Routledge Handbook of Landscape Character Assessment Graham Fairclough,Ingrid Sarlöv Herlin,Carys Swanwick,2018-05-11 In this multi authored book senior practitioners and researchers offer an international overview of landscape character approaches for those working in research policy and practice relating to landscape Over the last three decades European practice in landscape has moved from a narrow if relatively straightforward focus on natural beauty or scenery to a much broader concept of landscape character constructed through human perception and transcending any of its individual elements Methods tools and techniques have been developed to give practical meaning to this idea of landscape character The two main methods Landscape Character Assessment LCA and Historic Landscape Characterisation HLC were applied first in the United Kingdom but other methods are in use elsewhere in Europe and beyond to achieve similar ends This book explores why different approaches exist the extent to which disciplinary or cultural specificities in different countries affect approaches to land management and landscape planning and highlights areas for reciprocal learning and knowledge transfer Contributors to the book focus on examples of European countries such as Sweden Turkey and Portugal that have adopted and extended UK style landscape characterisation but also on countries with their own distinctive approaches that have developed from different conceptual roots as in Germany France and the Netherlands The collection is completed by chapters looking at landscape approaches based on non European concepts of landscape in North America Australia and New Zealand This book has an introductory price of 125 205 which will last until 3 months after publication after this time it will revert to 140 225

Contemporary Studies in Environment and Tourism Recep Efe,Munir Ozturk,2017-05-11 The tourism industry is striving hard to create attractive worlds for its customers Both as a necessity and as a challenge this field is overwhelmed by the imagination economy but raises several questions about tourists providing opportunities to move deeper into the understanding of complexities involved in relationships among tourists tourism sites and their historical structure and environmental sustainability As a result of this a serious academic interest in tourism has developed over recent decades as a complex aspect of investigation into humans and their environment This volume brings together case studies from different parts of the world focusing on tourism and its interactions with the environment It provides a general outline of theoretical issues and their practicality in different industrialising countries from both the East and the West The book will appeal to researchers involved in tourism studies and environmental interactions as well as academicians and tourism agencies

Routledge Handbook on Tourism in the Middle East and North Africa Dallen Timothy, 2018-12-07 The Routledge Handbook on Tourism in the Middle East and North Africa examines the importance of tourism as a historical economic social environmental religious and political force in the Middle East and North Africa MENA It highlights the ecological and resource challenges related to water desert environments climate change and oil It provides an in depth analysis of the geopolitical conditions that have long determined the patterns of tourism demand and supply throughout the region and how these play out in the everyday lives of residents and destinations as they attempt to grow tourism or ignore it entirely While cultural heritage remains the primary tourism asset for the region as a whole many new types of tourisms are emerging especially in the Arabian Gulf region where hyper development is closely associated with the increasingly prominent role of luxury real estate and shopping retail medical tourism cruises and transit tourism The growing phenomenon of an expatriate workforce and how its segregation from the citizenry creates a dual socio economic system in several countries is unmatched by other regions of the world Many indigenous people of MENA keep themselves apart from other dominant groups in the region although these social boundaries are becoming increasingly blurred as tourism being one socio economic force for change has inspired many nomadic peoples to settle into towns and villages and rely more on tourists for their livelihoods All of these issues and more shape the foundations of this book This Handbook is the first of its kind to examine tourism from a broad regional and inclusive perspective surveying a broad range of social cultural heritage ecological and political matters in a single volume With a wide range of contributors many of whom are natives of the Middle East and North Africa this Handbook is a vital resource for students and scholars interested in Tourism Middle East Studies and Geography

Sustainable Tourism IV C. A. Brebbia, F. D. Pineda, 2010 Tourism has become a major international industry with many countries all over the world relying on the income it produces Because it is a major source of finances and employment government and other institutions actively promote tourism regardless of the impact on the environment ecology and social structure of the region The demands of tourism can contribute to the destruction of the natural and cultural environment upon which it depends The natural and cultural landscape s capacity to accommodate the local and worldwide effects of tourism the typology thereof and its implications for the economy and society constitute very important study objectives The development of tourism can result in the degradation of natural landscapes that paradoxically attract tourists to such areas Featured topics include Tourism Strategies Tourism as a Tool of Development Tourism Impact Tourism and Protected Areas Rural Tourism Community Involvement IT and Tourism Climate Change and Tourism Environmental Issues Art Architecture and Culture Modelling Emergent Strategies for Tourism Development Landscape and Tourism Tourism and Urban Planning

