Up From The Projects An Autobiography:

Up from the Projects Walter E. Williams, 2013-09-01 Nationally syndicated columnist and prolific author Walter E Williams recalls some of the highlights and turning points of his life From his lower middle class beginnings in a mixed but predominantly black neighborhood in West Philadelphia to his department chair at George Mason University Williams tells an only in America story of a life of achievement

Up from the Projects Walter Edward Williams, 2010 Nationally syndicated columnist and prolific author Walter E Williams recalls some of the highlights and turning points of his life From his lower middle class beginnings in a mixed but predominantly black neighborhood in West Philadelphia to his department chair at George Mason University Williams tells an only in America story of a life of achievement

Autobiographics Leigh Gilmore, 1994 In the first comprehensive feminist critique of autobiography as a genre Leigh Gilmore incorporates writings that have not up to now been considered part of the autobiographical tradition Offering subtle and perceptive readings of a wide variety of texts from the confessions of medieval mystics to contemporary works by Chicana and lesbian writers she identifies an innovative practice of autobiographics which covers the entire spectrum of women s self representation

Benjamin Franklin Walter Isaacson, 2004-05-04 During his 84 year life Benjamin Franklin was America s best scientist inventor publisher business strategist diplomat and writer He was also one of its most practical political thinkers America s first great publicist he carefully crafted his own persona portrayed it in public and polished it for posterity In this riveting new biography Walter Isaacson provides readers with a full portrait of Franklin s public and private life his loyal but neglected wife his bastard son with whom he broke over going to war with England his endless replacement families and his many amorous but probably unconsummated liaisons But this is not just a biography of Benjamin Franklin but rather a fascinating look at American and European political history at that time Isaacson examines the run up to the Revolutionary War the intimate relations between Britain France and the colonies and the decisive events that led to America s independence Just as David McCullough brought life to the historic figure of John Adams Isaacson portrays Franklin in the flesh showing readers how this radical man helped define America s national character and personality

Freud, Lacan, Zizek and Education Claudia Lapping, 2020-04-28 All areas of education policy and practice are driven by unconscious investments in ignorance or idealised images of transformation of the individual society and economy The promise of fulfilment and associated threats of disappointment or destruction tend to dominate conscious accounts of education Other more vulnerable or unspeakable aspects of our engagements with education are covered over when we account for learning and justify teaching as professionals policy makers and researchers but they leak out in slips lapses emphasis paradox and contradiction Freud s account of resistance and repetition Lacan s theorisation of the role of language and desire and Zizek s elaboration of these ideas in a theory of ideology and enjoyment all provide tools for exploring the vulnerable uncomfortable and often surprising other side of education the hidden unconscious and unspoken desires that we invest in educational institutions and practices This collection offers glimpses of this other side of education produced in empirical studies using a variety of methodological approaches practice based theoretical speculation policy analysis ethnography interviews and free associative methods as well as ideological critique of the field of critical educational practice and research The book foregrounds political and unconscious aspects of investments in the fields of education and educational research The chapters in this book were originally published as articles in Taylor and Francis journals

Growing Up Transnational May Friedman, Silvia

Schultermandl,2011-02-19 Stereotypes and cultural imperialism often provide a framework of fixed characteristics for postmodern life yet fail to address the implications of questions such as Where are you from Growing Up Transnational challenges the assumptions behind this fixed framework to look at the interconnectivity conflict and contradictions within current discussions of identity and kinship This collection offers a fresh feminist perspective on family relations identity politics and cultural locations in a global era Using an interdisciplinary approach from fields including gender studies postcolonial theory and literary theory this volume questions the concept of hybridity and the tangible implications of assumed identities The rich personal narratives of the authors explore hyphenated identities hybridized families and the challenges and rewards of lives on and beyond borders The result is a new transnational sensibility that explores the redefinition of the self the family and the nation

