Towards A Victimology Of State Crime:

Towards a Victimology of State Crime Dawn Rothe, David Kauzlarich, 2016-05-13 State crime victimization often leaves a legacy of unrecognized victims that are ignored forgotten or negated the right to be labeled as such Victims are often glossed over as the focus is on a state's actions or inactions rather than the subsequent victimization and victims Towards a Victimology of State Crime serves to highlight the forgotten victims processes and cases of revictimization within a sociological criminological framework Contributors include expert scholars of state crime and victimology from North America Europe Africa and Latin America to provide a well rounded focus that can address and penetrate the issues of victims of state crime This includes a diverse number of case study examples of victims of state crime and the systems of control that facilitate or impede addressing the needs of victims Additionally with the inclusion of a section on controls this volume taps into an area that is often overlooked the international level of social control in relation to a victimology of state criminality

State Crime, Women and Gender Victoria Collins, 2015-10-05 The United Nations has called violence against women the most pervasive yet least recognized human rights abuse in the world and there is a long established history of the systematic victimization of women by the state during times of peace and conflict This book contributes to the established literature on women gender and crime and the growing research on state crime and extends the discussion of violence against women to include the role and extent of crime and violence perpetrated by the state State Crime Women and Gender examines state perpetrated violence against women in all its various forms Drawing on case studies from around the world patterns of state perpetrated violence are examined as it relates to women's victimization their role as perpetrators resistors of state violence as well as their engagement as professionals in the international criminal justice system From the direct involvement of Condoleezza Rice in the United States led war on terror to the women of Egypt's Arab Spring Uprising to Afghani poetry as a means to resist state sanctioned patriarchal control case examples are used to highlight the pervasive and enduring problem of state perpetrated violence against women The exploration of topics that have not previously been addressed in the criminological literature such as women as perpetrators of state violence and their role as willing consumers who reinforce and replicate the existing state sanctioned patriarchal status quo makes State Crime Women and Gender a must read for students and scholars engaged in the study of state crime victimology and feminist criminology Handbook on Crime and Inequality Stephen Farrall, Susan McVie, 2025-01-09 In this Handbook Stephen Farrall and Susan McVie bring together a diverse array of leading experts to examine the relationship between different aspects of crime and inequality They employ a variety of geographical and individual lenses and use case studies from the Global North and South State Crime Alan Doig, 2010-12-22 This book provides an introduction to state crime with a particular focus on the UK The use of crime by the UK to achieve its policy and political objectives is an underdeveloped aspect of academic study of individual and institutional criminality the exercise of political power public policy making and political development The book provides an overview of definitional issues before exploring possible examples of state crime in the UK and then considering why state crime occurs and how it is investigated and adjudicated State Crime is split into six sections in order to address a number of key questions what is state crime according to the literature What is a crime What is the state What are the drivers for the State to commit a crime What are the roles of the various institutions of the State in being involved in state crime and what in terms of monitoring or investigating state crime or unethical conduct are the roles of those institutions from the police through to Parliament responsible for holding governments and state institutions to account Unusually for books on state crime this book looks at a specific country as the context within which to explore these issues Further it not only looks at crime but also the structure of the modern state and thus provides a balanced and rigorous perspective with which to study the concept of state crime Overall this book seeks to provide an introduction to state crime for contemporary states which will facilitate the study of such issues as part of mainstream academic study across a number of disciplines A Companion to State Power, Liberties and Rights Morley, Sharon, Karen Corteen, Turner, Jo, Paul Taylor, 2017-02-15 This handbook sets out defines and analyzes the essential vocabulary and terminology involved in the study of state power individual liberties and rights As part of the Companions series it is organized alphabetically taking up and defining key topics in these areas particularly as they relate to the study of crime and harm Topics addressed include state and corporate crime terrorism security risk legislation and policy human rights and civil liberties policing punishments and detention surveillance and regulation and many others Accessible yet challenging the book will be useful for both undergraduates and graduate students working in criminology criminal justice international relations political science and other fields A Research Agenda for Global Crime Tim

