Urban Transport In The Developing World A Handbook Of Policy And Practice:

Urban Transport in the Developing World Harry T. Dimitriou, Ralph Gakenheimer, 2011-01-01 Policy making for urban transport and planning of economies in the developing world present major challenges for countries facing rapid urbanisation and rampant motorisation alongside growing commitments to sustainability These challenges include coping with financial deficits providing for the poor dealing meaningfully with global warming and energy shortages addressing traffic congestion and related land use issues adopting green technologies and adjusting equitably to the impacts of globalisation This book presents a contemporary analysis of these challenges and new workable responses to the urban transport problems they spawn Urban Transport in the Developing World, 2011 Routledge Handbook of Urban Indonesia Sonia Roitman, Deden Rukmana, 2022-10-18 This handbook focuses on the practices initiatives and innovations of urban planning in response to the rapid urbanisation in Indonesian cities The book provides rigorous evidence of planning Indonesian cities of different sizes Indonesia the world's fourth most populous country is increasingly urbanising Through the lens of the Sustainable Development Goals chapters examine specific policies and projects and analyse 19 cities ranging from a megacity of over ten million residents to metropolitan cities large cities medium cities and small cities in Indonesia The handbook provides a diverse view of urban conditions in the country Discussing current trends and challenges in urban planning and development in Indonesia it covers a wide range of topics organised into five main themes Indonesian planning context informality insurgency and social inclusion design spatial and economic practices creative and innovative practices and urban sustainability and resilience Written by 64 established and emerging scholars from Indonesia and overseas this handbook is an invaluable resource to academics working on Urban Studies Development Studies Asian and Southeast Studies as well as to policy makers in Indonesia and in other cities of the Global South The Routledge Handbook on Cities of the Global South Susan Parnell, Sophie Oldfield, 2014-03-26 The renaissance in urban theory draws directly from a fresh focus on the neglected realities of cities beyond the west and embraces the global south as the epicentre of urbanism This Handbook engages the complex ways in which cities of the global south and the global north are rapidly shifting the imperative for multiple genealogies of knowledge production as well as a diversity of empirical entry points to understand contemporary urban dynamics The Handbook works towards a geographical realignment in urban studies bringing into conversation a wide array of cities across the global south the ordinary mega global and peripheral With interdisciplinary contributions from a range of leading international experts it profiles an emergent and geographically diverse body of work The contributions draw on conflicting and divergent debates to open up discussion on the meaning of the city in or of the global south arguments that are fluid and increasingly contested geographically and conceptually It reflects on critical urbanism the macro and micro scale forces that shape cities including ideological demographic and technological shifts and constantly changing global and regional economic dynamics Working with southern reference points the chapters present themes in urban politics identity and environment in ways that re frame our thinking about cities The Handbook engages the twenty first century city through a southern urban lens to stimulate scholarly professional and activist engagements with the city Urban Mobility and Social Equity in Latin America Daniel Oviedo,Natalia Villamizar Duarte,Ana Marcela Ardila Pinto,2020-11-16 This volume of Transport and Sustainability focuses on how spatial and social mobilities are intertwined in the reproduction of spatial and social inequities in Latin American cities Global Im-Possibilities Phoebe Godfrey,Mary Buchanan,2021-07-01 At a time when environmental and social stakes are at their highest with rising crises and contradictions at the nexus of a building sense of environmental and social collapse there are no easy solutions Global Im Possibilities explores just what can be done around the world to ameliorate this dynamic Using a range of essays and a multitude of case studies this book explores what new lessons can be learned from examining the challenges and impediments to achieving just sustainabilities on the levels of policy planning and practice and considers how these challenges and impediments can be addressed by individuals and or governments Taking a nuanced approach to provide an intersectional analysis of a particular issue relating to the ideals for achieving sustainability this book asserts that that it is only in recognizing such complexity that we can hope to achieve just sustainabilities Planning and Design for Sustainable Urban Mobility Un-Habitat,2013-10-30 Urban transport systems worldwide are faced by a multitude of challenges Among the most visible of these are the traffic gridlocks experienced on city roads and highways all over the world The prescribed solution to transport problems in most cities has thus been to build more infrastructures for cars with a limited number of cities improving public transport systems in a sustainable manner However a number of challenges faced by urban transport systems such as greenhouse gas emissions noise and air pollution and road traffic accidents do not necessarily get solved by the construction of new infrastructure Planning and Design for Sustainable Urban Mobility argues that the development of sustainable urban transport systems requires a conceptual leap The purpose of transportation and mobility is to gain access to destinations activities services and goods Thus access is the ultimate objective of transportation As a result urban planning and design should focus on how to bring people and places together by creating cities that focus on accessibility rather than simply increasing the length of urban transport infrastructure or increasing the movement of people or goods Urban form and the functionality of the city are therefore a major focus of this report which highlights the importance of integrated land use and transport planning This new report of the United Nations Human Settlements Programme UN Habitat the world s leading authority on urban issues provides some thought provoking insights and policy recommendations on how to plan and design sustainable urban mobility systems The Global Report on Human Settlements is the most authoritative and up to date global assessment of human settlements conditions and trends Preceding issues of the report have addressed such topics as Cities in a Globalizing World The Challenge of Slums Financing Urban Shelter Enhancing Urban Safety and Security Planning Sustainable Cities and Cities and Climate Change Urban Mobilities in the Global South Tanu Priya Uteng,Karen

