Watching Babylon The War In Iraq And Global Visual Culture:

Watching Babylon Nicholas Mirzoeff, 2012-10-12 Groundbreaking and compelling Watching Babylon examines the experience of watching the war against Iraq on television on the internet in the cinema and in print media Mirzoeff shows how the endless stream of images flowing from the Gulf has necessitated a new form of visual thinking one which recognises that the war has turned images themselves into weapons Drawing connections between the history and legend of ancient Babylon the metaphorical Babylon of Western modernity and everyday life in the modern suburb of Babylon New York Mirzoeff explores ancient concerns which have found new resonance in the present day In the tradition of Walter Benjamin Watching Babylon illuminates the Western experience of the Iraqi war and makes us re examine the very way we look at images of conflict

War Isn't Hell, It's Entertainment Fabian Virchow, Debra White-Stanley, 2009-02-27 Real war is a cruel theater of death yet it is also an exciting narrative exploited for national political and commercial purposes and turned into numerous films television shows computer games news stories and reenactment plays These essays examine the relationship between war visual media and entertainment from a number of academic perspectives Key topics include how war is used as an imaginary site to stage dramas how boundaries between war media and entertainment dissolve as new media alters the formal qualities of representation how entertainment is used to engage audiences and what effect products of war and entertainment have on consumers of popular culture

Farewell to Visual Studies James Elkins, Gustav Frank, Sunil Manghani, 2015-10-28 Each of the five volumes in the Stone Art Theory Institutes series brings together a range of scholars who are not always directly familiar with one another's work The outcome of each of these convergences is an extensive and unpredictable conversation on knotty and provocative issues about art This fifth and final volume in the series focuses on the identity nature and future of visual studies discussing critical questions about its history objects and methods The contributors question the canon of literature of visual studies and the place of visual studies with relation to theories of vision visuality epistemology politics and art history giving voice to a variety of inter and transdisciplinary perspectives Rather than dismissing visual studies as its provocative title might suggest this volume aims to engage a critical discussion of the state of visual studies today how it might move forward and what it might leave behind to evolve in productive ways The contributors are Emmanuel Alloa Nell Andrew Linda B ez Rub Martin A Berger Hans Dam Christensen Isabelle Decobecq Bernhard J Dotzler Johanna Drucker James Elkins Michele Emmer Yolaine Escande Gustav Frank Theodore Gracyk Asbj rn Gr nstad Stephan G nzel Charles W Haxthausen Miguel Hern ndez Navarro Tom Holert K van K l n Charlotte Klonk Tirza True Latimer Mark Linder Sunil Manghani Anna Notaro Julia Orell Mark Reinhardt Vanessa R Schwartz Bernd Stiegler yvind V gnes Sjoukje van der Meulen Terri Weissman Lisa Zaher and Marta Zarzycka

Cultures of Fear Uli Linke, Danielle Taana Smith, 2009-10-09 This collection of essays explores the formation and normalisation of fear in the context of war and terrorism Freedom from fear is a universal right and fundamental for human well being People often look to governments humanitarian agencies and other institutions to further this aim However this book shows that these organisations often use the same logic of fear to monitor control and contain human beings in zones of violence This is an excellent interdisciplinary reader for students of anthropology sociology and politics Contributors include Noam Chomsky Slavoj Zizek Jean Baudrillard Catharine MacKinnon Neil Smith Cynthia Enloe David L Altheide Cynthia Cockburn and Carolyn Nordstrum War and Media Andrew Hoskins, Ben O'Loughlin, 2013-04-23 The trinity of government military and publics has been drawn together into immediate and unpredictable relationships in a new media ecology that has ushered in new asymmetries in the waging of war and terror To help us understand these new relationships Andrew Hoskins and Ben O Loughlin here provide a timely comprehensive and highly readable survey of the field of war and media War is diffused through a complex mesh of our everyday media Paradoxically this both facilitates and contains the presence and power of enemies near and far The conventions of so called traditional warfare have been splintered by the availability and connectivity of the principal locus of war today the electronic and digital media Hoskins and O Loughlin identify and illuminate the conditions of what they term diffused war and the new challenges it raises for the actors who wage and counter warfare for their agents and mechanisms of the new media and for mass publics This book offers an invaluable review of the key literature and presents a fresh approach to the understanding of the dynamic relationships between war and media It will be welcomed by a broad range of students taking courses on war and media and related modules especially in media communication and cultural studies politics and international relations sociology journalism and security studies Excavating the Future Shawn Malley, 2018 A cultural study of an array of popular North American science fiction film and television texts Excavating the Future explores the popular archaeological imagination and the political uses to which it is being employed by the U S state and its adversaries Signs and Wonders Ellen T. Armour, 2016-03-15 We are told modernity's end will destabilize familiar ways of knowing doing and being but are these changes we should dread or celebrate Four significant events and the iconic images that represent them catalyze this question the consecration of openly gay Episcopalian bishop Gene Robinson the mistreatment of prisoners at Abu Ghraib prison the politicization of the death of Terri Schiavo and the disastrous response to Hurricane Katrina Framed by an original appropriation of Michel Foucault and drawing on resources in visual culture theory and the history of photography Ellen T Armour explores the anxieties passions and power dynamics bound up in the photographic representation and public reception of these events Together these phenomena expose modernity's benevolent and malevolent disruptions and reveal the systemic fractures and fissures that herald its end for better and for worse In response to these signs and wonders Armour lays the groundwork for a theology and philosophy of life better suited to our post modern moment one that owns up to the vulnerabilities that modernity sought to disavow and better enables us to navigate the ethical issues we now confront Critical Security Methods Claudia Aradau, Jef Huysmans, Andrew Neal, Nadine Voelkner, 2014-08-13 New approach to research methods and methodology in critical security studies Helps fill the gap in

