Janet Frame in Focus Josephine A. McQuail, 2018-01-26 New Zealand author Janet Frame 1924 2004 during her lifetime published 11 novels three collections of short stories a volume of poetry and a children s book The details of her life her tragic early years her confinement in a psychiatric hospital and her miraculous reprieve overshadow her work and she remains largely neglected by scholars These essays focus on Frame s autobiography short stories and novels Contributors from around the world explore a range of topics including her mother s Christadelphian faith her relationships with two 20th century icons William Theophilus Brown and John Money and a view of Frame in the context of trauma studies Two of the essays were presented at the 2014 Northeast Modern Language Association convention

Frameworks Jan S.

Cronin, Simone Drichel, 2009 This collection of essays draws on critical frameworks to explore fresh ways of looking at Frame s fiction poetry and autobiography At the same time the essays plug into the energy of Frame s work to challenge our thinking within and beyond these frameworks Frameworks offers a perspective on Frame studies today showcasing its major concerns as well as heralding new narratives for the decade ahead Mindful of preceding Frame criticism these essays use their contemporary vantage point to recast seminal questions about the relationship between Janet Frame s work and its critical contexts

Shrinking Violets Joe Moran, 2017-02-21 The author of Armchair Nation and On Roads examines shyness in a sparkling cultural history ranging from Jane Austen to Silicon Valley The Guardian Shyness is a pervasive human trait

even most extroverts know what it is like to stand tongue tied at the fringe of an unfamiliar group or flush with embarrassment at being the unwelcome center of attention And yet the cultural history of shyness has remained largely unwritten until now With incisiveness passion and humor Joe Moran offers an eclectic and original exploration of what it means to be a shrinking violet Along the way he provides a collective biography of shyness through portraits of such shy individuals as Charles Darwin Charles Schulz Garrison Keillor and Agatha Christie among many others In their stories often both heartbreaking and inspiring and through the myriad ways scientists and thinkers have tried to explain and cure shyness Moran finds hope To be shy he decides is not simply a burden it is also a gift a different way of seeing the world that can be both enriching and inspiring Fantastic and involving A feat of empathy Every page radiates understanding every paragraph its shy author's gentle wit The Observer Whether you're boldly outgoing or reticent and self-effacing you'll find something to inspire inform or surprise in this thoughtful beautifully written and vividly detailed cultural history Susan Cain New York Times bestselling author of Quiet Janet Frame in Her Own Words Janet Frame, 2011-10-31 It is the desire really to make myself a first person For many years I was a third person as children are they she and as probably oppressed minorities become they Janet Frame radio interview about writing her autobiography 1983 For the first time ever this collection brings together Janet Frame's published short non-fiction in one collected volume as well as material never seen before Letters spanning 50 years of Frame's life are published alongside essays reviews speeches and extracts from interviews This startling collection provides an unprecedented range of factual writings about herself her life and her work It reveals many aspects Janet Frame's character that will challenge some long-standing myths and preconceptions about New Zealand's most famous author