Management of Natural Resources, Sustainable Development and Ecological Hazards C. A. Brebbia, Enzo Tiezzi, M. E. Conti, 2006-11-09 The state of our planet continues to deteriorate at an alarming rate We have arrived at a situation where we need to determine urgent solutions before we reach a point of irreversible deterioration Much has been written in different contexts about reaching sustainability but the concept itself needs to be defined in the framework of all different disciplines in order to arrive at optimal solutions Hence this book is essentially trans disciplinary in order to find appropriate sustainable solutions involving collaboration across a wide range of disciplines Publishing papers from the First International Conference on Management of Natural Resources Sustainable Development and Ecological Hazards the book features articles encompassing topic areas such as Water Resources Air Soil Ecology Health Risk Energy Planning and Development Political and Social Issues The Re Encounter New Technologies Learning from Nature Safety Operational Research in Agriculture and Tourism Evangelia Krassadaki, George Baourakis, Constantin Zopounidis, Nikolaos Matsatsinis, 2020-05-05 This book presents a diverse range of recent operational research techniques that have been applied to agriculture and tourism management It covers both the primary sector of agriculture and agricultural economics and the tertiary sector of the tourism industry Findings and lessons learned from these innovations can be readily applied to various other contexts The book chiefly focuses on cooperative management issues and on developing solutions to provide decision support in multi criteria scenarios Tourism in a VUCA World Naser Ul Islam, Manjula Chaudhary, Izidora Marković Vukadin, 2024-07-19 Recent issues have led to a growing need for a strategic re evaluation of the tourism industry vis a vis volatility uncertainty complexity and ambiguity VUCA in the environment The authors identify novel solutions through an integration of knowledge from the fields of social physical and biological sciences Managing Natural and Cultural Heritage for a Durable Tourism Anna Trono, Valentina Castronuovo, Petros Kosmas, 2024-04-28 This contributed volume offers a wealth of cases that explore the factors and conditions required for heritage tourism to be economically and socially beneficial to local communities without impairing the natural environment cultural heritage preservation or sustainability for future generations The studies presented here comprise an examination of measures which have been and can be implemented to ensure sustainable use of natural and cultural systems leading to a new concept of tourism that incorporates science and community practices together to create a favorable environment where tourists and locals can experience meaningful interactions and experiences The book focuses on the role of stakeholders in the development of a new policy regarding the sustainable management of cultural tourism and the possibility of their involvement in the processes governing policy making Emphasis is placed on the role and commitment of local and international authorities including UNESCO in preserving the world's endangered cultural and natural heritage as well as the responsibilities of Member States and public and private actors with respect to future conservation challenges

Sustainable Development and Planning X G. Passerini, N. Marchettini, 2018-12-17 This volume contains research from the 10th International Conference on Sustainable Development and Planning. The papers included in this volume form a collection of research from academics, policy makers, practitioners and other stakeholders from across the globe who discuss the latest advances in the field. Problems related to development and planning which affect rural and urban areas are present in all regions of the world. Accelerated urbanisation has resulted in deterioration of the environment and loss of quality of life. Urban development can also aggravate problems faced by rural areas such as forests, mountain regions and coastal areas amongst many others. Taking into consideration the interaction between different regions and developing new methodologies for monitoring, planning and implementation of novel strategies can offer solutions for mitigating environmental pollution and non-sustainable use of available resources. Energy saving and eco-friendly building approaches have become an important part of modern development which places special emphasis on resource optimisation. Planning has a key role to play in ensuring that these solutions as well as new materials and processes are incorporated in the most efficient manner. The application of new academic findings to planning and development strategies, assessment tools and decision making processes are all covered in this book.