Pictorial Cultures and Political Iconographies Udo J.

Hebel,Christoph Wagner,2011-06-30 The pictorial turn in the humanities and social sciences has foregrounded the political power of images and the extent to which historical political social and cultural processes and practices are shaped visually Political iconographies are taken to interpret norms of actions support ideological formations and enhance moral concepts Visual rhetorics are understood as active players in the construction and contestation of the political realm and public space The twenty one articles by scholars from Europe and the United States explore the political function and cultural impact of images from the perspectives of Art History American Studies Visual Culture Studies History and Political Science The contributions in particular address the complex interplay between agent and addressee in the public space as well as issues of national identity discourses of inclusion and exclusion and the designation of political spaces within transnational contexts The publication is part of the interdisciplinary research initiative Perceiving and Understanding Functions Perception Processes Forms of Visualizations Cultural Strategies of Pictures and Texts at the University of Regensburg

The SAGE Handbook of Digital Journalism Tamara Witschge,C. W. Anderson,David Domingo,Alfred Hermida,2016-05-18 The production and consumption of news in the digital era is blurring the boundaries between professionals citizens and activists Actors producing information are multiplying but still media companies hold central position Journalism research faces important challenges to capture examine and understand the current news environment The SAGE Handbook of Digital Journalism starts from the pressing need for a thorough and bold debate to redefine the assumptions of research in the changing field of journalism The 38 chapters written by a team of global experts are organised into four key areas Section A Changing Contexts Section B News Practices in the Digital Era Section C Conceptualizations of Journalism Section D Research Strategies By addressing both institutional and non institutional news production and providing ample attention to the question who is a journalist and the changing practices of news audiences in the digital era this Handbook shapes the field and defines the roadmap for the research challenges that scholars will face in the coming decades

Peace

Photography Frank Möller,2018-12-17 This study thinks with photography about peace It asks how photography can represent peace and how such representation can contribute to peace The book offers an original critique of the almost exclusive focus on violence in recent work on visual culture and presents a completely new research agenda within the overall framework of visual peace research Critically engaging with both photojournalism and art photography in light of peace theories it looks for visual representations or anticipations of peace peace or peace as a potentiality in the work of selected photographers including Robert Capa and Richard Mosse thus reinterpreting photography from the Spanish Civil War to current anti migration politics in Europe The book argues that peace photography is episodic culturally specific process oriented and considerate of both the past and the future

Speaking about Torture Julie A. Carlson,Elisabeth

Weber,2012-09-12 This collection of essays is the first book to take up the urgent issue of torture from the array of approaches offered by the arts and humanities In the post 9 11 era where we are once again compelled to entertain debates about the legality of torture this volume speaks about the practice in an effort to challenge the surprisingly widespread acceptance of state sanctioned torture among Americans including academics and the media entertainment complex Speaking about Torture also claims that the concepts and techniques practiced in the humanities have a special contribution to make to this debate going beyond what is usually deemed a matter of policy for experts in government and the social sciences It contends that the way one speaks about torture including that one speaks about it is key to comprehending legislating and eradicating torture That is we cannot discuss torture without taking into account the assaults on truth memory subjectivity and language that the humanities theorize and that the experience of torture perpetuates Such accounts are crucial to framing the silencing and demonizing that accompany the practice and representation of torture Written by scholars in literary analysis philosophy history film and media studies musicology and art history working in the United States Europe and the Middle East the essays in this volume speak from a conviction that torture does not work to elicit truth secure justice or maintain security They engage in various ways with the limits that torture imposes on language on subjects and community and on governmental officials while also confronting the complicity of artists and humanists in torture through their silence forms of silencing and classic means of representation Acknowledging this history is central to the volume s advocacy of speaking about torture through the forms of witness offered and summoned by the humanities

