its implications for the country's security and well being it at the same time feels that the current circumstances are propitious for such a policy to be successful in substantial measure Its benign external image and US and other countries especially regional support for more proactive engagement provide the wellspring for its determination that the Indian Ocean's challenges should be met by the countries of the region itself even as the legitimate interests of outside powers can be accommodated The eminent contributors to this volume analyse the various components of the SAGAR pronouncement and contextualise them against the emerging strategic trends and the spectrum of bilateral and multilateral effort required for its success Human Factors in Effective Counter-Terrorism Richard Warnes, 2024-02-29 This book seeks to provide a comparative assessment of the significance of human factors in effective counter terrorism The phrase human factors is used to describe personal relationships individual capabilities effective leadership technical interface organisational culture and the community engagement necessary to effectively minimise counter and control the threat of terrorism Unlike many works in the field this book is constructed around the input of experienced knowledge from over 170 semi structured interviews of specialist military policing intelligence and security practitioners those actors actually involved in countering terrorism These practitioners come from seven countries the United Kingdom Ireland France Spain Israel Turkey and the United States all of which have suffered over the years from different types of terrorist threat and responded with a mixture of counter terrorist measures Where military practitioners also discussed overseas counter insurgency measures that material has been included since terrorism forms a key aspect of such wider insurgencies The resulting interview data was analysed through a variant of Grounded Theory to identify key emerging themes and issues both positive and negative relevant to human factors in the individual countries and more generically This book incorporates the informed operational experiences and insights of the interviewees while seeking to provide examples of successful counter terrorist measures at the strategic operational and tactical levels This book will be of much interest to students of counter terrorism defence studies and security studies in general The Politics of Community-making in New Urban India Ritanjan Das, Nilotpal Kumar, 2023-04-17 This book explores the relationship between the production of new urban spaces and illiberal community making in contemporary India It is based on an ethnographic study in Noida a city at the eastern fringe of the state of Uttar Pradesh bordering national capital Delhi The book demonstrates a flexible planning approach being central to the entrepreneurial turn in India's post liberalisation urbanisation whereby a small scale industrial township is transformed into a real estate driven modern city Its real point of departure however is in the argument that this turn can enable a form of illiberal community making in new cities that are quite different from older metropolises Exclusivist forms of solidarity and symbolic boundary construction stemming from the differences across communities as well as their internal heterogeneities form the crux of this process which is examined in three distinct but often interspersed socio spatial forms planned middle class residential quarters urban villages and migrant squatter colonies The book combines radical geographical conceptualisations of social production of space and neoliberal urbanism with sociological and anthropological approaches to urban community making It will be of interest to researchers in development studies sociology urban studies as well as readers interested in society and politics of contemporary India South Asia From Empire to Europe Geoffrey Owen, 2000 Through an analysis of British industry Owen argues that it has undergone a transformation which has modernized the UK economy He demonstrates the influence of institutions and policies on the industries that are likely to succeed Introduction to Education Studies Steve Bartlett, Diana Burton, 2016-03-26 Introduction to Education Studies has proven itself to be the key text for students of Education Studies for over a decade leading readers through the field's key ideas, concepts and debates. Drawing from the main educational themes of sociology, philosophy, history, psychology and policy, Bartlett and Burton introduce you to different ways of looking at education and the ideologies that shape educational systems. Tightly supported by accessible links to research literature and keenly aware of contemporary developments, this book encourages you to adopt a critical questioning approach to your study in order to develop an engaged and informed understanding of education. This new edition includes a range of video discussion boxes throughout the book and linked to the companion website exploring key issues related to each chapter. Enhanced coverage of special educational needs discussing how policy has evolved historically and in more recent times throughout the New Labour and Coalition governments. New discussion of the 2014 National Curriculum in England and the political processes and ideologies underpinning it.

Female Sexuality and the Law Susan S. M. Edwards, 2025-12-01 The treatment of women by the law whether as victims or offenders is based on certain attitudes towards female sexuality that have influenced legal thinking since 1800. The aim of this book, originally published in 1981, reissued here with a new preface, was to expose and investigate these attitudes and to show how the law has subtly but inexorably been used as an instrument of social control over women and their sexual behaviour. The study focuses on the treatment of victims of rape and sexual assault. Within the legal process it is the area of discretion which is as important as the actual formal content of the law. Why is it that one man may be imprisoned for the daring of a kiss whereas countless others have escaped with fines and admonitions for the most brutal assaults? What influence can a woman's personal background, material circumstances or mental condition be allowed to have on the case? How brutally assaulted does a woman have to be to prove beyond all doubt that she did not secretly desire the assault? The scope of the book encompasses law, sociology, psychoanalysis and medicine and paints a startling picture of the degree of prejudice and masculine interest still woven into the fabric of the law. Today it can be read in its historical context.

How to Do Public Policy Anke Hassel, Kai Wegrich, 2022-03-15 How to Do Public Policy offers a guide to students and practitioners on how to improve problem solving with policies in a political world. It integrates insights from applied policy analysis and studies of the policy process to develop a framework that conceives policy making as structured by two spheres of action: the engine room of specialists and experts in government agencies, NGOs, research organizations etc. on the one hand and the political superstructure of politicians, key public stakeholders and the public on the other hand. Understanding the different logics of the engine room and the superstructure is key for successful policy making. The dual structure of policy making provides a perspective on policy analysis, interactive policy analysis and policy making, actor-centred policy making that moves from the focus on individual and specific measures towards understanding and shaping the relation and interaction between policy interventions, the institutional context and the stakeholders involved or affected. Part I of the book presents the basic analytical concepts needed to understand the policy process and the structures and dynamics involved in it as well as to understand how and why actors behave the way they do and how to engage with different types of actors Part II moves further into the nuts and bolts of policy making including policy design implementation and evaluation Part III introduces and explores three key aspects of the capacity to make good policies engagement with stakeholders the process of policy coordination in a context of interdependence and the role of institutions Towards International Government J.
