Pickens, 2014-02-05 In the increasingly multi racial and multi ethnic American landscape of the present understanding and bridging dynamic cross cultural conversations about social and political concerns becomes a complicated humanistic project How do everyday embodied experiences transform from being anecdotal to having social and political significance What can the experience of corporeality offer social and political discourse And how does that discourse change when those bodies belong to Arab Americans and African Americans Ther A Pickens discusses a range of literary cultural and archival material where narratives emphasize embodied experience to examine how these experiences constitute Arab Americans and African Americans as social and political subjects Pickens argues that Arab American and African American narratives rely on the body s fragility rather than its exceptional strength or emotion to create urgent social and political critiques The creators of these narratives find potential in mundane experiences such as breathing touch illness pain and death Each chapter in this book focuses on one of these everyday embodied experiences and examines how authors mobilize that fragility to create social and political commentary Pickens discusses how the authors focus on quotidian experiences complicates their critiques of the nation state domestic and international politics exile cultural mores and the medical establishment New Body Politics participates in a vibrant interdisciplinary conversation about cross ethnic studies American literature and Arab American literature Using intercultural analysis Pickens explores issues of the body and representation that will be relevant to fields as varied as Political Science African American Studies Arab American Studies and Disability Studies

The Atheist Muslim Ali A. Rizvi, 2016-11-22 In much of the Muslim world religion is the central foundation upon which family community morality and identity are built The inextricable embedment of religion in Muslim culture has forced a new generation of non believing Muslims to face the heavy costs of abandoning their parents religion disowned by their families marginalized from their communities imprisoned or even sentenced to death by their governments Struggling to reconcile the Muslim society he was living in as a scientist and physician and the religion he was being raised in Ali A Rizvi eventually loses his faith Discovering that he is not alone he moves to North America and promises to use his new freedom of speech to represent the voices that are usually quashed before reaching the mainstream media the Atheist Muslim In The Atheist Muslim we follow Rizvi as he finds himself caught between two narrative voices he cannot relate to extreme Islam and anti Muslim bigotry in a post 9 11 world The Atheist Muslim recounts the journey that allows Rizvi to criticize Islam as one should be able to criticize any set of ideas without demonizing his entire people Emotionally and intellectually compelling his personal story outlines the challenges of modern Islam and the factors that could help lead it toward a substantive progressive reformation

Comprising seven different chapters the collection Men in Color attempts to analyze and revisit the representation of ethnic masculinities both white and non white in and through contemporary U S literature and cinema If most of the existing studies on masculinity and race have centered on one specific model of racialized masculinities Men in Color attempts to provide an introductory perspective on different racialized masculinities simultaneously including African American Asian American Chicano Arab American and also white masculinity which is analyzed as another ethnic and gendered construct rather than as a paradigm of normalcy and universality By exploring several ethnic masculinities in relation to each other the present volume aims to highlight both the differences and the similarities between different patterns of masculinity showing how even as gender is inflected by race certain aspects or features of masculinity remain unchanged across the ethnic board Ultimately the volume as a whole illustrates both the changing nature of masculinities as well as the recurrence of certain stereotypes such as the hypersexualization and or the feminization of ethnic males which recur in and across several ethnicities The constant tension and intersection between gender and race is the subject of this book which hopes to contribute some notes and reflections on ethnic masculinities to the much more complex and larger discussion about gender and racial identities in our increasingly multicultural and globalized 21st century world
