Towson And The Villages Of Ruxton And Lutherville Images Of America Maryland:

Towson and the Villages of Ruxton and Lutherville Molly O'Donovan, Brooke Gunning, 1999 Before there were beltways and byways there were fields and farms Towson was situated on an increasingly busy route used by farmers travelers and merchants heading to the port of Baltimore The community's idyllic setting began to change when in 1854 the local populace voted Towson the new seat of Baltimore County The neighboring communities of Ruxton and Lutherville once consisted mainly of farmland but also became popular summer retreats Both areas have since made the shift from vacation spot to suburb but many of the charming historic houses found there capture the spirit of an earlier time and have been preserved for posterity With images culled from such sources as the Baltimore County Historical Society the Baltimore County Public Library the archives of Towson University and Goucher College as well as the cherished albums of local residents this pictorial retrospective documents the people and places events and organizations that have helped to shape these three vital communities

Baltimore's Halcyon Days Brooke Gunning, Molly O'Donovan, 2000 Baltimore's Halcyon Days chronicles Baltimore's social elite their homes and their lifestyle from the dawn of the Republic to the demise of the fingerbowl Long and widely renowned as an enclave of good taste and culture Baltimore has from its inception offered a good life to those who could afford it From hunt cups to hatpins and terrapins to top hats Baltimoreans were connoisseurs of the best When life was their oyster they knew the best way to have it served
