The Time of Our Lives David Couzens Hoy, 2012-01-13 A study of the emergence in post Kantian continental philosophy of a focus on the lived experience of temporality The project of all philosophy may be to gain reconciliation with time even if not every philosopher has dealt with time expressly A confrontation with the passing of time and with human finitude runs through the history of philosophy as an ultimate concern In this genealogy of the concept of temporality David Hoy examines the emergence in a post Kantian continental philosophy of a focus on the lived experience of the time of our lives rather than on the time of the universe The purpose is to see how phenomenological and poststructuralist philosophers have tried to locate the source of temporality how they have analyzed time s passing and how they have depicted our relation to time once it has been in a Proustian sense regained Hoy engages with competing theoretical tactics for reconciling us to our fleeting temporality drawing on work by Kant Heidegger Hegel Husserl Merleau Ponty Nietzsche Gadamer Sartre Bourdieu Foucault Bergson Deleuze i ek and Derrida Hoy considers four existential strategies for coping with the apparent flow of temporality including Proust s passive and Walter Benjamin s active reconciliation through memory i ek s critique of poststructuralist politics Foucault s confrontation with the temporality of power and Deleuze s account of Aion and Chronos He concludes by exploring whether a dual temporalization could be what constitutes the singular time of our lives Heidegger's Alternative

History of Time Emily Hughes, Marilyn Stendera, 2024-04-02 This book reconstructs Heidegger s philosophy of time by reading his work with and against a series of key interlocutors that he nominates as being central to his own critical history of time In doing so it explains what makes time of such significance for Heidegger and argues that Heidegger can contribute to contemporary debates in the philosophy of time Time is a central concern for Heidegger yet his thinking on the subject is fragmented making it difficult to grasp its depth complexity and promise Heidegger traces out a history that focuses on the conceptualisations of time put forward by Aristotle Plotinus Augustine Kant Hegel Bergson and Husserl an alternative history of time that challenges how time has been defined and studied within both philosophy and the sciences This book explores what happens when we take seriously Heidegger s claim that these seven figures are essential to any understanding of time setting out what this can tell us about existence possibility and philosophy as a historical discipline Heidegger s Alternative History of Time will appeal to scholars and advanced students working on Heidegger phenomenology the philosophy of time and the history of philosophy

Decolonisation and Legal Knowledge Folúké Adébisí, 2024-04-09 The law is heavily implicated in creating maintaining and reproducing racialised hierarchies which bring about and preserve acute global disparities and injustices This essential book provides an examination of the meanings of decolonisation and explores how this examination can inform teaching researching and practising of law It explores the ways in which the foundations of law are entangled in colonial thought and in its re production of ideas of commodification of bodies and space time Thus it is an exploration of the ways in which we can use theories and praxes of decolonisation to produce legal knowledge for flourishing

Dispossession Vladimir Biti,2017-10-02 With the Treaty of Versailles the Western nation state powers introduced into the East Central European region the principle of national self determination This principle was buttressed by frustrated native elites who regarded the establishment of their respective nation states as a welcome opportunity for their own affirmation They desired sovereignty but were prevented from accomplishing it by their multiple dispossession National elites started to blame each other for this humiliating condition The successor states were dispossessed of power territories and glory The new nation states were frustrated by their devastating condition The dispersed Jews were left without the imperial protection This embarrassing state gave rise to collective historical and individual fictional narratives of dispossession This volume investigates their intended and unintended interaction Contributors are Davor Beganovi Vladimir Biti Zrinka Bo i Blanu a Marko Juvan Bernarda Katu i Nata a Kova evi Petr Ku era Aleksandar Mijatovi Guido Snel and Stijn Vervaet Heritage Ecologies Torgeir Rinke Bangstad,Þóra Pétursdóttir,2021-08-23 Heritage Ecologies presents an ecological understanding of heritage that furthers a concern for how its making and unmaking always involves a wide range of human and other than human actors Recognizing the entangled nature cultures of heritage is essential in the Anthropocene era where uncertainty and rapid environmental change force us to recast common conceptions of inheritance and to envision new strategies for preservation Heritage sites are meant to be open and shared spaces and a recurring argument in the cases presented here is that this openness inevitably also overrides our selections orders and appreciations Through a diverse range of case studies the chapters collected in this book aim to explore the affects and memories engendered by diverse heritage ecologies where humans are neither the sole makers nor the only inheritors The common call is that the experiential perceptive and informational plenitude enabled through contributions of other than human actors is key to an ecological rethinking of heritage in the twenty first century Heritage Ecologies is unique in bringing heritage studies into closer proximity with a wide variety of non representational and object oriented theories and is an important volume for students and researchers in archaeology and heritage studies      Tranquility David W. Henderson, 2015-09-01 There's never enough time. So we try to cram as much as possible into what little time we have. Work, friends, play, rest. But what if? How do I fit it all in? Isn't the right question? Scripture has a lot to say about time. Taking a cue from Ecclesiastes: Better one handful with tranquility than two handfuls with toil and chasing after the wind and drawing on everything from Augustine's Confessions to conversations with air traffic controllers. David W. Henderson encourages us to move beyond merely trying to open up a bit of margin or to say no once in a while and to take a purposeful step back from our lives to examine those internal and external dynamics that propel us into busyness and hurry. Sharing honest stories about his own struggles with busyness, he helps readers explore the way the Scriptures frame our time, understanding the times, making the most of the time, and trusting God with the rest. For anyone who is tired of feeling the push and pull of our time-bent culture, this book will be a welcome invitation to rest and to live artful and faithful lives marked by peace and tranquility.

