

Elements of Visual Literacy

Offer

When a character gazes at another person or object in a story which encourages the audience or reader to also look at what they are viewing.

Demand

When a character in the story gazes directly out of the page at the reader.

This forms a connection between the character and the reader or viewer.

Colour

Colours are used to evoke different emotions in the readers or audience. Different colours can prompt various moods.

Hot colours: excitement, happiness and anger

Cool colours: harmony, peace, sadness

Composition

The arrangement of items within an illustration that have been deliberately placed in a location.

This includes where the character is in relation to the borders of the image.

Perspective

Make the audience feel intimate with the characters or more distant.

Extreme close-up: A shot that zooms right up in a person's facial features.

Mid-shot: Shows a person's whole face and part of their clothing.

Wide shot: The subject in the image is far away and the scenery becomes the main focus.

Bird's eye view: commonly used in movies

Body Language

A form of non-verbal communication perceived by the audience or reader.

It consists of how the character displays their emotions through posture, gestures and body language.

Visual Literacy Writing About Art:

Visual Literacy: Writing about Art Amy Tucker, 2002 Publisher Description Writing Elena L. Grigorenko, 2012 This book captures the diversity and richness of writing as it relates to different forms of abilities skills competencies and expertise Psychologists educators researchers and practitioners in neighboring areas are interested in exploring how writing develops and in what manner this development can be fostered but they lack a handy unified and comprehensive source of information to satisfy their interest The goal of this book is to fill this void by reflecting on the phenomenon of writing from a developmental perspective It contains an integrated set of chapters devoted to issues of writing how writing develops how it is and should be taught and how writing paths of development differ across writing genres Specifically the book addresses typologies of writing pathways of the development of writing skills stages of the development of writing individual differences in the acquisition of writing skills writing ability and disability teaching writing and the development and demonstration of expertise in writing

Using Art to Teach Writing Traits Jennifer Klein, Elizabeth Stuart Whitehead, 2018-11-23 Our purpose for writing this book is so that children can become better communicators by expressing their thoughts feelings and ideas The ability to communicate is a universal goal in society If children can better communicate in their speaking and writing clearer more precise messages will be received and communication around the world will be strengthened The writing traits are a way for teachers and children to discuss and analyze written pieces for strengths and needs in order to communicate their thoughts and express their ideas through writing in a way that touches their audience Adding art into this established process will allow children to learn about the writing traits in a text free environment before applying the traits to their own writing Children will learn how artists communicate their thoughts feelings and ideas and how the traits that writers use are similar to the traits that artists use in order to better communicate express themselves and process the world around them In addition we will discuss the revision and editing process Art is an exciting and engaging subject for students This book will allow children to transfer their knowledge of how artists use the traits to how writers use the traits and then to how they can utilize the traits in their own writing to better communicate with their audience and process the world around them

Visual Literacy Workbook David Moyer, Brian Flynn, 2019-01-30 Appropriate for both graphic designers and fine artists Visual Literacy Workbook For Graphic Design and Fine Art Students provides a detailed approach to understanding visual imagery The text presents a wide range of fine art graphic and digital examples and is divided into two major parts visual form and visual content As students cover new material in the workbook concepts are reinforced and synthesized resulting in a comprehensive understanding of form and content Upon completion of the text students are well prepared to participate in the design process and further interpret visual content

The Art is in the Details Mandy Taylor-Gratzer, 2009 Handbook of Visual Communication Kenneth L. Smith, Sandra Moriarty, Keith Kenney, Gretchen Barbatsis, 2004-12-13 This Handbook of Visual Communication explores the key theoretical areas in visual communication and presents the research methods utilized in exploring how people see and how visual communication occurs. With chapters contributed by many of the best known and respected scholars in visual communication, this volume brings together significant and influential work in the visual communication discipline. The theory chapters included here define the twelve major theories in visual communication scholarship: aesthetics, perception, representation, visual rhetoric, cognition, semiotics, reception theory, narrative, media, aesthetics, ethics, visual literacy, and cultural studies. Each of these theory chapters is followed by exemplar studies in the area demonstrating the various methods used in visual communication research, as well as the research approaches applicable for specific media types. The Handbook serves as an invaluable reference for visual communication theory, as well as a useful resource book of research methods in the discipline. It defines the current state of theory and research in visual communication and serves as a foundation for future scholarship and study. As such, it is required reading for scholars, researchers, and advanced students in visual communication, and it will be influential in other disciplines in which the visual component is key, including advertising, persuasion, and media studies. The volume will also be useful to practitioners seeking to understand the visual aspects of their media and the visual processes used by their audiences.

Writing the Visual Carol David, Anne R. Richards, 2008-02-09. WRITING THE VISUAL: A PRACTICAL GUIDE FOR TEACHERS OF COMPOSITION AND COMMUNICATION offers a variety of creative and theoretically based approaches to the development of visual literacy. The book's introduction and twelve chapters provide an array of pedagogical perspectives, exceptional field-tested assignments for students writing across the disciplines, and a strong bibliographic base from which readers might continue their exploration of visual studies. Presenting ideas both imaginative and practical for teachers and advanced students, WRITING THE VISUAL aims to expand our understanding of how visual and verbal elements contribute to a text's effectiveness. Extensively referencing key figures from ancient times to the present who have developed theories, described histories, and provided analyses of images, WRITING THE VISUAL responds to the growing desire for critical and creative engagement with visual language in composition and communication classrooms.
