Nomura, Yashodhan Ghorpade, 2020-03-06 Countries that have sustained rapid growth over decades have typically had a strong public commitment to expanding education as well as to improving learning outcomes South Asian countries have made considerable progress in expanding access to primary and secondary schooling with countries having achieved near universal enrollment of the primary school age cohort ages 6 11 except for Afghanistan and Pakistan Secondary enrollment shows an upward trend as well Beyond school many more people have access to skilling opportunities and higher education today Although governments have consistently pursued policies to expand access a prominent feature of the region has been the role played by nonstate actors private nonprofit and forprofit entities in expanding access at every level of education Though learning levels remain low countries in the region have shown a strong commitment to improving learning All countries in South Asia have taken the first step which is to assess learning outcomes regularly Since 2010 there has been a rapid increase in the number of large scale student learning assessments conducted in the region But to use the findings of these assessments to improve schooling countries must build their capacity to design assessments and analyze and use findings to inform policy Rivista Rassegna di Psicologia vol 3 - 2016 Autori Vari, 2016-12-30 PSYCHOMETRIC

Unplanned Visitors Olivier Vallerand, 2022-03-30 Sexuality and gender have long been influential in understanding the construction of domestic space its meanings often revealing a binary division of private and public female and male By reconstructing the foundation of queer critiques of space and by analyzing the representation of domesticity in contemporary art and architecture Unplanned Visitors shows the blurring of private and public that can occur in any domestic space and explores the potential of queer theory for understanding and designing the built environment Olivier Vallerand investigates how queer critiques building on pioneering feminist work question the relation between identity and architecture and highlight normative constructs underlying domestic spaces He draws out a genealogy of queer space in theoretical discourse in architecture studying projects by Mark Robbins Joel Sanders J Mayer H Elmgreen Dragset Andr s Jaque and MYCKET among others These works blur the traditional borders between architecture and art to emphasize the tensions between private and public and their impact on assumptions about domestic space and family structure The challenges in moving from experimental installations to built environments suggest how designers must acknowledge and respond to the social contexts that shape architecture rethinking how domestic spaces can be designed to allow everyone to better manage the expression of their self identification through their living environments Unplanned Visitors poses a challenge to traditional architectural theory and history but also suggests a renewed and more inclusive ethics whereby designers explicitly address social and political power structures The potential of a queer approach to architectural design history theory and education is precisely to enact a method that creates more inclusive buildings and safer neighbourhoods for everyone
