My Green Hills of Jamaica Claude McKay, 1979 From New Mills to New Life Joshua Spencer, 2009-10-28 In this scintillating heart wrenching and tear eliciting autobiography From New Mills to New Life Joshua Spencer shares his extraordinary experiences from birth to his fiftieth year It starts in Albion Montego Bay where the author was born but where he spent the least of his life of half of a century It then extends to several other areas of his native land but finds as its pivot a small impoverished district known as New Mills where he spent much time in a little shamble he called home with his grandmother A home that lacked the basic facilities and necessities such as electricity and water From New Mills to New Life radiates back and forth to its pivot but in an orderly sequential fashion until it culminates in Canada It exposes all the challenges and successes that the author experiences in both jurisdictions including family challenges being on the verge of bankruptcy and so on. It describes quite liberally his weaknesses and his strengths, those challenges he conquers and those he approaches optimistically in the future. You will cry intermittently, laugh regularly, and even get deeply saddened sporadically as you share in this masterpiece. Manto's empathy and narrative economy invite comparisons with Chekhov. These readable idiomatic translations have all the agile swiftness and understated poignancy that parallel suggests Boyd Tonkin. Wall Street Journal. Stories from the undisputed master of the modern Indian short story encircling the marginalized forgotten lives of Bombay set against the backdrop of the India Pakistan Partition. Salman Rushdie. By far the most comprehensive collection of stories by this 20th Century master available in English. A master of the short story. Saadat Hasan Manto opens a window onto Bombay's demimonde: its prostitutes, rickshaw drivers, artists, and strays, as well as probing the pain and bewilderment of the Hindus, Muslims, and Sikhs ripped apart by the India Pakistan Partition. Manto is best known for his dry-eyed examination of the violence, horrors, and reverberations from the Partition. From a stray dog caught in the crossfire at the fresh border of India and Pakistan to friendly neighbors turned enemy soldiers pausing for tea together in a momentary cease-fire, Manto shines incandescent light into hidden corners with an unflinching gaze and a fierce humanism. With a foreword by Pulitzer Prize-winning poet Vijay Seshadri, these stories are essential reading for our current moment where divisiveness is erupting into violence in so many parts of the world The English Reports: Vice-Chancellors' courts (1815-1865) ,1905 Collections New-York Historical Society, 1897 Calibre .50 Robert Sheckley, 1961 Regional Horror Films, 1958-1990 Brian Albright, 2012-11-07. During the second half of the 20th century, landmark works of the horror film genre were as much the product of enterprising regional filmmakers as of the major studios. From backwoods Utah to the Louisiana bayous to the outer boroughs of New York, independent regional films like Night of the Living Dead, Last House on the Left, I Spit on Your Grave, The Texas Chain Saw Massacre, and The Evil Dead stood at the vanguard of horror cinema. This overview of regionally produced horror and science fiction films includes interviews with 13 directors and producers who operated far from mainstream Hollywood, along with a state-by-state listing of regionally produced genre films made between 1958 and 1990. Highlighting some of the most influential horror films of the past 50 years, this work celebrates not only regional filmmaking but also a cultural regionalism that is in danger of vanishing.
