The Wilkomirski Affair A Study In Biographical Truth:

The Wilkomirski Affair Stefan Maechler, 2009-07-29 This is the definitive report on Fragments Benjamin Wilkomirski's invented memoir of a childhood spent in concentration camps which created international turmoil In 1995 Fragments a memoir by a Swiss musician named Benjamin Wilkomirski was published in Germany Hailed by critics who compared it with the masterpieces of Primo Levi and Anne Frank the book received major prizes and was translated into nine languages The English language edition was published by Schocken in 1996 In Fragments Wilkomirski described in heart wrenching detail how as a small child he survived internment in Majdanek and Birkenau and was eventually smuggled into Switzerland at the war's end But three years after the book was first published articles began to appear that questioned its authenticity and the author's claim that he was a Holocaust survivor Stefan Maechler a Swiss historian and expert on anti-Semitism and Switzerland's treatment of refugees during and after World War II was commissioned on behalf of the publishers of Fragments to conduct a full investigation into Wilkomirski's life Maechler was given unrestricted access to hundreds of government and personal documents interviewed eyewitnesses and family members in seven countries and discovered facts that completely refute Wilkomirski's book The Maechler report has implications far beyond the tragic story of one individual's deluded life It explores our feelings about survivor literature and the impact these works can have on our remembrance of the Holocaust

The Wilkomirski Affair Stephan Maechler, 2001 Translated Memories Bettina Hofmann, Ursula Reuter, 2020-02-26 This volume engages with memory of the Holocaust as expressed in literature film and other media It focuses on the cultural memory of the second and third generations of Holocaust survivors while also taking into view those who were children during the Nazi period Language loss language acquisition and the multiple needs of translation are recurrent themes for all of the authors discussed By bringing together authors and scholars often both from different generations countries and languages and focusing on transgenerational and translational issues this book presents multiple perspectives on the subject of Holocaust memory its impact and its ongoing worldwide communication

Biography
Between Structure and Agency Volker Berghahn, Simone Lässig, 2008-09-01 While bookstore shelves around the world have never ceased to display best selling life and letters biographies in prominent positions the genre became less popular among academic historians during the Cold War decades Their main concern then was with political and socioeconomic structures institutions and organizations or more recently with the daily lives of ordinary people and small communities The contributors to this volume all well known senior historians offer self critical reflections on problems they encountered when writing biographies themselves Some of them also deal with topics specific to Central Europe such as the challenges of writing about the lives of both victims and perpetrators Although the volume concentrates on European historiography its strong methodological and conceptual focus will be of great interest to non European historians wrestling with the old structure versus agency question in their own work Contributors Volker R Berghahn Hartmut Berghoff Hilary Earl Jan Eckel

Willem Frijhoff Ian Kershaw Simone L. Ssig Karl Heinrich Pohl John C. G. Rühl Angelika Schaser Joachim Radkau Cornelia Rauh Kühne Mark Roseman Christoph Strupp and Michael Wildt Catastrophe and Meaning Moishe Postone, Eric L.

Santner, 2003-11-15 This collection features essays that consider the role of anti-Semitism in the recounting of the Holocaust the place of the catastrophe in the narrative of twentieth century history the questions of agency and victimhood that the Holocaust inspires Discursive Framings of Human Rights Karen-Margrethe Simonsen, Jonas Ross

Kjaergard, 2016-10-14 What does it mean to be a subject of human rights The status of the subject is closely connected with the form and rhetoric of the framing discourse and this book investigates the relationship between the status of the subject and the form of human rights discourse in differing aesthetic and social contexts Historical as well as contemporary declarations of rights have stressed both the protective and political aspects of human rights But in concrete situations and conflictual moments the high moral legitimacy of human rights rhetoric has often clouded the actual character of specific interventions and so made it difficult to differentiate between the objects of humanitarian intervention and the subjects of politics Critically re-examining this opposition between victims and agents of human rights through a focus on the ways in which discourses of rights are formed and circulated within and between political societies this book elicits the fluidity of their relationship and with it the shifting relation between human rights and humanitarianism Analysing the symbolic framings of testimonies disaster stories atrocity tales political speeches and philosophical arguments it thus establishes a relationship between these different genres and the political economic and legal dimensions of human rights discourse
