Maxwell,2013-05-21 In this perfectly compact read 1 New York Times bestselling author John C Maxwell explains how true leadership works It is not generated by your title In fact being named to a position is the lowest of the five levels every effective leader achieves To be more than a boss people are required to follow you must master the ability to inspire and invest in people You need to build a team that produces not only results but also future leaders By combining the advice contained in these pages with skill and dedication you can reach the pinnacle of leadership where your influence extends beyond your immediate reach for the benefit of others Derived from material previously published in the Wall Street Journal bestseller The 5 Levels of Leadership Leading at a Higher Level Blanchard,2007 From The One Minute Manager A R to Raving Fans Ken Blanchard s books have helped millions of people unleash their power and the potential of those around them The Ken Blanchard Companies have helped thousands of organizations become more people oriented customer centered and performance driven more focused on leading for a higher purpose and a greater good Now in Leading at a Higher Level Blanchard and his colleagues have brought together everything they ve learned about world class leadership You ll discover how to create targets and visions based on the triple bottom line h LEadership And Management Begins With You Siegfried Howell,2023-02-12 True leadership involves having a clearly defined vision individuals who need to be guided and a structured pathway forward However my research and personal experiences have led me to uncover another aspect of leadership that is often overlooked The attitude that a leader brings into the role and leadership activities determine their long term effectiveness A positive attitude towards leadership will get you further than a negative one Going even deeper the attitude towards what I refer to as the 4PT Method of leadership determines the level of personal satisfaction the culture of learning and the organization's climate The 4PT Method stands for personality priorities perspective positioning and transformation Effective and influential leaders know their personalities strengths weaknesses blind spots drives and possess high levels of personal intelligence In addition true leaders know their priorities purpose unique gifts values and the importance of positive relationships Another area of importance is the personal perspective that can significantly influence biases limiting beliefs and the ability to lead effectively Finally how a leader positions his or herself to analyze weaknesses personal training and growth determines their ability to transform into the best leader they can be According to John Maxwell there are five levels of leadership position permission production people development and pinnacle The lowest point is the position or title that needs to be more effective The highest level the pinnacle is the highest level where leaders are followed not because of the position but due to respect and admiration everything in between those extreme levels is an opportunity for reflection and growth With proper training leaders can effectively grow from a level one position leader to a level five pinnacle leader by implementing the 4PT Method into the learning process For proper growth to develop within an effective leader one must understand the circles of control influence and concern The circle of control represents things the leader can control personally These things relate to individual personality priorities perspective and personal positioning in life The circle of influence represents things that a leader can influence such as emotions relationships decisions actions and leadership style Finally the circle of concern represents things that the leader cannot control such as the past future activities of others actions of others opinions of others what people think of you and how others take care of themselves This workbook will focus training on the circle of control and influence As stated earlier the circle of concern is an area over which leaders and individuals have little to no control or influence All that can be done as a leader is to focus most of their energy on internal factors so that the areas of influence can be improved Effective leadership can take place when the leader's energy is focused on becoming the best version of themselves As stated by Brian Tracy a leader can soar as high as their weakest critical success factor For higher heights to be manifested personal and professional growth and transformation must occur Topics covered in this book include The Leadership Thought Process Leadership Energy and Drives Different Human Personality Dynamics Leadership Systems Systems Thinking Organizational Bias Problem Analysis Change Management Important Leadership Principles Important Leadership Rules Leadership Planning Tools The 4PT Method to Leadership Transformation The 5 Levels of Leadership John C.