Hall,Vincenzo Scalia,2019 This multidisciplinary collection of essays by leading international scholars explores many pressing issues related to global crime The book opens with essays that look across this diverse terrain and then moves on to consider specific areas including organised crime cyber crime war crimes terrorism state and private violence riots and political protest prisons sport and crime and counterfeit goods The book emphasises the centrality of crime to the contemporary global world and mobilises diverse disciplinary positions to help understand and address this Victims of Environmental

Harm Matthew Hall (Criminologist),2013 In recent years the increasing focus on climate change and environmental degradation has prompted unprecedented attention being paid towards the criminal liability of individuals organisations and even states for polluting activities These developments have given rise to a new area of criminological study often called green criminology Yet in all the theorising that has taken place in this area there is still a marked absence of specific focus on those actually suffering harm as a result of environmental degradation This book represents a unique attempt to substantively conceptualise and examine the place of such environmental victims in criminal justice systems both nationally and internationally Grounded in a comparative approach and drawing on critical criminological arguments this volume examines many of the areas traditionally considered by victimologists in relation to victims of environmental crime and more widely environmental harm These include victims rights compensation treatment by criminal justice systems and participation in that process The book approaches the issue of environmental victimisation from a social harms perspective as opposed to a criminal harms one thus problematising the definitions of environmental crime found within most jurisdictions Victims of Environmental Harm concludes by mapping out the contours of further research into a developing green victimology and how this agenda might inform criminal justice reform and policy making at national and global levels This book will be of interest to researchers across a number of disciplines including criminology international law victimology socio legal studies and physical sciences as well as professionals involved in policy making processes Justice for

Atrocities Marco Longobardo,Juan-Pablo Perez-Leon-Acevedo,2025-09-30 This book examines how national and international regional courts in Europe and Latin America address justice for serious human rights violations comparing approaches across these distinct regions It analyzes judicial responses to gross violations of international human rights law and humanitarian law including genocide crimes against humanity and war crimes through the lens of regional institutional frameworks The comparative analysis explores decades of significant case law addressing atrocities such as murder torture sexual offenses and enforced disappearances in both conflict and peacetime settings The book contrasts Europe s experience with mass atrocities during the World Wars Balkan conflicts of the 1990s and recent violations in the Caucasus and Ukraine against Latin America s widespread abuses under dictatorial regimes and internal armed conflicts in countries like Argentina Brazil Chile Colombia Guatemala and Peru during the latter decades of the 20th century This volume is essential reading for legal scholars human rights practitioners judges prosecutors defense attorneys and policymakers working in international criminal justice It also serves as a valuable resource for graduate students and researchers in law political science international relations and peace and conflict studies who focus on accountability mechanisms for serious human rights violations across different regional contexts The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of The International Journal of Human Rights

Transitional Justice and Socio-Economic Harm Huma Saeed,2022-09-19

Maintaining the importance of socio economic issues in devising transitional justice mechanisms this book examines the widespread practice of land grabbing in Afghanistan On 3 September 2003 100 armed police officers bulldozed around 30 homes in the Sherpur neighborhood of Kabul Afghanistan evicting over 250 people Historically the land was part of the property of the Ministry of Defense of which a zone was allocated to the ministry s employees who had built homes and had lived there for nearly 30 years After the demolition however the land was distributed among 300 high ranking government officials including ministers deputy ministers governors and other powerful warlords Land grabbing in Afghanistan has become a widespread practice across the country Based on over 50 semi structured interviews with key informants and group discussions with war victims and local experts in Kabul the current book examines the relevance of transitional justice discourse and practice in response to this situation Following a critical criminological concern with social harm the book maintains that it is not enough to consider a country s political history of violent conflict and the violation of civil and political rights alone Rather to decide on appropriate transitional justice mechanisms it is crucial to consider a country s socio economic background and above all the socio economic harm inflicted on people during periods of violent conflict This original and detailed account of the socio economic challenges faced by transitional justice mechanisms will be of interest to those studying and working in this area in law politics development studies and criminology

