Timetables of History for Students of Methodism Rex D. Matthews, 2007-06-01 Winner of the 2007 Saddlebag Selection Award from the Historical Society of The United Methodist Church as the best book published during the year on the history biography polity or theology of United Methodism or its predecessors Understanding history rests largely on a grasp of two things sequence and context Know which events came earlier and which later and you've gone a long way toward understanding influence and causation Know what was going on in the wider world at the same time a historical event occurred and you'll better grasp the meaning and significance of that event for the people who experienced it Yet even with the best history textbooks students have difficulty in gaining an immediate sense of sequence and context Hence the purpose of this book To lay out the most important events in the history of the Wesleyan Methodist movement to show them in their proper order and to include the most important occurrences taking place on the national and international stages at the same time Matthews presents his material in an easy to comprehend and visually appealing layout enumerating the major trends and developments in Methodist history from 1700 to 2004 Rex D Matthews is Assistant Professor in the Practice of Historical Theology at Candler School of Theology Emory University Atlanta Georgia He currently serves as co chair of the Wesleyan Studies Group of the American Academy of Religion as General Editor of the Kingswood Books series and as Managing Editor of the new electronic academic journal Methodist Review An excerpt from the Circuit Rider review This is a book for college and seminary professors for high school teachers of religion for Sunday School teachers of children youth and adults It is a book for preachers and church musicians It should be in every church library This is a book for people who think history is boring as well as for those who delight in rich historical detail and story It is a book to be savored and returned to again and again And this is a book for all who love the church and yearn to be part of perfecting its mission and its life Click here to read the entire review that represents a life's work she revisits her theme of the connection among family, community and government and offers enriching perspectives and advice on how to fuel the process of peace. Boulding examines structural violence in terms of the major institutional obstacles to a more peaceful future, the tension between the states and the people trapped inside them, the tension between the techno-sphere and the biosphere and between global systems and local know-how. She describes social movements around the world that are developing alternative ways of handling the great diversity of human biospheric needs on the planet. In addition, Boulding brings together her experiences to empower the peace-building activities if we are to do better in the twenty-first century than we have done in the twentieth century. A Publication of The eBook Insider Series Monster of God: The Man-Eating Predator in the Jungles of History and the Mind David Quammen, 2004-09-17 Rich detail and vivid anecdotes of adventure. A treasure trove of exotic fact and hard thinking. New York Times Book Review For millennia, lions, tigers, and their man-eating kin have kept our dark, scary forests dark and scary, and their predatory majesty has been the stuff of folklore. But by the year 2150, big predators may only exist on the other side of glass barriers and chain-link fences. Their gradual disappearance is changing the very nature of our existence. We no longer occupy an intermediate position on the food chain; instead, we survey it invulnerably from above, so far above that we are in danger of forgetting that we even belong to an ecosystem. Casting his expert eye over the rapidly diminishing areas of wilderness where predators still reign, the award-winning author of The Song of the Dodo and The Tangled Tree examines the fate of lions in India's Gir forest, of saltwater crocodiles in northern Australia, of brown bears in the mountains of Romania, and of Siberian tigers in the Russian Far East. In the poignant and troublesome ferocity of these embattled creatures we recognize something primeval deep within us something in danger of vanishing forever The Warmest Room in the House Steven Gdula, 2008-12-04 The first book that puts the hearth of the American home its many unique challenges and innovations in its proper place in contemporary history Thomas Jefferson once wrote that if you really want to understand the workings of a society you have to look into their pots and eat their bread Steven Gdula gives us a view of American culture from the most popular room in the house the kitchen Examining the relationship between trends and innovations in the kitchen and the cultural attitudes beyond its four walls Gdula creates a lively portrait of the last hundred years of American domestic life The Warmest Room in the House explores food trends and technology kitchen design appliances and furniture china and flatware cookery bookery food lit and much more Gdula traces the evolution of the kitchen from the back room where the work of the home happened to its place at the center of family life and entertainment today Filled with fun facts about food trends from Hamburger Helper to The Moosewood Cookbook and food personalities from Julia Child to Rachael Ray The Warmest Room in the House is the perfect addition to any well rounded kitchen larder
