Wasted Talent Bluest Toni Morrison:

Wasted Talent in "The Bluest Eye" by Toni Morrison Surinder Kaur, 2015-11-26 Scientific Essay from the year 2015 in the subject American Studies Literature language English abstract The Bluest Eye is simple yet a difficult narrative of a twelve year old black girl Pecola s desire to have blue eyes The question arises why does a black girl want blue eyes Why does she want to look differently What causes this desire in her As the story unfolds we get answers to these questions and also a realization that how the simple things like cup images or candy wrappers can be a strong factor in influencing an individual s psychological response to beauty and his her own self importance The present paper while building on existing criticism tries to explore the popular culture for instance children items cups dolls candies and movies and its individual psychological response These commercial products play a pivotal role in establishing beauty aesthetics Regular exposure to these ideals results in their idealization and a longing in people to have these defining physical features of beauty It creates an environment of superiority and inferiority People who possess the defining features physical are considered superior to those who don t have these physical features This adversely affects their psyche and becomes a reason for their downfall

Father-Daughter Incest in Twentieth-Century American Literature Christine Grogan, 2016-10-03 The first major study to challenge the narrow definition of post traumatic stress disorder PTSD by rereading six American literary texts this book argues for the importance of literature in representing not just circumscribed singular traumatic events as Cathy Caruth argued in the late nineties but for giving voice to chronic and cumulative or complex traumatic experiences This interdisciplinary study traces the development of father daughter incest narratives published in the last hundred years from male authored fiction to female authored memoir bringing new readings to Fitzgerald s Tender Is the Night Ellison s Invisible Man and the Dylan Farrow Woody Allen case This study builds on the work of those ushering in a second wave of trauma theory which has argued that the difficulty of speaking about a traumatic experience is not necessarily caused by neurobiological changes that prevent victims from recalling details Rather it s from social and political repercussions In other words they argue that many who experience trauma aren t unable to deliver accounts they fear the results There is a significant gender component to trauma whose implications along with those of race and class have largely gone unexamined in the first wave of trauma theory Exploring two additional questions about articulating trauma this book asks what happens when the voice of trauma is crying out from what Toni Morrison has called the most delicate most vulnerable member of society a female child and second what happens when the trauma is not just a time limit event but chronic and cumulative experiences Some traumatic experiences namely father daughter incest are culturally reduced to the untellable and yet accounts of paternal incest are readily available in American literature This book is written in part as a response to the psychological community which failed to include complex PTSD in the latest edition of the DSM DSM 5 denying victims many of whom are father daughter incest survivors the validation and recognition they deserve and leaving many misdiagnosed winner Staring unflinchingly into the abyss of slavery Beloved transforms history into a story as powerful as Exodus and as intimate as a lullaby This spellbinding novel tells the story of Sethe a former slave who escapes to Ohio but eighteen years later is still not free In The New York Times bestselling novel The Bluest Eye Pecola Breedlove a young black girl prays every day for beauty and yearns for normalcy for the blond hair and blue eyes that she believes will allow her to finally fit in Yet as her dream grows more fervent her life slowly starts to disintegrate in the face of adversity and strife With Song of Solomon Morrison transfigures the coming of age story as she follows Milkman Dead from his rustbelt city to the place of his family s origins introducing an entire cast of strivers and seeresses liars and assassins the inhabitants of a fully realized black world This beautifully designed slipcase will make the perfect holiday and perennial gift

