Nothing Week Pete Hancock, 2012-09-04 Nothing Week is the other week following pay week when those with something left in their pockets contribute to the well being of others whose meagre income has been largely absorbed by book up or gambling Set in the remote South Australian township of Oodnadatta on the edge of the Simpson Desert this enriching narrative offers a bridge into Aboriginal culture following the ups and downs which typify life in that unique community A number of contemporary social and political issues are discussed in the context of a fictional five week slice of time from the third week of May through to June

Heartsick Jessie Stephens, 2022-06-07 Heartsick unpacks the destruction of love by following the true stories of three lives altered by a major heartbreak I wrote this book for the person who doesn t want to be told that this too shall pass Not yet Who wants to sit with it And see it for what it is Who wants to know they re not alone That their pain is at once unique and universal Belonging to them and everyone When we re thrown into the chaos of heartsickness we focus so much on the end The fact we are now unloved seems so much more important than the reality that we once were This book was born in the hours I ve waited for men to message me back and who never did In the years full of almost relationships I thought I cannot handle another rejection and then found myself turned down by someone I wasn t even sure I liked I wrote this book because I know what it is to feel fundamentally unlovable I knew when I was looking for Ana Patrick and Claire that their stories had to be true because within them would be nuances I d never noticed before and realities I couldn t have invented I didn t want to be limited by what I happened to know about love and loss I wanted to learn from people as I wrote injecting wisdom from different places and genders and ages into this book Weaving together these three true stories Jessie Stephens captures the painful but wholeheartedly universal experience of heartbreak Deeply relatable addictive to the very last page and powerfully human Heartsick reminds us that emotional pain can make us as it breaks us and that storytelling has the ultimate healing power In the solitude that reading a book demands one is forced to reflect on one's own life After all every time we explore others we're mostly just exploring ourselves These are their stories Ana's and Patrick's and Claire's But it is also my story and our story I trust within it you will find echoes of yourself review of automotive engineering , Batavia Shores Ken F Stewart,2014-07-11 Batavia Shores is the long awaited sequel to Devlin Pool It again follows the two Geraldton detectives Barney Merrick and Zep Marcon as this time they try to unravel the mysterious torture and murder of a used car dealer Issues that confront them include gunrunning drug importation and international terrorism Concurrent to their investigation is the feud between two Aboriginal members of Mid West tribes woven into the middle of the hectic local football season he will handle that bomb MARIAN WILKINSON The twelfth issue of Australian Foreign Affairs examines the growing pressure on Australia as global and regional powers adopt tough measures to combat climate change Feeling the Heat looks at the consequences of splitting from the international consensus and at how a climate pivot by Canberra could unlock new diplomatic and economic opportunities Marian Wilkinson probes how Canberra is responding to international pressure on climate and asks if we are at a political tipping point Wesley Morgan warns that Australia's climate policy is undermining our Pacific relationships and proposes a path for rebuilding trust Richard Denniss and Allan Behm expose Australia's efforts to obstruct international climate action and to support fossil fuel exports Amanda McKenzie uncovers how Australia's climate policy impedes its diplomacy and how to address this malaise Anthony Bergin and Jeffrey Wall outline a solution to Australia's dwindling business ties in the Pacific Hugh Riminton examines the future contours of the Asian Century Michelle Aung Thin discusses the brutal Myanmar coup and its impact on the nation PLUS Correspondence on AFA11 The March of Autocracy from Fergus Ryan Kevin Boreham and Yun Jiang
