Wassily Kandinsky Concerning The Spiritual In Art:

Concerning the Spiritual in Art Wassily Kandinsky, 1977-01-01 A pioneering work in the movement to free art from its traditional bonds to material reality this book is one of the most important documents in the history of modern art Written by the famous nonobjective painter Wassily Kandinsky 1866 1944 it explains Kandinsky's own theory of painting and crystallizes the ideas that were influencing many other modern artists of the period Along with his own groundbreaking paintings this book had a tremendous impact on the development of modern art Kandinsky's ideas are presented in two parts The first part called About General Aesthetic issues a call for a spiritual revolution in painting that will let artists express their own inner lives in abstract non material terms Just as musicians do not depend upon the material world for their music so artists should not have to depend upon the material world for their art In the second part About Painting Kandinsky discusses the psychology of colors the language of form and color and the responsibilities of the artist An Introduction by the translator Michael T H Sadler offers additional explanation of Kandinsky's art and theories while a new Preface by Richard Stratton discusses Kandinsky's career as a whole and the impact of the book Making the book even more valuable are nine woodcuts by Kandinsky himself that appear at the chapter headings This English translation of Über das Geistige in der Kunst was a significant contribution to the understanding of nonobjectivism in art It continues to be a stimulating and necessary reading experience for every artist art student and art patron concerned with the direction of 20th century painting Wassily

Kandinsky Wassily Kandinsky, 2010-06-01 All art students are advised to read Concerning the Spiritual in Art a short masterpiece by Wassily Kandinsky This classic best explains the concepts that lead to abstract painting in the modern era Kandinsky recognized the connection between music and painting He also suggested that artists free themselves from the material world so that they can express their inner impulses Thus the abstract painting requires contemplation to reveal its meaning Furthermore the meaning may be a projection of the inner life of the viewer as much as it is the inner life of the artists This concept is not new to music but it certainly was new to painting in 1911 Once considered a radical idea the spiritual aspect of abstract art is now a given in culture Wassily Kandinsky offers some very insightful comments regarding his contemporaries recognizing Matisse as the 20th century master of color and Picasso as the 20th century master of line He faults them both however for not making the final step toward complete abandonment of the physical world In Concerning the Spiritual in Art Kandinsky also asserts that imitative painting of other eras was a deadly trap for the artist yet responding to the eternal call of the unconscious forces in an earlier period of art history was a valid area of exploration Kandinsky believed that art progressed that artistic concepts built on each other and that there was a triangle of artistic conception that moved forward to some end point yet to be discovered Kandinsky warns against pattern painting which he thought would lead to monotony and away from spirituality Every artist owes it to themselves to read Concerning the Spiritual in Art Though short this book is the classic on which much art history philosophy and practice has been based

Concerning the Spiritual in Art - Kandinsky Wassily Kandinsky Wassily, 2009-11-22 A passage from the book It is no common thing to find an artist who even if he be willing to try is capable of expressing his aims and ideals with any clearness and moderation Some people will say that any such capacity is a flaw in the perfect artist who should find his expression in line and colour and leave the multitude to grope its way unaided towards comprehension This attitude is a relic of the days when l art pour l art was the latest battle cry when eccentricity of manner and irregularity of life were more important than any talent to the would be artist when every one except oneself was bourgeois The last few years have in some measure removed this absurdity by destroying the old convention that it was middle class to be sane and that between the artist and the outer world yawned a gulf which few could cross Modern artists are beginning to realize their social duties They are the spiritual teachers of the world and for their teaching to have weight it must be comprehensible Any attempt therefore to bring artist and public into sympathy to enable the latter to understand the ideals of the former should be thoroughly welcome and such an attempt is this book of Kandinsky s

Concerning the Spiritual in Art Wassily Kandinsky, Michael T. H. Sadler, 2015-01-05 Concerning the Spiritual in Art by Wassily Kandinsky About the Author Kandinsky was born in the year 1866 and differently from what people can suppose he wasn't originally a painter In fact in Odessa he went to the university of law and economics Just in a second part of his life he will rediscover the passion for art and colours that he used to have when he was a child The first period of Kandinsky's life and career as a painter will be based on paintings dedicated to the expression of intense and deep thoughts of the artist Is during this period that the artist together with a group of other people will give birth to der blaue reiter translated with the blue knight It was a group of artists heart of the German expressionism During his studies as artist and painter Kandinsky will meet a wide variety of sources of inspiration but topics that will most affect his work will be the colour symbolism and the psychology To give fame to Kandinsky or at last to make his fame so great is the fact that to this artist is attributable one of the first abstract works of the modern art During his life the artist will get in touch and become a member of symbolists groups and in particular will be part of the group known as the blue rose which will be or critics think so somehow involved in the creation of the painting The blue mountain In the painting the use of horses symbolize the battle of the author against traditional art in fact in the same period during which he completed The blue mountain he also achieved to realize many other paintings about horses and riders actually the amount of these paintings is of at last seven To better understand this artist anyway there are mainly other two elements to know and understand These elements are the artistic movements that inspired and in different periods attracted the artist Of all the possible movements to list two were particularly important to Kandinsky Fauvism and pointillism Fauvism was mainly known in France it wasn't a real and officially known group of artists but they were very close to themes of the impressionism following the experiences made by Van Gogh and Gauguin The use of bright and unnatural colours was the element that attracted Kandinsky For basically the same reason the artist will spend a period close to the other group the group of pointillist artists Where other than the colours use Kandinsky will be interested also to the loss of unitary shapes of reference was G W F Hegel's Aesthetics in which art had similarly been presented as a vehicle for the developing self consciousness of spirit or Geist in German In addition to close readings of Kandinsky's writings the book also includes a discussion of a 1936 essay on the artist's paintings written by his own nephew philosopher Alexandre Kojève the foremost Hegel scholar in France at that time It also provides detailed analyses of individual paintings by Kandinsky demonstrating how the development of his oeuvre challenges Hegel's views on modern art yet operates in much the same manner as does Hegel's philosophical system Through the work of a single crucial artist Florman presents a radical new account of why painting turned to abstraction in the early years of the twentieth century

Kandinsky,2020-03-21 Every work of art is the child of its age and in many cases the mother of our emotions It follows that each period of culture produces an art of its own which can never be repeated Efforts to revive the art principles of the past will at best produce an art that is still born It is impossible for us to live and feel as did the ancient Greeks In the same way those who strive to follow the Greek methods in sculpture achieve only a similarity of form the work remaining soulless for all time Such imitation is mere aping Externally the monkey completely resembles a human being he will sit holding a book in front of his nose and turn over the pages with a thoughtful aspect but his actions have for him no real meaning There is however in art another kind of external similarity which is founded on a fundamental truth When there is a similarity of inner tendency in the whole moral and spiritual atmosphere a similarity of ideals at first closely pursued but later lost to sight a similarity in the inner feeling of any one period to that of another the logical result will be a revival of the external forms which served to express those inner feelings in an earlier age An example of this today is our sympathy our spiritual relationship with the Primitives Like ourselves these artists sought to express in their work only internal truths renouncing in consequence all consideration of external form
