

EURO-MEDITERRANEAN INTEGRATION AND COOPERATION: PROSPECTS AND CHALLENGES

Katia Adamo and Paolo Garonna ^{}

INTRODUCTION: THE MEDITERRANEAN, A REGION AT THE CROSSROADS OF THREE CONTINENTS

Europe and the Mediterranean countries are bound by history, geography and culture. At the crossroads of the European, African and Asian continents, the Mediterranean region^{} presents political and economic challenges that have recently re-launched the debate on Euro-Mediterranean integration and cooperation.

The 26 littoral States share geographical features and a past that has been shaped by some of the greatest civilisations of the world. Despite such elements of unity, the Mare Nostrum has remained divided along two main fractures: "north-south" and "east-west".

Global interdependence has not yet reached all Mediterranean States. While the northern shore enjoys strengthened political and economic integration, deep divisions characterize the relations of southern states. Democratic and rich, the north contrasts with the poverty and political turmoil of the south. The southern region is also plagued by a lack of infrastructure, a poorly-educated workforce and high unemployment. International and internal migration, terrorism, money laundering, organized crime, environmental degradation and human trafficking are but a few of the problems of the region. These impediments to the region's security and economic growth can neither be confronted independently nor be viewed in isolation from one another. Regional political cooperation failures have been attributed to non-convergent national interests, conflict in the Middle East and various geopolitical factors. Sector-based co-operation and integration, however, provides an opportunity to strengthen the economic governance of the entire region.

^{} Katia Adamo is Fellow at Special Representative's Secretary-General of the Italian Parliamentary Assembly of the Mediterranean (PAM) Paolo Garonna is Deputy Executive Secretary of UNICEF. This paper has been written on the basis of Mr Garonna's presentation on "Economic Prospects and Challenges for Euro-Mediterranean Economic Cooperation" held in his capacity as representative of UNICEF at special two-day panel at the meeting of the PAM Standing Committee for Economic, Social and Environmental Cooperation in Malta, 13-14 March 2008.

^{} Hereafter, the term littoral states refers to the 26 countries on the Mediterranean coast that is under international law: Albania, Algeria, Armenia, Azerbaijan, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Croatia, Cyprus, Egypt, France, Georgia, Italy, Jordan, Lebanon, Libya, Malta, Monaco, Morocco, Montenegro, Norway, Occupied Palestinian Territory, Portugal, Romania, Russia, Serbia, Slovakia, Spain, Syria, Turkey, Republic of Moldova, Republic of Macedonia, Tunisia and Turkey. The rest of the world is excluded from this region for historical, political and strategic reasons.