Lucas,2017-11-27 The book considers urban mobilities and immobilities in the Global South through an exploration of the theoretical and methodological entry points that can be used to further the agenda of transport planning Transport system improvements can and do have complex and unequal impacts on different sectors of society Conventional approaches to analysing travel demand and transport system performance developed in the Global North are typically ill equipped to identify and understand the complexities and inequities in urban areas of the Global South Using case studies from urban Africa and Asia the book addresses the need to understand the lived world of mobilities and use this knowledge to address issues that are central to our urban existence in the 21st century Motor Vehicles, the Environment, and the Human Condition

Hans A. Baer,2019-10-09 The world now has more than a billion motor vehicles and this number continues to increase as developing countries imitate developed societies in their adoption of the culture of automobility This book explores the political ecology of motor vehicles in an era of growing social disparities and environmental crises the latter of which are most manifest in anthropogenic climate change to which motor vehicles constitute a major contributor A political ecological perspective recognizes that motor vehicles perhaps more than any other machine embody the social structural cultural and environmental contradictions of the capitalist world system In addition to highlighting many of the environmental social and health environmental consequences of humanity s increasing reliance on motor vehicles particularly private automobiles this book argues that ultimately we need as a species to move beyond motor vehicles as much as possible but that such an effort will have be part and parcel of creating an alternative world system based on social justice democratic processes environmental sustainability and a safe climate one termed democratic eco socialism

Connecting Places, Connecting People Reena Tiwari,2017-09-07 What is a better community How can we reconfigure places and transport networks to create environmentally friendly economically sound and socially just communities How can we meet the challenges of growing pollution depleting fossil fuels rising gasoline prices traffic congestion traffic fatalities increased prevalence of obesity and lack of social inclusion The era of car based planning has led to the disconnection of people and place in developed countries and is rapidly doing so in the developing countries of the Global South The unfolding mega trend in technological innovation while adding new patterns of future living and mobility in the cities will question the relevance of face to face connections What will be the glue that holds communities together in the future To build better communities and to build better cities we need to reconnect people and places Connecting Places Connecting People offers a new paradigm for place making by reordering urban planning principles from prioritizing movement of vehicles to focusing on places and the people who live in them Numerous case studies including many from developing countries in the Global South illustrate how this can be realized or fallen short of in practical terms Importantly citizens need to be engaged in policy development to connect with each other and with government agencies To measure the connectivity attributes of places and the success of strategies to meet the needs an Audit Tool is offered for a continual quantitative and qualitative evaluation

Urban Form and Accessibility Corinne Mulley, John D. Nelson, 2020-12-02 The growth of global urbanization places great strains on energy transportation housing and public spaces needs As such transport and land use are inextricably linked Urban Form and Accessibility Social Economic and Environment Impacts consolidates key insights from multidisciplinary perspectives on the relationship between urban form and transportation planning Synthesizing the latest cutting edge research the book translates academic evidence into practice Starting with an overview of the key concepts relevant to each discipline the book covers critical elements such as governance travel behavior and technological disruption showing how to move towards a more sustainable society for all city inhabitants Draws on evidence based success stories from countries around the globe Gathers global leading thinkers to provide the state of the art on the topic Examines social economic and environmental impacts within each chapter Each chapter s content will have the same structure for easier discoverability

Transport Challenges in Latin American Cities José Manuel Vassallo, Paola Carolina Bueno, 2019-02-13 Most cities of the Latin America and the Caribbean region face similar problems including low quality public transport supply lack of planning congestion and both atmospheric and noise pollution As a response to these growing concerns many governments are implementing actions aimed at encouraging the use of more sustainable transport modes and reducing transport dependence on the private car Despite the advances gained through the implementation of these and other policies in LAC there is still a long way to go especially in the promotion of seamless transport systems at the city level the achievement of financial sustainability as well as the improvement of urban air quality This study identifies a number of best practices for overcoming or working around these challenges

Moving the Masses: Bus-Rapid Transit (BRT) Policies in Low Income Asian Cities Suryani Eka Wijaya, Muhammad Imran, 2019-02-25 Public transport in low income Asian LIA cities fails to meet people s mobility needs generates high greenhouse gas GHG emissions and worsens social exclusion Following successful Bus Rapid Transit BRT projects in Bogota and Curitiba LIA countries promoted BRT in their large to medium sized cities However the political and institutional structure distinctive to LIA cities makes their implementation difficult This book investigates policy tensions by examining the planning and attempted implementation of BRT projects taking Bandung and Surabaya in Indonesia as case studies It analyses BRT to understand how power and communication gaps in institutional relationships between different actors at multiple levels of governance create conflict and concludes that top down policies and funding mechanisms cause tension in intergovernmental relationships It also found that BRT solutions generated socio political tension arising from the socio economic realities and local political dynamics that shaped city structure mobility patterns and capacity in resolving conflicts The superimposed BRT solution generated discursive tension because conflicting discourses were not aligned with local economic social and environmental issues The book highlights the need to take into consideration the vital role of local social and political actors institutions and planning processes as they respond to and shape policies that are imposed by higher levels