Rediscovering Muhammad Yunus Mohammad Jabbar,2024-01-30 In 2006 Bangladeshi economist Muhammad Yunus made history by bringing the Nobel Peace Prize home to the micro finance institution he had pioneered the Grameen Bank based on the idea that micro credit model was such a meaningful tool for poverty alleviation that it could contribute to true and lasting peace This win would swiftly become mired in controversy Yunus would go on to try and fail to enter electoral politics He resigned from the position of the managing director of the bank amid controversy about the legality of holding that position for a decade beyond official retirement age and about the mode of creation and management of dozens of grameen affiliated enterprises In a tight thorough investigation Rediscovering Muhammad Yunus takes a look at its eponymous figure and institution detailing how Yunus came to found the Grameen Bank win the Nobel Prize and eventually find himself plagued by controversy Author Mohammad Jabbar details the contending version of events thoughtfully drawing out the fallacies of Yunus s positions to reveal a much more complex opaque story of what led to his departure from the bank and the questions that have dogged him and his brainchild since Whether or not they are familiar with Yunus s story this book is sure to interest those looking to enrich their understanding of development and economics particularly as they relate to micro finance and Bangladesh It will make an excellent addition to the bookshelves of anyone interested in the shady underside of philanthropy capitalist solutions to poverty and the development of the so called developing world The Routledge Companion to Experimental Literature Joe Bray, Alison Gibbons, Brian McHale, 2012 The Routledge Companion to Experimental Literature maps this expansive and multifaceted field with essays on the history of literary experiment from the beginning of the twentieth century to the present the impact of new media on literature including multimodal literature digital fiction and code poetry the development of experimental genres from graphic narratives and found poetry through to gaming and interactive fiction experimental movements from Futurism and Surrealism to Postmodernism Avant Pop and Flarf Shedding new light on often critically neglected terrain the contributors introduce this vibrant area define its current state and offer exciting new perspectives on its future Growing Up Global Cindi Katz, 2004 Printbegr nsninger Der kan printes 10 sider ad gangen og max 40 sider pr session Serial Memoir N. Stamant, 2014-06-23 Serial Memoir chronicles the phenomenon of seriality in memoir a transition in life writing toward repeated acts of self representation in the later twentieth century Such a shift demonstrates a new way to understand and represent constantly shifting subjectivities and their ambivalent relationship to the concept and structure of the archive Consuming Autobiographies Claire Boyle, 2007 Since 1975 French literary writing has been marked by an autobiographical turn which has seen authors increasingly often tap into the vein of what the French term critique de soi This coincides paradoxically with the death of autobiography as these authors self consciously distance themselves and their writings from conventional autobiography founding a nouvelle autobiographie where the very possibility of autobiographical expression is questioned In the first book length study in English to address this phenomenon Claire Boyle sheds a new light on this hostility toward autobiography through a series of ground breaking studies of estrangement in autobiographical works by major post war authors Nathalie Sarraute Georges Perec Jean Genet and Hlne Cixous She identifies autobiography as a site of conflict between writer and reader as authors struggle to assert the unknowableness of their identity in the face of a readership resolutely desiring privileged knowledge Autobiography emerges as a deeply troubling genre for authors with the reader as an antagonistic consumer of the autobiographical self Teaching Multicultural Students Alex Moore, 2003-10-04 Offers suggestions for making classroom and teaching practice more effective for bilingual and bidialectal pupils Case studies are used which give voice to student and practising teacher perspectives which are often unheard This book will help teachers develop practice that combats actual exclusion and the symbolic exclusion that some multicultural students experience

The Black Women Oral History Project. Cpl. Ruth Edmonds Hill, 2013-06-21 No detailed description available for BLACK WOMEN ORAL HISTORY PROJECT CPLT E BOOK Stories of the Self Anna Poletti, 2020-08-25 The importance of personal storytelling in contemporary culture and politics In an age where our experiences are processed and filtered through a wide variety of mediums both digital and physical how do we tell our own story How do we get a life make sense of who we are and the way we live and communicate that to others Stories of the Self takes the literary study of autobiography and opens it up to a broad and fascinating range of material practices beyond the book investigating the manifold ways people are documenting themselves in contemporary culture Anna Poletti explores Andy Warhol's Time Capsules a collection of six hundred cardboard boxes filled with text objects from the artist's everyday life the mid aughts crowdsourced digital archive PostSecret queer zine culture and its practices of remixing and collaging and the bureaucratic processes surrounding surveillance dossiers Stories of the Self argues that while there is a strong emphasis on the importance of personal storytelling in contemporary culture and politics mediation is just as important in establishing the credibility and legibility of life writing Poletti argues that the very media used for writing our lives intrinsically shapes how we are seen to matter

Postcolonial Francophone Autobiographies Edgard Sankara, 2011-08-03 Bringing a comparative perspective to the study of autobiography Edgard Sankara considers a cross section of postcolonial francophone writing from Africa and the Caribbean in order to examine and compare for the first time their transnational reception Sankara not only compares the ways in which a wide selection of autobiographies were received locally as well as in France but also juxtaposes reception by the colonized and the colonizer to show how different meanings were assigned to the works after publication Sankara's geographical and cultural coverage of Africa and its diaspora is rich with separate chapters devoted to the autobiographies of Hamp t B Valentin Mudimb Kesso Barry Patrick Chamoiseau Rapha l Confiant and Maryse Cond The author combines close reading reception study and postcolonial theory to present an insightful survey of the literary connections among these autobiographers as well as a useful point of departure for further exploration of the genre itself of the role of reception studies in postcolonial criticism and of the stance that postcolonial francophone writers choose to take regarding their communities of origin Modern Language Initiative
