Toward a Psychology of Being-Reprint of 1962 Edition First Edition Abraham H. Maslow, 2011-09 2011 Reprint of 1962 First Edition Full facsimile of the original edition not reproduced with Optical Recognition Software In this compelling book Professor Maslow uses studies of psychologically healthy people and of the healthiest experiences and moments in the lives of average people to demonstrate that human beings can be loving noble and creative that they are capable of pursuing the highest values and aspirations A classic text in the field of humanistic psychology Toward a Psychology of Being Abraham H. Maslow, 1968-02-14 This Third Edition will bring Professor Maslow's ideas to a whole new generation of business and psychology readers as well as anyone interested in the study of human behavior Toward a Psychology of Being (General Press) Abraham H. Maslow, 2022-12-15 First published in 1962 Toward a Psychology of Being was written by Abraham H Maslow an American psychologist who was best known for creating Maslow's hierarchy of needs a theory of psychological health predicated on fulfilling innate human needs in priority culminating in self actualization This book develops on Maslow's key theories of motivation and self actualization which were first introduced in Maslow's 1954 book Motivation and Personality It gives a series of hypotheses about the human condition dealing with important questions about people's intrinsic desires the nature of well being and the process of psychological growth Professor Maslow claims that most of us are prepping to live rather than truly living Therefore instead of being a person who only wishes to reach his true call in life you should enter a state of becoming Always trying to reach your maximum potential and live in harmony with your natural needs Health Care Ethics and the Law Donna K. Hammaker, Thomas M. Knadig, 2016-02-26 This text engages students with the ethical decisions faced by health care professionals every day Based on principles and applications in health care ethics and the law this text extends beyond areas that are often included in discussions of political philosophy and the principles of justice Applying Nursing Process Rosalinda Alfaro-LeFevre, 2012-12-03 Because principles of nursing process are the building blocks for all care models the nursing process is the first model nurses need to learn to think like a nurse This trusted resource provides the practical guidance needed to understand and apply each phase of the nursing process with an increased emphasis on developing both critical thinking and clinical reasoning skills With an easy to follow and engaging writing style the author provides strategies tools and abundant examples to help nurses develop the skills they need to thrive in today's complex health care setting Justice as a Basic Human Need Antony James William Taylor, 2006 Psychologists in different tributaries of the discipline have long been preoccupied with aspects of Justice but none previously has addressed the essential question raised in this book namely of justice being as vital to the essentials of life and to the flowering of the human spirit as other basic needs The same can be said for academics and practitioners in other disciplines in social science as well as those in mental health and psychiatry Although lawyers might come close to accepting the proposition it seems to me that in the main their professional expertise is directed to the superficial maintenance of systems of justice rather than to the underlying reasons for doing so This book arising from academic clinical empirical and theoretical studies goes the further mile by giving justice its proper place in the hierarchy of basic human needs It is designed in accord with a general systems theory in which contributions are welcomed from international scholars and researchers in different domains of knowledge Above all it is written in the hope of inducing others to share a commitment to justice and do their utmost to prevent injustice