Community-Owned Transport Leigh Glover,2016-11-03 City and state governments around the world are struggling to achieve environmentally sustainable transport Economic technological city and transport planning and human behaviour solutions are often hampered by ineffective implementation So attention is now turning to institutional governmental and political barriers Approaches to these implementation problems assume that transport ownership can only be public owned by state entities or private corporate or personal Another option largely unexplored to date is communal ownership of transport Community Owned Transport proposes and develops the notion that communal ownership has a historical basis and provides unique opportunities for providing personal mobility It looks at the historical roots of modern urban transport s failings as those of technological change and the associated governing of transport systems particularly the role of public sector institutions Community ownership is explored through the new sharing economy developments car sharing ridesharing and bicycle share schemes and older social innovations in ecovillages and communal living Models and practices of community ownership of transport are provided and this study also discusses how community ownership might contribute to sustainable transport Drawing widely on different disciplines and fields of scholarship this book explores the conceptual and practical aspects of communal ownership of transport It will be a valuable resource for those seeking innovative approaches to addressing the pressing problems of transport including graduate and postgraduate students as well as policymakers practitioners and community groups

Governing Compact Cities Philipp Rode,2018-01-26 Governing Compact Cities investigates how governments and other critical actors organise to enable compact urban growth combining higher urban densities mixed use and urban design quality with more walkable and public transport oriented urban development Philipp Rode draws on empirical evidence from London and Berlin to examine how urban policymakers professionals and stakeholders have worked across disciplinary silos geographic scales and different time horizons since the early 1990s

Smart Urban Mobility Michèle Finck,Matthias Lamping,Valentina Moscon,Heiko Richter,2020-09-28 This book adds a critical perspective to the legal dialogue on the regulation of smart urban mobility Mobility is one of the most visible sub domains of the smart city which has become shorthand for technological advances that influence how cities are structured public services are fashioned and citizens coexist In the urban context mobility has come under pressure due to a variety of different forces such as the implementation of new business models e g car and bicycle sharing the proliferation of alternative methods of transportation e.g. electric scooters the emergence of new market players and stakeholders e.g. internet and information technology companies and advancements in computer science in particular due to artificial intelligence At the same time demographic changes and the climate crisis increase innovation pressure In this context law is a seminal factor that both shapes and is shaped by socio-economic and technological change This book puts a spotlight on recent developments in smart urban mobility from a legal regulatory and policy perspective It considers the implications for the public sector businesses and citizens in relation to various areas of public and private law in the European Union including competition law intellectual property law contract law data protection law environmental law public procurement law and legal philosophy Chapter Location Data as Contractual Counter Performance A Consumer Perspective on Recent EU Legislation of this book is available open access under a CC BY 4.0 license at link.springer.com Paratransit in African Cities Roger

Behrens, Dorothy McCormick, David Mfinanga, 2015-09-07 Public transport systems in contemporary Sub-Saharan African cities are heavily reliant upon paratransit services These services are defined as informal transportation which operates between the public and individual private spheres In Africa paratransit is characterized by low quality of vehicles and chaotic management but it also provides cheap accessible and flexible transport solutions for the urban poor It is typically poorly regulated and operates as a set of informal businesses A common result of weak public sector regulation and a fare strategy in which owners claim a fixed daily revenue target and drivers who keep the variable balance as income is destructive competition and poor quality of service There is an incontrovertible case for improving the quality reliability and coverage of public transport systems and some city governments have attempted to do so by initiating reform projects that envisage the phased replacement of paratransit operations with formalised bus rapid transit systems In this book the authors argue that there are however path dependencies and constraints that limit the possible extent of public transport system reform Paratransit operations also have some inherent advantages with respect to demand responsiveness and service innovation Attempts to eradicate paratransit may be neither pragmatic nor strategic Two future scenarios are likely hybrid systems comprised of both paratransit and formally planned modes and systems improved by upgrades and strengthened regulation of existing paratransit services The business strategies and aspirations of incumbent paratransit operators in three case cities Cape Town Dar es Salaam and Nairobi are discussed as well as their attitudes towards emerging public transport reform projects International experiences of hybrid system regulation and paratransit business development are reviewed in order to explore policy options The authors contend that policies recognising paratransit operators and seeking contextually appropriate complementarity with formalised planned services will produce greater benefits than policies ignoring their continued existence Study on Architecture and Urban Spatial Structure in China's Mega-Cities Suburbs Tiziano

The Top Books of the Year Urban Transport In The Developing World A Handbook Of Policy And Practice The year 2023 has witnessed a noteworthy surge in literary brilliance, with numerous compelling novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of bestselling books, exploring the fascinating narratives that have captivated audiences this year. The Must-Read : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover skillfully weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can prevail. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reid's "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This intriguing historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reid's absorbing storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Discover the Magic : Delia Owens' "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, entrancing readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of engaging stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and thrilling novel that will keep you speculating until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
