

The background of the entire image is a painting of a large, gnarled tree trunk. The trunk is thick and twisted, with a rough, textured bark in shades of brown and grey. A small, dark figure is visible climbing the trunk, adding a sense of scale and human presence. The background is dark and moody, with some green foliage visible in the upper right corner.

Wisdom And Curriculum Christian Schooling After Postmodernity:

Wisdom and Curriculum Doug Blomberg, 2007 Blomberg presents an interpretation of essentially Christian schooling that challenges the conventional wisdom of both its advocates and critics In asserting that education should teach students to be discerning of the worldviews that are operative in their own education he strikes an important blow for the kind of Christian schooling he advocates as well as puncturing the oft held position that secular education is in and of itself values neutral He proffers the view that schools bringing their own values and beliefs forward in an explicit manner is the only authentic and honest way of proceeding At the heart of this position is his final dismantling of the validity of disjoining theory and practice

Wisdom and Curriculum Douglas G. Blomberg, 2003 The Praeger Handbook of Faith-Based Schools in the United States, K-12 Thomas C. Hunt, James C. Carper, 2012-08-06 Exploring a subject that is as important as it is divisive this two volume work offers the first current definitive work on the intricacies and issues relative to America's faith based schools The Praeger Handbook of Faith Based Schools in the United States K 12 is an indispensable study at a time when American education is increasingly considered through the lenses of race ethnicity gender and social class With contributions from an impressive array of experts the two volume work provides a historical overview of faith based schooling in the United States as well as a comprehensive treatment of each current faith based school tradition in the nation The first volume examines three types of faith based schools Protestant schools Jewish schools and Evangelical Protestant homeschooling The second volume focuses on Catholic Muslim and Orthodox schools and addresses critical issues common to faith based schools among them state and federal regulation and school choice as well as ethnic cultural confessional and practical factors Perhaps most importantly for those concerned with the questions and controversies that abound in U S education the handbook grapples with outcomes of faith based schooling and with the choices parents face as they consider educational options for their children

Education for Hope John E Hull, 2023-01-28 This book traces the little known history of an alternative school system erected in Canada by post WWII Dutch Neo Calvinist immigrants In less than four decades this community established a kindergarten to university education system that extended from Ottawa Ontario to Victoria BC This remarkable tradition of education imagines the school as a dissident and transformational social institution While this book offers the narrative of faith based tradition of education the author makes a strong case that educators from diverse ideological backgrounds can learn important lessons from it about the implementation of an alternative educational vision teacher led curriculum reform and a self formative pedagogy To supplement this narrative the author also provides a separate set of theoretical discussions on key issues in school reform as well as his memoir as an educator and curriculum designer within this tradition

Encyclopedia of Christian Education George Thomas Kurian, Mark A. Lamport, 2015-05-07 Christianity regards teaching as one of the most foundational and critically sustaining ministries of the Church As a result Christian education remains one of the largest and oldest continuously functioning educational systems in the world comprising both formal day schools and higher education institutions as well as informal church study groups and parachurch ministries in more than 140 countries In The Encyclopedia of Christian Education contributors explore the many facets of Christian education in terms of its impact on curriculum literacy teacher training outcomes and professional standards This encyclopedia is the first reference work devoted exclusively to chronicling the unique history of Christian education across the globe illustrating how Christian educators pioneered such educational institutions and reforms as universal literacy home schooling Sunday schools women s education graded schools compulsory education of the deaf and blind and kindergarten With an editorial advisory board of more than 30 distinguished scholars and five consulting editors The Encyclopedia of Christian Education contains more than 1 200 entries by 400 contributors from 75 countries These volumes covers a vast range of topics from Christian education History spanning from the church s founding through the Middle Ages to the modern day Denominational and institutional profiles Intellectual traditions in Christian education Biblical and theological frameworks curricula missions adolescent and higher education theological training and Christian pedagogy Biographies of distinguished Christian educators This work is ideal for scholars of both the history of Christianity and education as well as researchers and students of contemporary Christianity and modern religious education

The Faithful

Librarian Garrett B. Trott, 2019-09-06 What do Christianity and librarianship have in common Netherlands Prime Minister and theologian Abraham Kuyper 1837 1920 was among the first in the modern era to attempt to rejoin the dichotomy of sacred vs secular study when he said no single piece of our mental world is to be hermetically sealed off from the rest Over the years a number of publications have followed Kuyper s lead yet little has been written on the subject since Greg A Smith s notable Christian Librarianship 2002 Building on Smith s work this volume seeks to bridge the sacred secular divide with an exploration of how Christianity and the gospel are manifested through the profession of librarianship