Journalism and Eyewitness Images Mette Mortensen,2014-12-17 Building on the vast research conducted on war and media since the 1970s scholars are now studying the digital transformation of the production of news Little scholarly attention has been paid however to non professional eyewitness visuals even though this genre holds a still greater bearing on the way conflicts are fought communicated and covered by the news media This volume examines the power of new technologies for creating and disseminating images in relation to conflicts Mortensen presents a theoretical framework and uses case studies to investigate the impact of non professional images with regard to essential issues in today s media landscape including new media technologies and democratic change the political mobilization and censorship of images the ethics of spectatorship and the shifting role of the mainstream news media in the digital age Looking Beyond Borderlines Lee Rodney,2016-12-19 American territorial borders have undergone significant and unparalleled changes in the last decade They serve as a powerful and emotionally charged locus for American national identity that correlates with the historical idea of the frontier But the concept of the frontier so central to American identity throughout modern history has all but disappeared in contemporary representation while the border has served to uncomfortably fill the void left in the spatial imagination of American culture This book focuses on the shifting relationship between borders and frontiers in North America specifically the ways in which they have been imaged and imagined since their formation in the 19th century and how tropes of visibility are central to their production and meaning Rodney links ongoing discussions in political geography and visual culture in new ways to demonstrate how contemporary American borders exhibit security as a display strategy that is resisted and undermined through a variety of cultural practices Visualizing War Anders

Engberg-Pedersen, Kathrin Maurer, 2017-09-27 Wars have always been connected to images From the representation of war on maps panoramas and paintings to the modern visual media of photography film and digital screens images have played a central role in representing combat military strategy soldiers and victims Such images evoke a whole range of often unexpected emotions from ironic distance to boredom and disappointment Why is that This book examines the emotional language of war images how they entwine with various visual technologies and how they can build emotional communities The book engages in a cross disciplinary dialogue between visual studies literary studies and media studies by discussing the links between images emotions technology and community From these different perspectives the book provides a comprehensive overview of the nature and workings of war images from 1800 until today and it offers a frame for thinking about the meaning of the images in contemporary wars Islamic Liberation Theology Hamid Dabashi, 2008-05-14 This book is a radical piece of counter intuitive rethinking of the clash of civilizations theory and global politics In this richly detailed criticism of contemporary politics Hamid Dabashi argues that after 9 11 we have not seen a new phase in a long running confrontation between Islam and the West but that such categories have in fact collapsed and exhausted themselves The West is no longer a unified actor and Islam is ideologically depleted in its confrontation with colonialism Rather we are seeing the emergence of the US as a lone superpower and a confrontation between a form of imperial globalized capital and the rising need for a new Islamic theodicy The combination of political salience and theoretical force makes Islamic Liberation Theology a cornerstone of a whole new generation of thinking about political Islamism and a compelling read for anyone interested in contemporary Islam current affairs and US foreign policy Dabashi drives his well supported and thoroughly documented points steadily forward in an earnest and highly readable style Peace, Complexity, Visibility Rasmus Bellmer, Frank Möller, 2023-08-12 This book argues that we can capitalize on the tolerance of ambiguity enhancing potentialities inherent in visual images their non coherence and thus increase our capability of tolerating ambiguities Studying international relations equals studying ambiguity The international system is complex and where there is complexity there is also ambiguity Crucially in a world saturated not only with ambiguities but also with visual images it is mandatory to think ambiguity and visibility together The authors analyze the constructive and peaceful potentialities of ambiguities through an exploration of journalistic imagery in the context of post war Bosnia and post siege Sarajevo The book is a theoretically sophisticated yet accessible and politically relevant exercise in inter disciplinary thinking uniquely combining literature on complexity ambiguity and visibility thus offering important readings for international relations peace and conflict research and security studies Languages of Trauma Peter Leese, Jason Crouthamel, Julia Barbara

Köhne,2021-03-01 This volume traces the distinct cultural languages in which individual and collective forms of trauma are expressed in diverse variations including oral and written narratives literature comic strips photography theatre and cinematic images The central argument is that traumatic memories are frequently beyond the sphere of medical legal or state intervention To address these different often intertwined modes of language the contributors provide a variety of disciplinary approaches to foster innovative debates and provoke new insights Prevailing definitions of trauma can best be understood according to the cultural and historical conditions within which they exist Languages of Trauma explores what this means in practice by scrutinizing varied historical moments from the First World War onwards and particular cultural contexts from across Europe the United States Asia and Africa striving to help decolonize the traditional Western centred history of trauma dissolving it into multifaceted transnational histories of trauma cultures Media Power and The Transformation of War Chiara de Franco,2012-10-10 Do the news media have any role in the transformation of war and warfare Focusing on television this book argues that the news media alters the cognitive and strategic environment of the actors of war and politics and therefore changes the way these interact with one another Disappearing War Christina Hellmich,2017-02-03 The battles fought in the name of the war on terror have re ignited questions about the changing nature of war and the experience of war for those geographically distant from its real world consequences What is missing from our highly mediated experience of war What are the intentional and unintentional processes of erasure through which the distortion happens What are their consequences Cinema is a key site at which questions about our highly mediated experience of war can be addressed or more significantly elided Looking at a range of films that have provoked debate from award winning features like Zero Dark Thirty and American Sniper to documentaries like Kill List and Dirty Wars as well as at the work of visual artists like Harun Farocki and Omer Fast this book examines the practices of erasure in the cinematic representation of recent military interventions Drawing on representations of war related death dying and bodily damage this provocative collection addresses what s missing in existing scholarly responses to modern warfare in film studies as well as in politics and international relations
