Tombstone The Untold Story Of Maos Great Famine By Jisheng Yang 2012 Hardcover:

Tombstone Yang Jisheng, 2012-10-30 A veteran journalist presents an epic account of the worst famine in history a landmark in the Chinese people's own efforts to confront their history Ian Johnson The New York Review of Books An estimated thirty six million Chinese men women and children starved to death during China's Great Leap Forward in the late 1950s and early 60s One of the greatest tragedies of the twentieth century the famine is poorly understood and in China is still euphemistically referred to as the three years of natural disaster As a journalist with privileged access to official and unofficial sources Yang Jisheng spent twenty years piecing together the events that led to mass nationwide starvation including the death of his own father Finding no natural causes Yang attributes responsibility for the deaths to China's totalitarian system and the refusal of officials at every level to value human life over ideology and self interest Tombstone is a testament to inhumanity and occasional heroism that pits collective memory against the historical amnesia imposed by those in power Stunning in scale and arresting in its detailed account of the staggering human cost of this tragedy Tombstone is written both as a memorial to the lives lost an enduring tombstone in memory of the dead and in hopeful anticipation of the final demise of the totalitarian system

Mao's Great Famine Frank Dikötter, 2011 Winner of the BBC Samuel Johnson Prize for Non Fiction 2011 Between 1958 and 1962 45 million Chinese people were worked starved or beaten to death Mao Zedong threw his country into a frenzy with the Great Leap Forward an attempt to catch up with and overtake the Western world in less than fifteen years It led to one of the greatest catastrophes the world has ever known Dikötter's extraordinary research within Chinese archives brings together for the first time what happened in the corridors of power with the everyday experiences of ordinary people giving voice to the dead and disenfranchised This groundbreaking account definitively recasts the history of the People's Republic of China

Forgotten Voices of Mao's Great Famine, 1958-1962 Xun Zhou, 2013-11-28 In 1958 China's revered leader Mao Zedong instituted a program designed to transform his giant nation into a Communist utopia Called the Great Leap Forward Mao's grand scheme like so many other utopian dreams of the 20th century proved a monumental disaster resulting in the mass destruction of China's agriculture industry and trade while leaving large portions of the countryside forever scarred by man made environmental disasters The resulting three year famine claimed the lives of more than 45 million people in China

Div In this remarkable oral history of modern China's greatest tragedy survivors of the cataclysm share their memories of the devastation and loss The range of voices is wide city dwellers and peasants scholars and factory workers parents who lost children and children who were orphaned in the catastrophe all speak out Powerful and deeply moving this unique remembrance of an unnecessary and unhindered catastrophe illuminates a dark recent history that remains officially unacknowledged to this day by the Chinese government and opens a window on a society still feeling the impact of the terrible Great Famine

Div Hungry Ghosts Jasper Becker, 1996 This is the unforgettable story of the century's greatest human rights disaster in which more people died than in

Stalin's purges and the Holocaust put together