Etherington provides readers with ideas and insights drawn from fifteen international scholars in Christian thought within the fields of philosophy theology and education Each author responds to the philosophical historical and sociological challenges that confront their particular line of educational inquiry The authors offer a view of Christian education that promotes truth human dignity peace love diversity and justice The book critically analyzes public discourse on education including the wisdom actions recommendations and controversies of Christian education in the twenty first century This timely book will appeal to those concerned with Christian perspectives on education Aboriginality gender history evangelism secularism constructivism purpose hope school choice and community

Religion, Truth, and Social Transformation Lambert Zuidervart, 2016-03-29 A lucid introduction to a living philosophical tradition and a creative contribution to change oriented scholarship

Teaching and Christian Practices David Smith, James K. A. Smith, 2011-10-10 In Teaching and Christian Practices several university professors describe and reflect on their efforts to allow historic Christian practices to reshape and redirect their pedagogical strategies Whether allowing spiritually formative reading to enhance a literature course employing table fellowship and shared meals to reinforce concepts in a pre nursing nutrition course or using Christian hermeneutical practices to interpret data in an economics course these teacher authors envision ways of teaching and learning that are rooted in the rich tradition of Christian practices as together they reconceive classrooms and laboratories as vital arenas for faith and spiritual growth

Art, Education, and Cultural Renewal Lambert Zuidervart, 2017-05-01 A call for solidarity and renewal in the arts and the academy

Christians as Teachers Geoffrey Beech, 2015-12-04 How does teaching Christianly differ from other forms of teaching How might a Christian teach in a biblical way some commonplace set of facts from a mandated secular curriculum This book considers what a biblical approach to teaching may involve as it emerges from a biblically grounded life and what that might look like in the classroom Rather than speaking of integration of faith and learning it starts from a foundation of Christ the Truth and Lord of all and moves to the development of a framework for classroom practice that includes a need to try to see things from God s perspective All truly Christian education is seen therefore as a profoundly biblical pursuit leading to the revelation of God To do this the book explores the underlying theology and principles out of which our education should flow These principles then allow us to examine such areas as the consideration of a Christian way to teach subjects such as geography and mathematics or even what might be distinctive about the way a Christian teacher may do something as mundane as picking up a pencil

On Christian Teaching David I. Smith, 2018-05-28 Christian teachers have long been thinking about what content to teach but little scholarship has been devoted to how faith forms the actual process of teaching Is there a way to go beyond Christian perspectives on the subject matter and think about the teaching itself as Christian In this book David I Smith shows how faith can and should play a critical role in shaping pedagogy and the learning experience

Glassroom Learning Jason Mills, 2023-07-31 Christian higher education institutions across North America are experimenting with radical shifts in educational content and delivery Cyber education is becoming a common supplement or replacement for embodied learning especially since the global coronavirus pandemic Most theological educators have embraced the shift online finding ways to leverage technology to enhance teaching very few consider how technology itself impacts theological students particularly those being educated for pastoral ministry What effect do shifts toward online courses have on those enrolled in programs of pastoral formation Are future ordinands being adequately trained When developed well Web based learning can strengthen intellectual virtues However it can also inhibit character virtue formation and self differentiation Internet usage has been shown to negatively affect social well being resulting in higher rates of anxiety depression and isolation in students furthermore it alters behavior making learners more distracted less empathetic and less able to concentrate and contemplate Theological schools should therefore articulate clearer standards for student formation and strengthen aspects of embodied learning to prepare clergy for ministry in an increasingly complex church and world

Digital Life Together David I. Smith, Kara Sevensma, Marjorie Terpstra, Steven McMullen, 2020-05-05 Digital technologies loom large in the experience of today's students However parents teachers and school leaders have only started to take stock of the ramifications for teaching learning and faith Based on a three year in depth study of Christian schools Digital Life Together walks educators school leaders and parents through some of the big ideas that are hidden in our technology habits going beyond general arguments for or against digital devices to address the nuanced realities of Christian education in a twenty first century context

No Sense of Entitlement Heather Thomson, 2023-09-25 How might we keep alive the interests and concerns of protest theologies and the constructive contributions they make Feminist liberation and postcolonial theologies offer guiding questions for this task What is the purpose of theology Whose interests are being served What might be the public effects of this theology This book attends to these questions through a collection of publications over the lifetime of one feminist theologian Growing up in Australia as these new protest theologies were emerging Thomson recalls the influences that went into forming her as the theologian she became She specialized in hermeneutics looking for stars and compasses that might guide her theology into these new territories with a willingness to listen to the Christian tradition for its life giving words and a willingness to critique it for the ideologies it carried This double hermeneutic can be seen throughout her work The chapters in this book are divided thematically into five parts Theology and Teaching Public Theology The Church The Atonement and Being Human Her interests in feminist and liberation theologies inform each theme so that she might pass on theology better than she received it

