What Bereaved Parents Want You to Know (But May Not Say) Kathleen B. Duncan, 2015-10-29 When a parent loses a child friends and family want to help Rarely however do we know what to do In this short book Kathleen Duncan shares some of what she learned after the death of her twenty year old son in a car wreck Kathleen writes about her own grief journey and about healing with the help of a living loving God on her blog www.kathleenbduncan.com With honesty and transparency Kathleen shares her journey through grief into grace She also shares what she has learned as she walks alongside friends and family who have lost children of all ages some to miscarriage or stillbirth others to accidents illness suicide and even murder This informative book is designed to help grieving parents It will also be of value to those of us who wish to help those who grieve Helping Bereaved Parents Richard G. Tedeschi, Lawrence G. Calhoun, 2004-03-01 This book provides a concise yet comprehensive guide to effective work with bereaved parents combining a broad overview of current research theory and practice with the authors own extensive clinical experience Transcripts of individual couple and group meetings illustrate the delicate subtleties of this work giving the reader helpful insights into more effective clinical practice The authors emphasize the importance of approaching each parent as a unique person while also considering the socio cultural context of the bereaved This book helps clinicians approach work with bereaved parents with a less scripted format suggesting an alternative role as expert companion to the bereaved allowing for a more uplifting experience for both parties

The Textbook of Children's Nursing Tina Moules, Joan Ramsay, 1998 Divided into three sections this book provides coverage of the Branch Programme in Children's Nursing It includes user friendly content based on lecture plans and activities It is a useful reading for those students embarking on a course of study in children's nursing Naming the Child Jenny, 2009-03-01 Hope and healing for those who suddenly find themselves in the most terrible sort of grief For those who have experienced miscarriage stillbirth or the loss of a baby within the first year this gentle resource offers stories of hope and wisdom practical advice and guidance based on the experience of many comfort and ways to honor and remember Naming the Child creates a community of love and support for bereaving parents and siblings after the loss of a baby written with a light touch and sensitive spirit When I was nineteen weeks pregnant with my second child Emma I had a miscarriage Its impossible to know ahead of time how such an experience will impact you or your marriage I recognized many of the challenges I faced in Naming the Child I can say with confidence that this is an amazing resource Amy Wilson lawyer and mother of three What Was Lost Elise Erikson Barrett, 2010-01-01 United Methodist pastor Elise Erikson Barrett draws on her own painful experiences as well as on interviews with others who have gone through the devastation of miscarriage in an effort to help women grieve and in time to think theologically about pregnancy loss Barrett also offers some much needed practical advice about breaking the news to others coping with insensitive comments and grieving what is often a private loss unmarked by the world Journeys Through Grief Tammie Thomson, 1998-01-07 As a bereaved parent you re often alone

it's to make people understand just what you're going through and what you need from them And as a support person it's hard to know what to say what to do what to expect and how to help our bereaved friends With stories from over 60 parents grandparents and siblings who have been through the death of a child and honest comments on the support they received and needed this book is just what bereaved families and caring professionals need Bound by Love Laura Mattoon D'Amore, 2011-05-25 What does it mean to be bound by love Sometimes the bonds of love supply bliss and sometimes they demand sacrifice Sometimes experiencing love saves people and sometimes it kills them Being bound by love often engenders moral responsibility in other cases it enslaves and imprisons the soul American mythologies especially those presented in film and television perpetuate love as the central narrative of one's life the search for a connection forged by love permeates every facet of human existence from our desire to be accepted or our longing to be needed to our fury at being rejected Sometimes love is the stuff of happiness fulfilling in every regard But there are also times when love makes us do things we should not do sometimes it turns us into people we do not want to become The commonality between love that satisfies and love that destroys is the bond between people who open themselves to the vulnerability of love Examination of the theme of familial bonds in film and television explores how the process of forming and maintaining those bonds complicates revises and reproduces ideas about love The chapters in this book explore how the nature of bonds and familial responsibility inform a popular cultural dialogue about the changing nature of the American family over the past sixty years with the death of someone they love Most earlier books on bereavement have fallen into two categories distillations of the clinical experience of individual therapists or collections of chapters reporting the results of empirical studies Each category is valuable but has tended to serve a narrow group of readers practitioners with particular theoretical orientations or researchers in quest of the latest findings Coauthored by a leading research psychologist and an experienced therapist who specializes in bereavement education and intervention this book is different The authors weave together the strands of theory research and clinical wisdom into a seamless and readable narrative While they discuss previous work they also present new data never before published from one of the largest studies of bereaved people ever conducted the Bereavement Coping Project Unlike most studies to date which focused on only one type of bereaved group usually widows or widowers the Bereavement Coping Project examined the experiences of several different groups during the first 18 months after the death The groups included those who had lost a spouse a parent an adult sibling or a child and those who had lost their significant other to cancer or cardiovascular disease on one hand as opposed to the stigmatized disease of AIDS on the other The book begins with a critical overview of theories of bereavement succeeding chapters explore in depth the impact of specific types of loss the impact of particular coping strategies on recovery the impact of social supports and religion and the special cases of children and of people who seem to grow and change for the better after a loss A final chapter considers implications for intervention with bereaved people Each chapter is richly illuminated with real life examples throughout and ends with a section called Voices in which bereaved people describe their various attempts to cope in their own words Insightful and informative