The Problems of ethnic female Adolescents as portrayed in Toni Morrison's "The Bluest Eye", Maxine Hong Kingston's "The Woman Warrior", Sandra Cisneros' "The House on Mango Street" Anna Watorczyk,2005-09-26 Inhaltsangabe Abstract African American Chinese American and Mexican American female adolescents are representatives of minority groups in the United States The three groups of ethnic girls were assigned derogative stereotypes by many Euro American writers who did not portray their characters authentically The modern female ethnic authors undertake the battle with stereotypes that are the main source of girls problems They attempt to convince the reader that the lives of young girls cannot be interpreted according to offending images imposed on them This thesis aims to draw attention to the problems encountered by female ethnic adolescents in Toni Morrison s The Bluest Eye 1970 Maxine Hong Kingston s The Woman Warrior 1976 Sandra Cisneros The House on Mango Street 1984 and to portray their survival or collapse in American society Each of the books presented in the present study is a masterpiece of great literary value Toni Morrison was awarded the Nobel Prize for literature in 1993 Sandra Cisneros was the winner of the 1985 Before Columbus American Book Award Maxine Kingston won the National Book Critics Award with The Woman Warrior which was designated as non fiction in 1976 All of these books contribute significantly to the study of ethnic female adolescents The books chosen for the purpose of this thesis portray girls in an adolescent period The adolescents presented in this study are aged between ten and twenty one and are socially economically and politically dependent on their parents or guardians To further complicate matters the experiences of girls of colour are more complex than those encountered by white adolescents As the typical conflicts within the family problems with gender sexual development education and friends are juxtaposed with issues of racism and very often a lower social status In the light of these facts it does not come as a surprise that many ethnic adolescent girls have problems finding their self The first section of the initial chapter of this thesis takes into consideration the stereotypical image of Euro American adolescent girl as it often serves as a contradiction of the popular images of ethnic girls Furthermore the chapter examines stereotypes of African American Chinese American and Mexican American adolescents Despite their variety the stereotypes are the cause of girls victimisation in society The five following chapters analyse the problems more often

Toni Morrison and Literary Tradition

Justine Baillie, 2013-08-01 Choice Outstanding Academic Title 2014 Toni Morrison and Literary Tradition explores Toni Morrison's construction of alternative and oppositional narratives of history and places her work as central to the imagining and reimagining of American and diasporic identities. Covering the Nobel Prize winning author's novels up to Home as well as her essays, dramatic works, and short stories, this book situates Morrison's writings within both African American and American writing traditions and examines them in terms of her continuous dialogue with the politics, philosophy, and literary forms of these traditions. Toni Morrison and Literary Tradition provides a comprehensive analysis of Morrison's entire oeuvre from her early interrogation of Black Power to her engagement with fin de siècle postcolonial critiques of nationalism and twenty-first century considerations of ecology. Justine Baillie goes on to argue that Morrison's aesthetic should be understood in relation to the historical, political, and cultural contexts in which it and the African American and American literary traditions upon which she draws have been created and developed.

The Female Bildungsroman by Toni Morrison and Maxine Hong Kingston Pin-chia Feng, 1998 This study traces the textual construction of identity in the female Bildungsroman of Toni Morrison and Maxine Hong Kingston. Deploying the politics of rememory in their textual representation of female development, Morrison and Kingston unearth the multiple layers of repressed memories, including personal stories, specific cultural history, and racial experience of African and Asian American women. This book analyzes the working through of repressed memories in Morrison's The Bluest Eye and Sula and Hong Kingston's The Woman Warrior and China Men. The gap between Bildung and anti-Bildung in these texts highlights the multiple oppression faced by women of color and interrogates the established standards and value system of the hegemonic culture.

Toni Morrison and Womanist Discourse Aoi Mori, 1999 After setting out and elaborating the notion Alice Walker defined as a potential inclusive female autonomy that transcends the race, sex, and sexual preferences that feminism seems not to, Mori, English Hiroshima Jogakuin U Japan discusses Morrison's work especially as it relates to such categories and movement. Bodies in a Broken World Ann Folwell Stanford, 2004-07-21 In this multidisciplinary study, Ann Folwell Stanford reads literature written by U.S. women of color to propose a rethinking of modern medical practice, arguing that personal health and social justice are inextricably linked. Drawing on feminist ethics to explore the work of eleven novelists, Stanford challenges medicine to position itself more deeply within the communities it serves, especially the poor and marginalized. However, she also argues that medicine must recognize its limits and join forces with the nonmedical community in the struggle for social justice. In literary representations of physical and emotional states of illness and health, Stanford identifies issues related to public health, medical ethics, institutionalized racism, women's health, domestic abuse, and social justice that are important to discussions about how to improve health and health care She argues that in either direct or indirect ways the eleven novelists considered here push us to see health not only as an individual condition but also as a complex network of individual institutional and social changes in which wellness can be a possibility for the majority rather than a privileged few The novelists whose works are discussed are Toni Cade Bambara Paule Marshall Gloria Naylor Leslie Marmon Silko Toni Morrison Louise Erdrich Sandra Cisneros Bebe Moore Campbell Sapphire Ana Castillo and Octavia Butler Prophets of Recognition: Ideology and the Individual in Novels by Ralph Ellison, Toni Morrison, Saul Bellow, and Eudora Welty , Black Literature Criticism: Marshall-Young ,1992 The Interracial Experience Ursula M.
