The Novel and the Multispecies Soundscape Ben De Bruyn, 2020-05-23 The contemporary novel is not as silent as we tend to believe nor does it only attend to human plots and characters As this book shows writers in a range of subgenres have devoted considerable attention to the voices of nonhuman animals and to the histories and technologies of listening that shape twenty first century cultures and environments In doing so their multispecies novels illuminate the cultural meanings we attach to creatures like dogs frogs whales chimpanzees and Tasmanian tigers not to mention various bird species and even plants At the same time these stories explore the attitudes of distinct communities of human listeners ranging from vets and musicians to chimp caretakers and sonar technicians In highlighting animal sounds and their cultural meanings these novels by authors including Amitav Ghosh Julia Leigh Richard Powers Karen Joy Fowler Cormac McCarthy and Han Kang also enrich pressing debates about species extinction sound pollution nonhuman communication and human animal relations As we are violently reshaping the planet they invite us to reimagine our own humanity and animality and to rethink how we tell stories about multispecies contact zones and their complex soundscapes

Novel Creatures Hilary Thompson, 2018-05-03 Novel Creatures takes a close look at the expanding interest in animals in modern fiction and argues that the novels of this time reveal a dramatic shift in conceptions of creatureliness Scholars have turned to the term creaturely recently to describe shared aspects of human and animal experience thus moving beyond work that primarily attends to distinctions between the human and the animal Carrying forward this recent scholarship Novel Creatures argues that creatureliness has been an intensely millennial preoccupation but in two contrasting forms one leading up to the turn of the century the other after the tragic events of 9 11 and lions that make prey of humans are commonly known as man eaters Anthropologist Nayanika Mathur reconceptualizes them as cats that have gone off the straight path to become crooked Building upon fifteen years of research in India this groundbreaking work moves beyond both colonial and conservationist accounts to place crooked cats at the center of the question of how we are to comprehend a planet in crisis There are many theories on why and how a big cat comes to prey on humans with the ecological collapse emerging as a central explanatory factor Yet uncertainty over the precise cause of crookedness persists Crooked Cats explores in vivid detail the many lived complexities that arise from this absence of certain knowledge to offer startling new insights into both the governance of nonhuman animals and their intimate entanglements with humans Through creative ethnographic storytelling Crooked Cats illuminates the Anthropocene in three critical ways as method as a way of reframing human nonhuman relations on the planet and as a political tool indicating the urgency of academic engagement Weaving together beastly tales spun from encounters with big cats Mathur deepens our understanding of the causes consequences and conceptualization of the climate crisis Vulnerable Earth Pramod K.