Learning for sustainability in times of accelerating change Arjen E.J. Wals, Peter Blaze Corcoran, 2023-09-04 We live in turbulent times our world is changing at accelerating speed Information is everywhere but wisdom appears in short supply when trying to address key inter related challenges of our time such as runaway climate change the loss of biodiversity the depletion of natural resources the on going homogenization of culture and rising inequity Living in such times has implications for education and learning This book explores the possibilities of designing and facilitating learning based change and transitions towards sustainability In 31 chapters contributors from across the world discuss re emerging forms of learning that not only assist in breaking down unsustainable routines forms of governance production and consumption but also can help create ones that are more sustainable The book has been divided into three parts re orienting science and society re connecting people and planet and re imagining education and learning This is essential reading for educators educational designers change agents researchers students policymakers and entrepreneurs alike who are concerned about the well being of the planet and convinced of our ability to do better The content and related issues can be discussed on the blog by editor Arjen Wals Transformative learning We are living in times of incertitude complexity and contestation but also of connectivity responsibility and new opportunities This book analyses the consequences of these times for learning in formal non formal and informal education It explores the possibilities offered by the concept of sustainability as a central category of a holistic paradigm which harmonizes human beings with Earth To change people and to change the world are interdependent processes this book contributes to both Moacir Gadotti Director of Paulo Freire Institute S o Paulo Brazil I hope you share my excitement about the innovations for sustainability that this book catalogues and analyses While the ecological news is grim the human news is not Even in a time of accelerating change people are showing their enormous capacities to learn adapt restore and protect From the Foreword by Juliet Schor author of True Wealth how and why millions of Americans are creating a time rich ecologically light small scale high satisfaction economy This book implies a culture of critical commitment in educational thinking and practice engaged enough to make a real difference to social ecological resilience and sustainability but reflexively critical enough to learn constantly from experience and to keep options open in working for a sustainability transformation From the Afterword by Stephen Sterling Professor of Sustainability Education Centre for Sustainable Futures Plymouth University United Kingdom Disrupting Privilege, Identity, and Meaning Alison L. Neilson, 2008-01-01 This narrative about the research journey explores the motivation to study practices of environmental education and the privilege that supports the authors ability to do so It is about the process of dislodging individual privilege in environmental education research and being part of a community of practice It is written to invite participation in reciprocal learning teaching about and knowledge construction of environmental education as collaborative reflexive practice Shattering Silos Lambert Zuidervart, 2022-08-15 Questions first raised by Hannah Arendt in the 1960s take on new urgency in the post truth era as political leaders blithely reject facts in the public domain Is truth politically impotent Are politics inherently false Is the search for truth still relevant Shattering Silos a companion volume to Religion Truth and Social Transformation and Art Education and Cultural Renewal provides a path breaking response As in his two previous books Lambert Zuidervart challenges the boundaries philosophers set up between epistemology ethics and political philosophy Knowledge he argues takes different forms in various social domains and all are subject to political struggle A critique of contemporary society must draw on many social domains of knowledge including the arts and religion and should recast politics as a striving for truth in the broadest sense Proposing a new conception of truth one that emphasizes the unity of knowledge and truth as well as their diversity among different social domains Zuidervaart asks what such holism and pluralism suggest about how we understand politics and society This book proposes a new understanding of large scale social change challenging how most people think about knowledge and truth Interweaving epistemology social criticism and political thought Shattering Silos aims to help redirect an allegedly post truth society

Curriculum Development in the Postmodern Era Patrick Slattery, 2013 This landmark text was one of the first to introduce and analyze contemporary concepts of curriculum that emerged from the Reconceptualization of curriculum studies in the 1970s and 1980s This new edition brings readers up to date on the major research themes postmodernism ecological hermeneutics aesthetics and arts based research race class gender sexuality and classroom practices within the historical development of the field from the 1950s to the present Like the previous editions it is unique in providing a comprehensive overview in a relatively short and highly accessible text Provocative and powerful narratives both biography and autoethnography throughout invite readers to engage the complex theories in a personal conversation School based examples allow readers to make connections to schools and society teacher education and professional development of teachers Changes in the Third Edition New Glossary brief summaries in the text direct readers to the Companion Website to read the entire entries New analysis of the current accountability movement in schools including the charter school movement More international references clearly connected to international contexts More narratives invite readers to engage the complex theories in a personal conversation Companion Website new for this edition
