The Tiger Facs A Dance With The Devil:

The Tiger FACS Donald Bell and the Tiger Facs, 2014-03-13 They were the Tiger FACS the forward air controllers who flew fast moving F 4E Phantoms over the deadly skies of Laos and North Vietnam in an air war that history forgot to mention These are their stories in their own words of missions in AAA filled skies with supersonic angels as their wingmen They challenged the enemy down in the weeds eyeball to eyeball cutting the supply lines that plunged through the mountains and karst formations of Laos on their way to South Vietnam The mission required flying sorties up to six hours long with four to six air to air refuelings It demanded extraordinary teamwork and bravery and this small group of men paid the price suffering up to eighty percent of the combat damage of a seventy two aircraft wing Their stories are often irreverent and far from today's political correctness yet they are filled with the reality of war The Tiger FACS will take you back to experience the days and nights of these fighter crews at Korat Air Base in Thailand It is a recantation of the life and times of the men who chose to fly and fight and while you won't experience battle damage you will feel what they lived and know without doubt that you are on their wing

Eagles Overhead Matt Dietz, 2023-02-15 US Air Force Forward Air Controllers FACS bridge the gap between air and land power They operate in the grey area of the battlefield serving as an aircrew who flies above the battlefield spots the enemy and relays targeting information to control close air support attacks by other faster aircraft When done well Air Force FACS are the fulcrum for successful employment of air power in support of ground forces Unfortunately FACS in recent times have been shunned by both ground and air forces their mission complicated by inherent difficulty and danger as well as by the vicissitudes of defense budgets technology leadership bureaucracy and doctrine Eagles Overhead is the first complete historical survey of the US Air Force FAC program from its origins in World War I to the modern battlefield Matt Dietz examines their role status and performance in every US Air Force air campaign from the Marne in 1918 World War II Korea Vietnam Desert Storm and finally Mosul in 2017 With the remaking of the post Vietnam US military and the impact of those changes on FAC the Air Force began a steady neglect of the FAC mission from Operation Desert Storm through the force reductions after the Soviet Union's collapse and into the post 9 11 wars in Iraq and Afghanistan Eagles Overhead asks why FACS have not been heavily used on US battlefields since 2001 despite their warfighting importance Dietz examines the Air Force FAC's theoretical doctrinal institutional and historical frameworks to assess if the nature of air warfare has changed so significantly that the concept and utility of the FAC has been left behind From these examinations Eagles Overhead draws conclusions about the potential future of Air Force FACS
