The Triumph Of Emptiness:

The Triumph of Emptiness Mats Alvesson, 2022 This second edition updates Alvesson's significant critique of the economy of persuasion where organizations and groups assign resources to rhetoric image and reputation rather than production of goods and services It examines critical phenomena such as the knowledge society consumption higher education organizational change and leadership Alvesson, M. (2013). The Triumph of Emptiness. Oxford: Oxford University Press. 243 P. [Book Review] Ziva Kos Kecojevic, 2014 The Toxic University John Smyth, 2017-06-23 This book considers the detrimental changes that have occurred to the institution of the university as a result of the withdrawal of state funding and the imposition of neoliberal market reforms on higher education It argues that universities have lost their way and are currently drowning in an impenetrable mush of economic babble spurious spin offs of zombie economics management speak and militaristic corporate jargon John Smyth provides a trenchant and excoriating analysis of how universities have enveloped themselves in synthetic and meaningless marketing hype and explains what this has done to academic work and the culture of universities specifically how it has degraded higher education and exacerbated social inequalities among both staff and students Finally the book explores how we might commence a reclamation It should be essential reading for students and researchers in the fields of education and sociology and anyone interested in the current state of university management

The Breaths of a Soul Simone Malacrida, 2023-04-18 The central theme of Choice pervades a series of discourses that are timeless and not connected to precise spatial boundaries constituting a journey through the human soul that oscillates from its beginning to its end in similar comparisons and dialogic antitheses A single breath in which the existences of each of us are contained and which determines the very essence of life an allegorical inner journey to discover what we have always been Advanced Business Models in International Higher Education Jessica Lichy, 2015-09-18 The future of higher education depends on how managers respond to the challenge of rising costs changing labour markets and new technologies More people will follow some form of education programme in the next couple of decades than did previously in all of human history Most of the capacity to accommodate this demand will be created in the global online environment The shift in what is currently valued in higher education towards a knowledge based economy is driving the need for new business models As the pace of change accelerates education providers need to redefine their strategy for sustainable success This volume presents the thinking of leading higher education researchers and academics from IDRAC Business School and partner universities regarding the new stakeholders in higher education systems and structures and the kinds of business models which are needed in order to offer a sustainable value proposition The articles gathered together here provide an insight into changes taking place in higher education institutions HEIs and the responses to such change They underscore the belief that pervasive technology and ubiquitous Internet access have transformed higher education putting pressure on HEIs to review their traditional approach in order to deliver anywhere any time

HEIs have a critical role to play in society the onus is on managers to integrate a philosophy of employability to support small and medium sized enterprises to be smarter and to be more innovative as communities of learning Both the popular press and academics have initiated debate around the changes taking place and the effectiveness of current business models in higher education The weaknesses of the current system have been exposed and discussed at length the general consensus is that a rupture with the past is needed Now is the time for systemic change and development to prepare learners for the uncharted and uncertain world ahead

Empty Labor Roland Paulsen, 2014-08-14 While most people work ever longer hours international statistics suggest that the average time spent on non work activities per employee is around two hours a day How is this possible and what are the reasons behind employees withdrawing from work In this thought provoking book Roland Paulsen examines organizational misbehavior specifically the phenomenon of empty labor defined as the time during which employees engage in private activities during the working day This study explores a variety of explanations from under employment to workplace resistance Building on a rich selection of interview material and extensive empirical research it uses both qualitative and quantitative data to present a concrete analysis of the different ways empty labor unfolds in the modern workplace This book offers new perspectives on subjectivity rationality and work simulation and will be of particular interest to academic researchers and graduate students in organizational sociology organization studies and human resource management

Osip Mandelstam Ralph Dutli, 2023-05-30 This is the first full scale biography of Osip Mandelstam to combine an analysis of his poetry with a description of his personal life from his beginnings as a young intellectual in pre revolutionary Russia to his final fate as a victim of Stalinism The myth has grown up that Mandelstam was a gloomy miserable figure Dutli deconstructs this stressing Mandelstam s enjoyment of life There are several underlying themes here One is Mandelstam s Jewish background in pre 1914 Russia which he rejected as a young man but reaffirmed in later life Another is the inescapable impact of Russia s political and social transformation His evolution as a poet naturally occupies a large place in the biography which quotes many of his most famous poems including his devastating anti Stalin epigram He produced wonderful poetry before the October Revolution but did not reach his full poetic stature until the 1930s when in exile in Voronezh He was never an official Soviet poet and it was only thanks to the intervention of Bukharin that he was brought back from utter impoverishment The biography gives full weight to his emotional life beginning with his friendship with two other Russian poets Marina Tsvetaeva and Anna Akhmatova followed by love and marriage to Nadezhda Khazina One of the century s greatest lyric poets Elaine Feinstein Sunday Times Mandelstam s poems are both bold and delicate His imagery can seem both profoundly startling yet entirely natural Robert Chandler Mandelstam was a tragic figure Even while in exile in Voronej he wrote works of untold beauty and power And he had no poetic forerunners In all of world poetry I know of no other such case We know the sources of Pushkin and Blok but who will tell us from where that new divine harmony Mandelstam s poetry came from Anna

Akhmatova Russia s greatest poet in the twentieth century Joseph Brodsky D. H. Lawrence: Late Essays and Articles D. H. Lawrence,2004-04 In his last years D H Lawrence often wrote for newspapers he needed the money and clearly enjoyed the work He also wrote several substantial essays during the same period This meticulously edited collection brings together major essays such as Pornography and Obscenity and Lawrence s spirited Introduction to the volume of his Paintings a group of autobiographical pieces two of which are published here for the first time and the articles Lawrence wrote at the invitation of newspaper and magazine editors There are thirty nine items in total thirty five of them deriving from original manuscripts all were written between 1926 and Lawrence s death in March 1930 They are ordered chronologically according to the date of composition each is preceded by an account of the circumstances in which it came to be published The volume is introduced by a substantial survey of Lawrence s career as a writer responding directly to public interests and concerns