Victims Ross McGarry,Sandra Walklate,2015-06-05

The study of victims of crime is a central concern for criminologists around the world In recent years some victimologists have become increasingly engaged in positivist debates on the differences between victims and non victims how these differences can be measured and what could be done to improve the victims experience of the criminal justice system Written by experts in the field this book embraces a much wider understanding of social harms and asks which victims voices are heard and why McGarry and Walklate break new ground with this innovative and accessible book it offers a broad discussion of social harms the role of the victim in society and the inter relationship between trauma testimony and justice and asks how has harm been understood and under what circumstances have those harms been recognised how and under what circumstances are those harms articulated how and under what circumstances are the voices of those who have been harmed listened to Each chapter draws on case studies and a range of questions designed to assist in reflection and critical engagement This book is perfect reading for students taking courses on victimology victims and society victims rights and criminal justice

Explaining Crime Hugh D. Barlow,David Kauzlarich,2010

This book provides a concise but comprehensive review of the full range of classic and contemporary theories of crime With separate chapters on the nature and use of criminological theory as well as theoretical application the authors render the difficult task of explaining crime more understandable to the introductory student All of the main theories in criminology are reviewed including classical and rational choice biological psychological and evolutionary social structural social process critical general and integrated approaches Copious examples of the spirit of the theories are supplied many with a popular culture e g film and music connection Victims, Atrocity and International Criminal Justice Rachel Killeen, 2018-07-03 While international criminal courts have often been declared as bringing justice to victims their procedures and outcomes historically showed little reflection of the needs and interests of victims themselves This situation has changed significantly over the last sixty years victims are increasingly acknowledged as having various rights while their need for justice has been deployed as a means of justifying the establishment of international criminal courts However it is arguable that the goals of political and legal elites continue to be given precedence and the ability of courts to deliver justice to victims remains contested This book contributes to this important debate through an examination of the role of victims as civil parties within the Extraordinary Chambers in the Courts of Cambodia Drawing on a series of interviews with civil parties court practitioners and civil society actors the book explores the way in which both the ECCC and the role of victims within it are shaped by specific political economic and legal contexts examining the gap between the legitimising value of the imagined victim and the extent to which victims are able to further their interests within the courtroom State Crime Penny Green, Tony Ward, 2004-01-20 What is state crime This book sets out the parameters of state crime and highlights the complex issues involved The authors provide a clear chapter by chapter assessment of state violence corruption state involvement in organised and corporate crime avoidable natural disasters torture criminal policing war crimes and genocide Penny Green and Tony Ward put forward a powerful argument drawing from a range of disciplines including law criminology human rights international relations and political science They develop a theoretical approach to understanding the boundaries of state crime employing the concepts of deviance and human rights Making distinctive use of original research and using a variety of international case studies this compelling book offers a fresh and sophisticated approach to this controversial and difficult subject Learning from Victims' Family Narratives Morag C. Kennedy, 2025-07-08 Offering a new perspective on intimate partner abuse and homicide this book recognises the families of victims as legitimate agents of knowledge in terms of the harm experienced by their family members and considers how this harm is extended to the families themselves Examining harm from both an offline and online point of view the book explains the multipurpose roles of offline and online harm and how these roles do not occur in isolation in terms of the victims and families abusive experiences In doing so it demonstrates the range of harm experienced in the context of intimate partner abuse and homicide and outlines the overlapping nature of offline and online harm without prioritising one form of harm over the other instead considering the harm experienced as a continuum Providing theoretical and empirical contributions that are largely absent from existing victimology and harm literature Learning from Victims Family Narratives The Impact of Offline and Online Harm in Cases of Intimate Partner Homicide will be of interest to scholars researchers students and practitioners exploring the modern conceptualisation of harm and its impact on individuals beyond the victim and perpetrator Expanding the Criminological Imagination Alana Barton,Karen Corteen,David Scott,Dave Whyte,2013-01-11 This book brings together a series of writings on the problems facing contemporary criminology highlighting the main theoretical priorities of critical analysis and their application to substantive case studies of research in action Its main aim is to establish the conceptual and practical foundations for a new generation of studies in criminology and to set a new agenda for critical criminology Each chapter will critically assess the main conceptual and empirical problems they have encountered in their research and to bring to life the key theoretical debates within the discipline This book will be essential reading for students seeking an understanding of the nature of the discipline of criminology and criminological research Justice for Victims Inge Vanfraechem,Antony Pemberton,Felix Ndahinda,2014-06-27 Justice for Victims brings together the world s leading scholars in the fields of study surrounding victimization in a pioneering international collection This book focuses on the current study of victims of crime combining both legal and social scientific perspectives articulating both in new directions and questioning whether victims really do have more rights in our modern world This book offers an interdisciplinary approach covering large scale political victimization terrorist victimization sexual victimization and routine victimization Split into three sections this book provides in depth coverage of victims rights transitional justice and victims perspectives and trauma resilience and justice Victims rights are conceptualised in the human rights framework and discussed in relation to supranational international and regional policies The transitional justice section covers victims of war from those caught between peace and justice as well as post conflict justice The final section focuses on post traumatic stress connecting psychological and anthropological perceptions in analysing collective violence mass victimization and trauma This book addresses challenging and new issues in the field of victimology and the study of transitional and restorative justice As such it will be of interest to researchers practitioners and students interested in the fields of victimology transitional justice restorative justice and trauma work Transnational Crime and Criminal Justice Marinella Marmo,Nerida Chazal,2016-04-13 Providing you with a wide ranging introduction to key international issues in crime and its control this book covers all essential theories and clearly explains their relevance to the world today Going beyond just looking at organized crime the book covers a range of topics including Human rights Terrorism Trafficking Cybercrime Environmental crime International Law Plenty of case studies and examples are included throughout including the Bali 9 Rana Plaza and the shooting of Charles De Menezes and tips on further reading make it easy to know where to go to engage with more debates in the field Making sure you re up to date with current issues this book will be essential reading for students in Criminology and Criminal Justice as well as those in Law and International Relations Gender, Crime and Criminal Justice Kate Fitz-Gibbon,Sandra Walklate,2018-06-12

