Ahlberg, 2011-07-12 This introductory text presents basic principles of social science research through maps graphs and diagrams The authors show how concept maps and mind maps can be used in quantitative qualitative and mixed methods research using student friendly examples and classroom based activities Integrating theory and practice chapters show how to use these tools to plan research projects see analysis strategies and assist in the development and writing of research reports Completing Your Qualitative Dissertation: A Road Map From Beginning to End Linda Dale Bloomberg, Marie Volpe, 2012-04-26 Graduate students often struggle with turning qualitative research projects into a master s thesis or doctoral dissertation because the research itself is inherently messy Completing Your Qualitative Dissertation A Roadmap From Beginning to End Second Edition helps address that challenge Linda Dale Bloomberg and Marie Volpe have distilled decades of experience of dissertation advisement and successful doctoral defenses into this highly practical reference for graduate students They focus on finding and articulating a clear research problem purpose and questions laying out a research design that will lead to gathering the right kind of data and support the right kind of analysis and writing up and defending the study To help they provide working tools an integrative summary discussion at the end of each chapter comprehensive checklists and an annotated bibliography in each chapter Methods for Social Theory Jan Ch. Karlsson, Ann Bergman, 2016-12-15 This book constitutes a practical guide to the important skills of both theorizing and writing in social scientific scholarship focusing on the importance of identifying relations between concepts that are useful for explaining social entities and of producing a text that convincingly advances the theory that has been constructed Taking as its point of departure the distinction between the research process and the reporting process between clarifying one s ideas to oneself and writing to express these ideas clearly to others this volume concentrates on writing when theorizing as a way of thinking emphasizing the series of relations that exist between ontology epistemology and rhetoric upon which successful theoretical writing depends Richly illustrated with practical examples the book is divided into two parts the first of which presents techniques for theorizing based upon visualized and logical connections of ideas concepts and empirical patterns in both free and systematic ways and the second part providing techniques for structuring and presenting arguments in essays papers articles or books As such Methods for Social Theory offers a toolbox for the development and presentation of social thought which will prove essential for students and teachers across the social sciences Completing Your Qualitative Dissertation Linda Dale Bloomberg, Marie Volpe, 2015-11-05 Addressing one of the key challenges facing doctoral students Completing Your Qualitative Dissertation by Linda Dale Bloomberg and Marie Volpe fills a gap in qualitative literature by offering comprehensive guidance and practical tools for navigating each step in the qualitative dissertation journey including the planning research and writing phases Blending the conceptual theoretical and practical the book becomes a dissertation in action a logical and cohesive explanation and illustration of content and process The Third Edition maintains key features that distinguish its unique approach and has been thoroughly updated and expanded throughout to reflect and address recent developments in the field Visual Criminology Johannes Wheeldon, 2021-10-01 This edited collection captures the expertise of scholars from the US the UK Australia and Canada to catalog the rise in visual approaches in criminology It presents examples of visual methods uses and approaches in criminology assesses the potential for new graphic approaches to collect analyze and present data and provides some analysis of the use of images in teaching to spur social critique and guide policy translation The collection visually connects theory and practice by highlighting the work of criminologists who have embraced the visual turn Contributors explore the use of cognitive maps concept and mind maps life history calendars CCTV life plots GIS and hot spot research policy graphs visual abstracts and research summaries and other visual tools in the context of criminology Approaches building on visual sociology are also featured including a discussion of developments in documentary photography and film visual ethnography and sensory phenomenology The book is organized thematically with each chapter following logically upon the last introducing readers to a variety of visual approaches and their application in criminology The goals of this collected volume are three fold The first is to highlight how the visual has been used in criminology historically to present data contest meaning and complicate social control and make more transparent the research process The second is to work toward some sort of definitional consistency While a worthy endeavor this remains elusive given the assortment of uses and varying traditions from which visual criminology has emerged The third is to try to think clearly about the role of humility This means a willingness to acknowledge an epistemological framework and note the variety of limitations associated with trying to understand in deep and meaningful ways For visual criminology specifically it involves the recognition that part of the power of images whatever their construction comes from whether we think they are beautiful or whether and or to what extent they disrupt our understanding in one way or another This interdisciplinary book will be of interest to criminologists sociologists visual ethnographers historians and those engaged with media studies It is a valuable supplementary text for courses in introductory criminology and criminal justice criminological theory research methods and other upper level and senior capstone courses Visualizing Science Wendy Lee Winn, 2006 ICSSR Journal