Social Practices Chris Kraus, 2018-12-11 Essays on and around art and art practices by the author of I Love Dick A border isn't a metaphor Knowing each other for over a decade makes us witnesses to each other's lives My escape is his prison We meet in a bar and smoke Marlboros from Social Practices Mixing biography autobiography fiction criticism and conversations among friends with Social Practices Chris Kraus continues the anthropological exploration of artistic lives and the art world begun in 2004 with Video Green Los Angeles Art and the Triumph of Nothingness Social Practices includes writings from and around the legendary Chance Event Three Days in the Desert with Jean Baudrillard 1996 and Radical Localism an exhibition of art and media from Puerto Nuevo's Mexicali Rose that Kraus co-organized with Marco Vera and Richard Birkett in 2012 Attuned to the odd and the anomalous Kraus profiles Elias Fontes an Imperial Valley hay merchant who has become an important collector of contemporary Mexican art and chronicles the demise of a rural convenience store in northern Minnesota She considers the work of such major contemporary artists as Jason Rhoades Channa Horowitz Simon Denny Yayoi Kusama Henry Taylor Julie Becker Ryan McGinley and Leigh Ledare Although Kraus casts a skeptical eye at the genre that's come to be known as social practice her book is less a critique than a proposition as to how art might be read through desire and circumstance delirium gossip coincidence and revenge All art she implies is a social practice The Lost Child in Literature and Culture Mark Froud, 2017-10-18 This book is an extensive study of the figure of the lost child in English speaking and European literature and culture It argues that the lost child figure is of profound importance for our society a symptom as well as a cause of deep trauma This trauma or void is a fundamental disruption of the structures that define us self history and even language This puts the figure of the child in context with previous research that the modern conception of a child was formed alongside modern conceptions of memory The book analyses the representation of the lost child through fairy tales historical oppression and in recent novels and films The book then studies the connection of the lost child figure with the uncanny and its centrality to language The book considers the lost child figure as an archetype on a metaphysical and philosophical level as well as cultural Antipodean Childhoods Helga Ramsey-Kurz, Ulla Ratheiser, 2020-05-15 Though obvious the productiveness of combining the three concepts of childhood otherness and the postcolonial has not inspired much academic inquiry so far The essays assembled in this book make up for this omission and address aspects of growing up in Australia and New Zealand from various angles They base their argument on the premise that whether in settler migrant or indigenous communities children tend to be ascribed a space of their own mostly outside but never independent of that of adults How adults configure this space both practically and imaginatively for instance in the arts in adult and children s literature in film and photography or in historical documents is one of the questions answered in the process How these configurations have developed with time and under the influence of specific historical circumstances is another Thus the individual papers are more than a contribution to the current re discovery of the theme of childhood in European cultures in that Antipodean Childhoods remains centrally concerned with the cultural specificity of childhoods lived in Australia and New Zealand and with the theoretical relevance of this specificity to postcolonial literary cultural and historical studies Chasing Butterflies Vanessa Guignery, 2011 In 1951 Janet Frame published her first book The Lagoon and Other Stories a collection which would win the most prestigious national literary award in New Zealand and launch her fascinating career The essays collected in this volume examine the motifs at work in Frame s short stories and unravel a unique literary world which revisits the realist tradition and grants prose a poetic dimension As much a reflexion about language voice modes of writing and narrative strategies as an analysis of Frame s recurrent concerns with identity childhood relationships between mothers and daughters secrecy marginality community or death Chasing Butterflies is a great tribute to one of the most famous New Zealand writers Metafiction and the Postwar Novel Andrew Dean, 2021-04-01 Metafiction and the Postwar Novel is a full length reassessment of one of the definitive literary forms of the postwar period sometimes known as postmodern metafiction In the place of large scale theorizing this book centres on the intimacies of writing situations metafiction as it responds to readers literary reception and earlier works in a career The emergence of archival materials and posthumously published works helps to bring into view the stakes of different moments of writing It develops new terms for discussing literary self reflexivity derived from a reading of Don Quixote and its reception by J L Borges the self of writing and the public author as signature Across three comprehensive chapters Metafiction and Postwar Fiction shows how some of the most highly regarded postwar writers were motivated to incorporate reflexive elements into their writing and to what ends The first chapter on South African novelist J M Coetzee shows with a new clarity how his fictions drew from and relativized academic literary theory and the conditions of writing in apartheid South Africa The second chapter on New Zealand writer Janet Frame draws widely from her fictions autobiographies and posthumously published materials It demonstrates the terms in which her writing addresses a readership seemingly convinced that her work expressed the interior experience of madness The final chapter on American writer Philip Roth shows how his early reception led to his later and often explosive reconsiderations of identity and literary value in postwar America

Life Writing and the End of Empire Emma Parker,2024-03-21 The dismantlement of the British Empire had a profound impact on many celebrated white Anglophone writers of the twentieth century particularly those who were raised in former British colonial territories and returned to the metropole after the Second World War Formal decolonisation meant that these authors were unable to go home to their colonial childhoods a historical juncture with profound consequences for how they wrote and recorded their own lives Moving beyond previous discussions of imperial and colonial nostalgia Life Writing and the End of Empire is the first critical study of white memoirists and autobiographers who rewrote their memories of empire across numerous life narratives By focussing on these processual homecomings Emma Parker s study asks what it means to be at home in memories of empire whether in the settler farms of Southern Rhodesia or amidst the neon lights of Shanghai s International Settlement These discussions trace the legacies of empire to the habitations and detritus of everyday life from mansions and modest railway huts to empty swimming pools heirlooms and photograph albums Exploring works by Penelope Lively J G Ballard Doris Lessing and Janet Frame this study establishes new connections between authors usually discussed for their fiction and who have been hitherto unrecognised as post imperial life writers Offering close sustained analysis of autobiographies memoirs travel narratives and autofictions and identifying new subgenres such as speculative life writing this book advances rich new readings of autobiographical narrative By tracing the continuing importance of colonialism to white subjectivity the role of imperial memory in Britain and the ways that these unsettling forces move beneath the surface of modern and contemporary literature this study offers new conceptual insights to the fields of life writing and postcolonial studies

