Word and Image ,1985 Early Modern Genres of History Emil Nicklas Johnsen,Ina Louise Stovner,2024-05-02

Bringing together an international group of literary scholars intellectual historians and cultural historians this book discusses history in its various forms either as texts or images in the early modern period 1500 1800 Early Modern Genres of History explores different genres and representational modes regarded as history before history became a scientific discipline during the nineteenth century It does not seek to show how the modern discipline of history as an academic study developed but rather to examine the ways in which historical texts and images became part of a wider field of early modern knowledge formations This volume demonstrates how history was connected to the developments in the public sphere how antiquarian historians used genres in their work how history evolved and functioned in the visual field and how historical genres travelled across different contexts Overall Early Modern Genres of History reveals how the diversity of historical representations in the early modern period has contributed to the broader foundations of history as it is understood in the twenty first century This volume is of great use to upper level undergraduates postgraduates and scholars interested in early modern Europe and the history of knowledge across both the history and literature disciplines The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons CC BY 4 0 license

Sartre: Literature and Theory Rhiannon Goldthorpe,1984 In this major study Rhiannon Goldthorpe takes up the challenge of Sartre s diversity in an original and provocative way Her detailed and comprehensive exploration of the relationship between the theoretical and literary works pays due attention to their characteristic complexity The discussion of La Naus e Les Mouches Huis clos Les Mains sales and Les S questr s e Altona for example does not present these literary texts as mere illustrations of Sartre s theories of consciousness imagination and emotion but as subtle philosophical and linguistic investigations in their own right In addition by reference to recently published fragments from Sartre s earlier work Goldthorpe calls into question existing views of Sartre s intellectual development and provides a new history of the crucial Sartrean concept of commitment The Nouveau Roman and the Poetics of Fiction , The Puritan Conversion

Narrative Patricia Caldwell,1985-11-29 In the mid seventeenth century persons on both sides of the Atlantic wishing to join a Puritan church had to appear before all of its members and tell the story of their religious conversion in effect to give convincing verbal evidence that their souls were saved This book explores the testimonies of spiritual experience delivered by puritans in the mid seventeenth century in order to qualify for membership of their local churches Varieties of Realism Margaret A. Hagen,1986-05-31 Varieties of Realism argues that it is not possible to represent the layout of objects and surfaces in space outside the dictates of formal visual geometry the geometry of natural perspective The book examines most of the world s coherent representational art styles both in terms of the geometry of their creation and in terms of their perceptual effects on the viewer A lucid exposition of modern geometrical principles and relations accessible to the nonmathematical reader is followed by an analysis of all known styles as variants of natural perspective as true varieties of realism Delineating the physical and mechanical constraints that determine the act of visual representation in painting and drawing the author traces the intimate relations among seemingly distant styles and considers the kind of perceptual information about the world each can carry Margaret Hagen is a perceptual psychologist with an ecological point of view Her rigorous but readable presentation of visual theory and research offers provocative new insights into the connections among vision geometry and art
