Prophets of the Posthuman Christina Bieber Lake, 2013-09-30 Prophets of the Posthuman provides a fresh and original reading of fictional narratives that raise the question of what it means to be human in the face of rapidly developing bioenhancement technologies Christina Bieber Lake argues that works by Nathaniel Hawthorne Walker Percy Flannery O Connor Toni Morrison George Saunders Marilynne Robinson Raymond Carver James Tiptree Jr and Margaret Atwood must be reevaluated in light of their contributions to larger ethical questions Drawing on a wide range of sources in philosophical and theological ethics Lake claims that these writers share a commitment to maintaining a category of personhood more meaningful than that allowed by utilitarian ethics Prophets of the Posthuman insists that because technology can never ask whether we should do something that we have the power to do literature must step into that role Each of the chapters of this interdisciplinary study sets up a typical ethical scenario regarding human enhancement technology and then illustrates how a work of fiction uniquely speaks to that scenario exposing a realm of human motivations that might otherwise be overlooked or simplified Through the vision of the writers she discusses Lake uncovers a deep critique of the ascendancy of personal autonomy as America's most cherished value This ascendancy coupled with technology's glamorous promises of happiness helps to shape a utilitarian view of persons that makes responsible ethical behavior toward one another almost impossible Prophets of the Posthuman charts the essential role that literature must play in the continuing conversation of what it means to be human in a posthuman world

Literature and the Rise of the Interview Rebecca Roach, 2018-11-15 Today interviews proliferate everywhere in newspapers on television and in anthologies as a method they are a major tool of medicine the law the social sciences oral history projects and journalism and in the book trade interviews with authors are a major promotional device We live in an interview society How did this happen What is it about the interview form that we find so appealing and horrifying Are we all just gossips or is there something more to it What are the implications of our reliance on this bizarre dynamic for publicity subjectivity and democracy Literature and the Rise of the Interview addresses these questions from the perspective of literary culture The book traces the ways in which the interview form has been conceived and deployed by writers and interviewing has been understood as a literary critical practice It excavates what we might call a poetics of the interview form and practice In so doing it covers 150 years and four continents It includes a diverse rostrum of well known writers such as Henry James T S Eliot Ezra Pound Djuna Barnes William Burroughs Philip Roth J M Coetzee and Toni Morrison while reintroducing some individuals that history has forgotten such as Betty Ross Queen of Interviewers and Julian Hawthorne Nathaniel's profligate son Together these stories expose the interview's position in the literary imagination and consider what this might tell us about conceptions of literature authorship and reading communities in modernity

Blood Work Shawn Salvant, 2015-01-12 The invocation of blood as both an image and a concept has long been critical in the formation of American racism In Blood Work Shawn Salvant mines works from the American literary canon to explore the multitude of associations that race and blood held in the consciousness of late nineteenth and early twentieth century Americans Drawing upon race and metaphor theory Salvant provides readings of four classic novels featuring themes of racial identity Mark Twain's Pudd'nhead Wilson 1894 Pauline Hopkins's Of One Blood 1902 Frances Harper's Iola Leroy 1892 and William Faulkner's Light in August 1932 His expansive analysis of blood imagery uncovers far more than the merely biological connotations that dominate many studies of blood rhetoric the racial discourses of blood in these novels encompass the anthropological and the legal the violent and the religious Penetrating and insightful Blood Work illuminates the broad ranging power of the blood metaphor to script distinctly American plots real and literary of racial identity