Body and Time Bianca Maria Pirani, Thomas S. Smith, 2014-10-02

Body and Time is an innovative and concise survey of penetrating essays conceptualizing the body as a physiological system embedded in a social network. In its complex and multilayered structure, it is aligned to and overlaps with other related functions. Contributors to this publication are members of the International Sociological Association Research Committee 54: The Body in the Social Sciences, and their contributions specifically refer to the RC54 Mid-Term Conference: The Mobile Interface and Social Change, held at Sapienza University of Rome on 6 December 2012. What distinguishes the architecture of the book is that collectively it constitutes a challenge to the digital media paradigm in which the body is treated simply as a two-dimensional icon of space and time, a relatively free form with all kinds of narratives generated by the multimedia. Order in sequence should indeed be the key phrase incorporating four incisive problems dealt with in the thirteen chapters forming the body of the book: identity, temporality, hierarchy, and territoriality. In short, the volume demonstrates how fundamentally different ways of experiencing time are also determined by the differing cultural use of bodily rhythms, a two-sided narration, namely of space and time. Central to the understanding of this interdependence is the study of interpersonal synchronization, increasing knowledge through the investigation of how rhythm, music, chants, dance, prayer, and other harmonizing practices support social integration. This book will attract wide interest, especially from students, researchers, and academics in the social sciences, neurosociology, digital studies, and further afield.

South African Writing in Transition Rita Barnard, Andrew van der Vlies, 2019-02-21

Bringing together leading and emerging scholars, this book asks the question: how has contemporary South African literature grappled with ideas of time and history during the political transition away from apartheid? Reading the work of major South African writers such as J. M. Coetzee, Nadine Gordimer, and Ivan Vladislavic, as well as contemporary crime fiction, South African Writing in Transition explores how concerns about time and temporality have shaped literary form across the country's literary culture. Establishing new connections between leading literary voices and lesser-known works, the book explores themes of truth and reconciliation.

disappointment and betrayal      Petersburg Fin de Siècle Mark D. Steinberg, 2011-11-29 The final decade of the old order in imperial Russia was a time of both crisis and possibility an uncertain time that inspired an often desperate search for meaning This book explores how journalists and other writers in St Petersburg described and interpreted the troubled years between the Russian revolutions of 1905 and 1917 Mark Steinberg distinguished historian of Russia in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries examines the work of writers of all kinds from anonymous journalists to well known public intellectuals from secular liberals to religious conservatives Though diverse in their perspectives these urban writers were remarkably consistent in the worries they expressed They grappled with the impact of technological and material progress on the one hand and with an ever deepening anxiety and pessimism on the other Steinberg reveals a new darker perspective on the history of St Petersburg on the eve of revolution and presents a fresh view of Russia's experience of modernity      Time for mapping Sybille Lammes, Chris Perkins, Alex Gekker, Sam Hind, Clancy Wilmott, Daniel Evans, 2018-06-29 Maps take place in time as well as representing space The Google map on your smartphone appears to fix the world serving as a practical spatial tool but in practice is deployed in ways that draw attention to memories rhythm synchronicity sequence and duration This interdisciplinary collection focuses on how these temporal aspects of mapping might be understood at a time when mapping technologies have been profoundly changed by digital developments It contrasts different aspects of this temporality bringing together experts from critical cartography media studies and science and technology studies Together the chapters offer a unique interdisciplinary focus revealing the complex and social ways in which time is wrapped up with digital technologies and revealed in everyday mapping tasks from navigating across cities to serving as scientific groundings for news stories from managing smart cities to visual art practice It brings time back into the map An electronic edition of this book is freely available under a Creative Commons CC BY NC ND licence      Trauma and the Ontology of the Modern Subject John L. Roberts, 2017-09-11 Recent scholarship has inquired into the socio historical discursive genesis of trauma Trauma and the Ontology of the Modern Subject however seeks what has not been actualized in trauma studies that is how the necessity and unassailable intensity of trauma is fastened to its historical emergence We must ask not only what trauma means for the individual person's biography but also what it means to be the historical subject of trauma In other words how does being human in this current period of history implicate one's lived possibilities that are threatened and perhaps framed through trauma Foucauldian sensibilities inform a critical and structural analysis that is hermeneutically grounded Drawing on the history of ideas and on Lacan's work in particular John L Roberts argues that what we mean by trauma has developed over time and that it is intimately tied with an ontology of the subject that is to say what it is to be and means to be human He argues that modern subjectivity as articulated by Heidegger Levinas and Lacan is structurally traumatic founded in its finitude as self withdrawal in time its temporal self absence becoming the very conditions for agency truth and knowledge The book also argues that this fractured temporal horizon as an effect of an interrupting Otherness or alterity is obscured through the discourses and technologies of the psy disciplines psychiatry psychology and psychotherapy Consideration is given to social political and economic consequences of this concealment Trauma and the Ontology of the Modern Subject will be of enduring interest to psychoanalysts and psychotherapists as well as scholars of philosophy and cultural studies

