The View Over Atlantis:

The New View Over Atlantis John Michell, 2013-11-01 John Michell's highly controversial The View Over Atlantis was first published in 1969. This unrivaled introduction to megalithic science, earth mysteries, and sacred geometry was expanded and updated in The New View Over Atlantis in 1983. Now available in a fresh new package, this classic seminal work offers an impressive body of evidence and arguments to support the theory that at one time many thousands of years ago there was a worldwide highly sophisticated civilization that Plato referred to as Atlantis. Michell, one of the premier esoteric writers of the 20th century, reveals that ancient stone monuments and earthworks found around the globe are not randomly strewn but are a well-executed system of psychic centers connected worldwide and used by the people of Atlantis. Michell also demonstrates the significant modern discovery of leys, a mysterious network of straight lines that link the ancient places around the world. He carefully and thoroughly documents the research that points to these ancient sites as places of high magic. The New View Over Atlantis John Michell, 2001. An introduction to megalithic science, earth mysteries, and the inner meaning of number and measure. It supports the theory that at one time many thousands of years ago there was a world-wide sophisticated civilization which Plato referred to as Atlantis. The View Over Atlantis John Michell, 1975. The View Over Atlantis John F. Holy Grail and Holy Thorn Richard Hayman,2017-05-17 Holy Grail and Holy Thorn Glastonbury in the English Imagination explores the legends of King Arthur and Joseph of Arimathea at Glastonbury and how their influence has been felt from medieval to modern times Joseph was said to have built at Glastonbury the first church in Christendom which made it a centre of medieval pilgrimage and gave Glastonbury an international profile in the fifteenth century Through the winter flowering holy thorn said to have grown from Joseph s staff and later the Chalice Well Glastonbury remained a focus of superstition in the Protestant centuries In medieval romance Joseph of Arimathea had been the first keeper of the Holy Grail a mystical past that was revived by Romantic writers and artists and ensured that Glastonbury retained a place in our national culture In the twentieth century Glastonbury s reputation was further elaborated by the belief that Joseph was the great uncle of Jesus Christ and that when he first came to Britain he brought the young Jesus with him an idea suggested by William Blake s Jerusalem In the same mystical tradition in the 1960s John Michell saw in Glastonbury the dimensions of New Jerusalem which proved crucial in making Glastonbury the capital of New Age culture Dream Catchers Philip

Jenkins,2004-09-21 In books such as Mystics and Messiahs Hidden Gospels and The Next Christendom Philip Jenkins has established himself as a leading commentator on religion and society Now in Dream Catchers Jenkins offers a brilliant account of the changing mainstream attitudes towards Native American spirituality once seen as degraded spectacle now hailed as New Age salvation Jenkins charts this remarkable change by highlighting the complex history of white American attitudes towards Native religions considering everything from the 19th century American obsession with Hebrew Indians and Lost Tribes to the early 20th century cult of the Maya as bearers of the wisdom of ancient Atlantis He looks at the popularity of the Carlos Castaneda books the writings of Lynn Andrews and Frank Waters and explores New Age paraphernalia including dream catchers crystals medicine bags and Native themed Tarot cards He also examines the controversial New Age appropriation of Native sacred places and notes that many white indians see mainstream society as religiously empty An engrossing account of our changing attitudes towards Native spirituality Dream Catchers offers a fascinating introduction to one of the more interesting aspects of contemporary American religion Claiming Sacred