A Collection Of Essays Christina Christodoulou,2012-02-27

Status, Power and Ritual Interaction Theodore D. Kemper,2016-04-01 Sociologists mile Durkheim Erving Goffman and Randall Collins broadly suppose that ritual is foundational for social life By contrast this book argues that ritual is merely surface beneath which lie status and power the behavioral dimensions that drive all social interaction Status Power and Ritual Interaction identifies status and power as the twin forces that structure social relations determine emotions and link individuals to the reference groups that deliver culture and administer preferences actions beliefs and ideas An especially important contention is that allegiance to ideas even those as fundamental as the belief that 1 1 2 is primarily faithfulness to the reference groups that foster the ideas and not to the ideas themselves This triggers the counter intuitive deduction that the self a concept many sociologists social psychologists and therapists prize so highly is feckless and irrelevant Status power theory leads also to derivations about motivation play humor sacred symbols social bonding creative thought love and sex and other social involvements now either obscure or misunderstood Engaging with Durkheim on collective effervescence Goffman on ritual cum public order and Collins on interaction ritual this book is richly illustrated with instances of how to examine many central questions about society and social interaction from the status power perspective It speaks not only to sociologists but also to anthropologists behavioral economists and social and clinical psychologists to all disciplines that examine or treat of social life

A History of New Zealand Literature Mark Williams,2016-04-19 A History of New Zealand Literature traces the genealogy of New Zealand literature from its first imaginings by Europeans in the eighteenth century Beginning with a comprehensive introduction that charts the growth of and challenges to a nationalist literary tradition the essays in this History illuminate the cultural and political intricacies of New Zealand literature surveying the multilayered verse fiction and drama of such diverse writers as Katherine Mansfield Allen Curnow Frank Sargeson Janet Frame Keri Hulme Witi Ihimaera and Patricia Grace Written by a host of leading scholars this History devotes special attention to the lasting significance of colonialism biculturalism and multiculturalism in New Zealand literature A History of New Zealand Literature is of pivotal importance to the development of New Zealand writing and will serve as an invaluable reference for specialists and students alike

Crowded House's Together Alone Barnaby Smith,2025-05-15 Intertextual passionate and personal throughout Crowded House s Together Alone is a key addition to the surprisingly limited range of scholarship on one of Australasia s most successful and adored bands Fusing pop music with place and landscape Crowded House s Together Alone 1993 was unprecedented in its Australasian context and in the process of making this album the group s sound transformed profoundly Crowded House s Together Alone examines why Neil Finn took the daring decision to record amid the wilds of Karekare Beach West Auckland considers how British producer Youth impacted the band s dynamics and places the album within a wider artistic context expanding beyond pop The book also recounts author Barnaby Smith s visit to Karekare on the trail of Together Alone s atmospheric melancholy a psychogeographic adventure exploring what it means to visit a landscape under the spell of the music it has inspired A song by song analysis further explores the fragile alchemy that produced the most poetic statement in the Crowded House catalogue

Migration and Mental Health Marjory Harper,2016-06-17 The relationship between migration and mental health is controversial contested and pertinent In a highly mobile world where voluntary and enforced movements of population are increasing and likely to continue to grow that relationship needs to be better understood yet the terminology is often vague and the issues are wide ranging Getting to grips with them requires tools drawn from different disciplines and professions Such a multidisciplinary approach is central to this book Six historical studies are integrated with chapters by a theologian geographer anthropologist social worker and psychiatrist to produce an evaluation that addresses key concepts and methodologies and reflects practical involvement as well as academic scholarship Ranging from the mid nineteenth century to the present the book explores the causes of mental breakdown among migrants the psychological changes stemming from their struggles with challenging life circumstances and changes in medical political and public attitudes and responses in different eras and locations

Explorations and Extrapolations Alexander Brock,Uwe K  chler,2011 This volume continues the tradition in the series Hallenser Studien zur Anglistik und Amerikanistik of representing the full thematic diversity of research in English and American studies The articles mainly written by young researchers in their postgraduate or postdoctoral phases span the areas of English and American literature culture studies and linguistics as well as the teaching of English as a foreign language Fachdidaktik At the same time they represent various theoretical approaches adopted by young German researchers and the interplay of theoretical and applied issues
