Emergency Response to Chemical and Biological Agents John R. Cashman, 1999-12-15 With the increasing availability of biological and chemical materials the threat of terrorism grows daily Innocent bystanders the major targets of terrorists because they gain the most publicity create a vast number of potential victims In our changing world horrendous violence has become commonplace The growth of incidences involving chemical and biological agents has created a need for local response teams to be aware of the dangers they face Emergency Response to Chemical and Biological Agents serves as a training manual for emergency responders who handle incidents involving biological and chemical hazardous materials The author covers poisons such as nerve blood blister and choking gases and biological agents such as anthrax typhus and cholera Using examples ripped from the headlines he explains what is and is not a terrorist act and the difference in handling each incident In addition the author explains the standard operating procedures of Hazardous Materials Teams before during and after an incident Whether terrorist act or chemical spill local responders usually reach the scene first As these incidents multiply and they will these teams will need a blueprint for dealing with chemical and biological materials Emergency Response to Chemical and Biological Agents provides a clear concise plan of action for responding to these incidents

Chemical and Biological Terrorism Committee on R&D Needs for Improving Civilian Medical Response to Chemical and Biological Terrorism Incidents, Institute of Medicine, 1999-02-26 The threat of domestic terrorism today looms larger than ever Bombings at the World Trade Center and Oklahoma City s Federal Building as well as nerve gas attacks in Japan have made it tragically obvious that American civilians must be ready for terrorist attacks What do we need to know to help emergency and medical personnel prepare for these attacks Chemical and Biological Terrorism identifies the R D efforts needed to implement recommendations in key areas pre incident intelligence detection and identification of chemical and biological agents protective clothing and equipment early recognition that a population has been covertly exposed to a pathogen mass casualty decontamination and triage use of vaccines and pharmaceuticals and the psychological effects of terror Specific objectives for computer software development are also identified The book addresses the differences between a biological and chemical attack the distinct challenges to the military and civilian medical communities and other broader issues This book will be of critical interest to anyone involved in civilian preparedness for terrorist attack planners administrators responders medical professionals public health and emergency personnel and technology designers and engineers Emergency Action for Chemical and Biological Warfare Agents, Second Edition D. Hank Ellison, 2017-06-30 Emergency Action for Chemical and Biological Warfare Agents Second Edition is intended for the first responder to the scene of the release of a chemical or biological warfare agent Formatted similarly to the Department of Transportation's Emergency Response Guidebook and designed as a companion to the author's Handbook of Chemical and Biological Warfare Agents this book is divided into concise chapters that focus on the first few hours after the incident Each chapter or class index is designed to give responders vital information on a specific group of agents This is done rather than focusing on detailed information for individual agents because the specific agent's may not be identified until well into the response long after many critical decisions have been made Adding more than 100 additional pages of material the second edition contains a wider library of agent classes that covers more hazardous materials It also includes updated appendices that cover dissemination the effects of weather and terrain isolation protective shelters and manual decontamination The book also provides a chemical biological terrorism emergency response checklist Addressing the immediate needs of first responders as they arrive at the scene of a chemical or biological warfare agent release this book serves as a guide that gives critical information for key initial reactions without having to read through long explanations It is an essential quick reference for first responders facing the release of chemical or biological warfare agents Bioterrorism Imaginatics, 2003 An effective pocket guide specifically designed to help first responders deal with the unique nature of a biological terrorist attack From personal protection to emergency actions to the guidelines for the 12 most probable biological agents this book allows all responders to be on the same page even when communications fail Because of its ease of use and durability this book is ideal for field use It provides quick access to life saving information faster than any emergency response guidebook currently available The second edition contains an additional ten pages of emergency actions and general preparedness and gives users quick access to potential signs and symptoms produced by biological agents through a global signs and symptoms matrix chart Survival Handbook for Chemical, Biological, and Radiological Terrorism Elizabeth Terry, J. Paul Oxer, 2003 A PRACTICAL GUIDE FOR PROTECTION AGAINST CHEMICAL BIOLOGICAL AND RADIOLOGICAL TERRORISM The first few minutes after a chemical biological or radiological CBR terrorist attack are the most critical and actions can be taken to save lives The first priority is to avoid or reduce exposure Every minute wasted may cost lives and it is unlikely that experts will be present immediately to advise This book is written for individuals families security professionals etc to form the basis for the critical decisions necessary to save lives The most important section is the Emergency Response Protocols providing prioritized instructions for those caught in a CBR attack The Handbook also provides information necessary to evaluate equipment available for CBR protection including gas masks personal filter masks and air filters The protective characteristics of equipment must be matched to the characteristics of CBR to ensure adequate protection Attack indicators can serve as a first alert if the sights sounds scent sensations or dissemination equipment are known and recognized Guidelines for analyzing risk based on geographic location and international visibility and for assessing vulnerabilities based on site characteristics and business profiles are presented Protection of water supplies from CBR attack is addressed Chemical-biological Terrorism ,2002 Chemical Warfare Agents M.
