life Incidents from an Elephant Hunter's Diary W. D.M. Bell, 2016-12-01 Once again the legendary Karamoja Bell marches through the wilds of Africa traversing a land virtually untouched by modern civilization in search of adventure and ivory The Africa Bell knew is now long gone and seemingly very far away but in reality his travels took place only about a century ago Join us as Bell takes us to a land with vast herds of wildlife living in rough equilibrium with the native human populations Through his earlier books Bell gained the reputation for being an excellent marksman who shot small caliber guns at giant elephants with deadly precision Bell was best known for his exploits in Karamoja in what is now largely Uganda and in these newly unearthed short stories we again find him in familiar terrain and with his faithful retinue of trackers and camp followers We also find Bell in unfamiliar terrain Travel with Bell to the French Congo where he encounters a man eating leopard and go along with him to West Africa when he ventures into the rain forest with the Pygmies to test his luck against elephants in dense vegetation Then there are some wonderfully descriptive stories of an elephant camp and its social life crocodiles that menace a village several hunts for elephants on islands in the Ubangi River not for the faint of heart and a trip from Kano to Khartoum via motor car Death and Compassion Dan Wylie, 2018-10-01 Traces the literary history of the elephant and its role in South Africa's cultural imaginary Elephants are in dire straits again They were virtually extirpated from much of Africa by European hunters in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries but their numbers resurged for a while in the heyday of late colonial conservation efforts in the twentieth Now according to one estimate an elephant is being killed every 15 minutes This is at the same time that the reasons for being especially compassionate and protective towards elephants are now so well known that they have become almost a cliché their high intelligence rich emotional lives including a capacity for mourning caring matriarchal societal structures that strangely charismatic grace Saving elephants is one of the iconic conservation struggles of our time As a society we must aspire to understand how and why people develop compassion or fail to do so and what stories we tell ourselves about animals that reveal the relationship between ourselves and animals This book is the first study to probe the primary features and possible effects of some major literary genres as they pertain to elephants south of the Zambezi over three centuries indigenous forms early European travelogues hunting accounts novels game ranger memoirs scientists accounts and poems It examines what these literatures imply about the various and diverse attitudes towards elephants about who shows compassion towards them in what ways and why It is the story of a developing contestation between death and compassion between those who kill and those who love and protect The African Elephant and Its Hunters Denis D.
