Libraries are no longer only repositories of books but information-rich sources of business and economic data. The case studies presented within this book highlight a variety of examples on entrepreneurship education and local economic development. The examples presented serve as a catalyst for further entrepreneurial endeavours and highlight the growing need for effective value-added support in finding business information. Business librarians play a critical role in promoting the effective use of business information and in providing significant value-added services within university and community settings. This book was published as a special double issue of the Journal of Business Finance Librarianship. Wiley Pathways E-Business Greg Holden, Shannon Belew, Joel Elad, Jason R.