Tourism and Development Richard Sharpley, David J. Telfer, 2002-04-30 The development of tourism is frequently justified on the basis of its potential contribution to the broader socio-economic development of destination areas. Indeed, tourism is generally considered an effective vehicle of development, yet the meaning and objectives of development and the extent to which it can be achieved through tourism is rarely questioned. Moreover, the relationship between tourism and development remains an under-represented area of study and research. This book addresses this gap in the literature by challenging many of the widely-held assumptions about tourism's developmental contribution. In the first part, a theoretical link is established between the discrete yet interconnected disciplines of tourism studies and development studies. More specifically, the meaning of development and successive development paradigms are considered within the context of tourism. This provides a conceptual foundation for the second part of the book which addresses a number of fundamental issues related to tourism's potential contribution to development. These include issues of economic development, regional development, socio-cultural development and environmental development. Finally, the third part focuses upon barriers to tourism-induced development, arguing that a new political economy of tourism, the consumption of tourism and the dominance of the sustainable development paradigm represent significant counterpoints to overly simplistic models of tourism's potential contribution to development.

Sustainable Tourism IX J. Casares, F. Pineda, 2020-09-28 Today tourism is an important component of development not only in economic terms but also for knowledge and human welfare Tourism today is an activity accessible to a growing number of people The phenomenon has many more advantages than disadvantages New forms of economic development and increasing wealth of human societies depend on tourism Our knowledge of the world now includes a strong component due to tourism Human welfare has physiological and psychological elements which tourism promotes both because of the enjoyment of knowing new territories and increasing contacts with near or far away societies and cultures The tourism industry has nevertheless given rise to some serious concerns including social costs and ecological impacts Many ancient local cultures have practically lost their identity Their societies have orientated their economy only to this industry Both the natural and cultural rural or urban landscapes have also paid a high price for certain forms of tourism These problems will persist if the economic benefit is the only target leading to economic gains that eventually become ruinous It is also important to consider that visitors nowadays are increasingly demanding in cultural and environmental terms Never before have transport and communication links been so important as today Natural ecosystems are now a rarity on the planet and ecologists talk today about socio ecosystems Given this tourism and environmental education are facing a major challenge Tourism also plays an important role in the natural environmental changes that are strongly affected by technological and social developments Natural changes are inherent in the Earth s ecosystem the ecosphere Also technological and social changes are inherent to mankind the noosphere and are now becoming widespread Cities are growing rapidly and industry requires increasingly larger areas Many traditional rural areas are being abandoned However many historic agricultural districts have maintained or even recovered their local population numbers through intelligent strategies of tourism focused on nature and rural culture Natural landscapes and biodiversity are becoming increasingly appreciated The tourism industry must be able to respond to these aspirations The 9th International Conference on Sustainable Tourism had the aim of finding ways to protect the natural and cultural landscape through the development of new solutions which minimise the adverse effects of tourism A selection

The Top Books of the Year Tourism Environment And Ecology In The Mediterranean Region The year 2023 has witnessed a remarkable surge in literary brilliance, with numerous compelling novels captivating the hearts of readers worldwide. Lets delve into the realm of top-selling books, exploring the captivating narratives that have charmed audiences this year. Tourism Environment And Ecology In The Mediterranean Region : Colleen Hoover's "It Ends with Us" This poignant tale of love, loss, and resilience has captivated readers with its raw and emotional exploration of domestic abuse. Hoover expertly weaves a story of hope and healing, reminding us that even in the darkest of times, the human spirit can triumph. Uncover the Best : Taylor Jenkins Reids "The Seven Husbands of Evelyn Hugo" This captivating historical fiction novel unravels the life of Evelyn Hugo, a Hollywood icon who defies expectations and societal norms to pursue her dreams. Reids compelling storytelling and compelling characters transport readers to a bygone era, immersing them in a world of glamour, ambition, and self-discovery. Tourism Environment And Ecology In The Mediterranean Region : Delia Owens "Where the Crawdads Sing" This evocative coming-of-age story follows Kya Clark, a young woman who grows up alone in the marshes of North Carolina. Owens spins a tale of resilience, survival, and the transformative power of nature, captivating readers with its evocative prose and mesmerizing setting. These popular novels represent just a fraction of the literary treasures that have emerged in 2023. Whether you seek tales of romance, adventure, or personal growth, the world of literature offers an abundance of compelling stories waiting to be discovered. The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a masterful and suspenseful novel that will keep you guessing until the very end. The novel is a warning tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