Historical trauma and memory Pumla Gobodo-Madikizela, Eric Ndushabandi, Kopano Ratele, 2021-12-06 How wounds from a previous generation may weigh on children and grandchildren contain much of interest Yet if we unpack the ghostly the eerie and the spectral in transgenerational hauntings if we allow for the suffering or the disturbed to forge social links such contacts may enable breaking into reconnections and afterlives One only needs to think of the near epidemic of rape in South Africa to sense violent hypermasculinity erupting as madness mediated by a history of brutal racialised reduction But it is also important to move beyond the brutalities and madness to consider the individual and collective refigurations surfacing out of layers of catastrophe Nancy Rose Hunt Conference Keynote Address Beyond Trauma Notes on a Word a Frame and a Diagnostic Category Historical Trauma and Memory Living with the Haunting Power of the Past is based on essays presented at a conference with the same name which was held in Kigali Rwanda in April 2019 The book gives readers front row seats as an interdisciplinary group of scholars from law psychology history the arts anthropology theology and philosophy address the complex matrix of the emotional legacies of historical trauma cultural legacies people interacting with their social and political environment and the interplay of these factors in different post conflict societies Time, Communication and Global Capitalism Wayne Hope, 2016-04-08 In this book Wayne Hope analyzes the double relation between time and global capitalism In order to do this he cross relates four epistemes of time epochality time reckoning temporality and coevalness with four materializations of time hegemony conflict crisis and rupture Using this framework allows Hope to argue that global capitalism is epochally distinctive riven by time conflicts prone to recurring crises and vulnerable to collective opposition These critical insights are not easily thematized in a mediated world of real time reflexivity detemporalized presentism and denials of coevalness associated with structural exclusions of the poor However the worldwide repercussions of the 2008 financial collapse and the resulting confluence of occupation movements riots protests strike activity and anti austerity activism raises the prospect of a rupture within and beyond global capitalism Beyond the Dynamical Universe Michael Silberstein, William Mark Stuckey, Timothy McDevitt, 2018 A novel approach to the unresolved issues of theoretical physics and the philosophy foundations of physics Naturally Late Will Johncock, 2019-04-15 Is time a natural reality that social symbols such as clocks and calendars merely contingently represent Lateness protocols seemingly exhibit such contingency for not all cultures regulate synchronization identically Just as social cultural time structures are interpreted to diverge from time s natural rhythm body modifications are often presented as social productions that divert human bodies from their naturally originated corporeal temporality A similar separation informs climate change discourses supposing a natural rhythm that industrialized culture has invaded the effects of which humans might be too late to arrest

Interrogating this conceptual separation matters given that if certain times are considered to be more natural than others a situated politics emerges regarding the associated cultural structures Furthermore our personal investments in experiences of lateness which are embedded within social time seemingly contradict the constructionist impression that social time is merely a contingent misrepresentation of what time actually is Through Derridian deconstruction Merleau Pontian phenomenology and Bergsonian time philosophy complemented with voices from fields including object oriented ontology new materialism and new criticism this book re evaluates the timing of times from a philosophical perspective
