Handbook of Research on Innovative Management Using AI in Industry 5.0 Garg, Vikas, Goel, Richa, 2021-11-19 There is no industry left where artificial intelligence is not used in some capacity The application of this technology has already stretched across a multitude of domains including law and policy it will soon permeate areas beyond anyone s imagination Technology giants such as Google Apple and Facebook are already investing their money effort and time toward integrating artificial intelligence As this technology continues to develop and expand it is critical for everyone to understand the various applications of artificial intelligence and its full potential The Handbook of Research on Innovative Management Using AI in Industry 5.0 uncovers new and innovative features of artificial intelligence and how it can help in raising economic efficiency at both micro and macro levels and provides a deeper understanding of the relevant aspects of artificial intelligence impacting efficacy for better output. Covering topics such as consumer behavior, information technology and personalized banking, it is an ideal resource for researchers, academicians, policymakers, business professionals, companies and students. The Green City and Social Injustice Isabelle Anguelovski, James J. T. Connolly, 2021-11-29

The Green City and Social Injustice examines the recent urban environmental trajectory of 21 cities in Europe and North America over a 20-year period. It analyses the circumstances under which greening interventions can create a new set of inequalities for socially vulnerable residents while also failing to eliminate other environmental risks and impacts. Based on fieldwork in ten countries and on the analysis of core planning policy and activist documents and data, the book offers a critical view of the growing green planning orthodoxy in the Global North. It highlights the entanglements of this tenet with neoliberal municipal policies including budget cuts for community initiatives, long-term green spaces and housing for the most fragile residents and the focus on large-scale urban redevelopment and high-end real estate investment. It also discusses hopeful experiences from cities where urban greening has long been accompanied by social equity policies or managed by community groups organizing around environmental justice goals and strategies. The book examines how displacement and gentrification in the context of greening are not only physical but also socio-cultural, creating new forms of social erasure and trauma for vulnerable residents. Its breadth and diversity allow students, scholars and researchers to debunk the often depoliticized branding and selling of green cities and reinsert core equity and justice issues into green city planning, a much-needed perspective. Building from this critical view, the book also shows how cities that prioritize equity in green access, secure housing and in bold social policies can achieve both environmental and social gains for all. Got

Health-Style? Mary A. Tichi, PhD, MBA, 2016-12-05 Are you ready to completely turn your life around?