This book examines the relationship between gender and crime and explores both the gendered nature of crime alongside the gendered nature of criminal victimisation. Covering theory, policy and practice, this new edition has been fully revised to reflect the wider changes, development and influence of gendered thinking in these areas. It brings together a range of key issues including Theories and concepts in feminist criminology, Gender and victimisation, Sexual and domestic violence, Male dominance in the criminal justice system, Gendered perspectives in law and criminal justice policy. New to the third edition is increased coverage of gender and crime in international perspective, particularly within the global south and emerging concepts of risk and security. This is essential reading for advanced courses on gender and crime, women and crime and feminist criminology.

State Crime and Immorality Monaghan, Mark, Prideaux, Simon, 2016-02-17. This is the first book to examine the activities of UK and international role models through the lens of state crime and social policy. Written by experts in the field of sociology and social policy, it defines the ideal state as a single functioning whole that ensures uniformity in the name of legitimacy. It then details the ways that states do not constitute the ideal in terms of the dangers associated with the maintenance of legitimacy and state power. Anti-democratic measures such as the invasions of other nation states, the idea that the media can both reinforce and influence the state and the problems of over-zealous policing of a state's own populace are covered. Using the topical example of Rupert Murdoch and the activities of his media organisation to show how powerful individuals and corporations can and do exert political influence, the book provides a comprehensive discussion of state immorality and deviance generally and state crime in particular. It will appeal to a range of academics and practitioners in broader disciplines such as criminology, sociology, politics and political science.
