Philip Auger, 2000 The four writers chosen for this study James Baldwin Alice Walker John Edgar Wideman and Ernest Gaines were chosen because of their shared approach to rewriting such negative narratives of black manhood Each of these writers approaches self definition and more specifically the writing of oneself as a man as contingent on controlling discourse having some power over language and thus having the power to define the self And each of the selected works explores the possibilities of black manhoods that are humane and dignified The discursive negotiations involved in rewriting identity pose an extremely complex set of challenges associated with the realm of definition used to control the powerful signifier manhood

From introduction Liberating Voices Gayl Jones, 1991 The powerful novelist here turns penetrating critic giving us in a lively style both trenchant literary analysis and fresh insight on the art of writing eoe When African American writers began to trust the literary possibilities of their own verbal and musical creations e writes Gayl Jones they began to transform the European and European American models and to gain greater artistic sovereignty e The vitality of African American literature derives from its incorporation of traditional oral forms folktales riddles idiom jazz rhythms spirituals and blues Jones traces the development of this literature as African American writers celebrating their oral heritage developed distinctive literary forms The twentieth century saw a new confidence and deliberateness in African American work the move from surface use of dialect to articulation of a genuine black voice the move from blacks portrayed for a white audience to characterization relieved of the need to justify Innovative writing esuch as Charles Waddell Chesnutt e tm s depiction of black folk culture Langston Hughes e tm s poetic use of blues and Amiri Baraka e tm s recreation of the short story as a jazz piece eredefined Western literary tradition For Jones literary technique is never far removed from its social and political implications She documents how literary form is inherently and intensely national and shows how the European monopoly on acceptable forms for literary art stifled American writers both black and white Jones is especially eloquent in describing the dilemma of the African American writers to write from their roots yet retain a universal voice to merge the power and fluidity of oral tradition with the structure needed for written presentation With this work Gayl Jones has added a new dimension to African American literary history

Discourse and the Other W. Lawrence Hogue, 1986-11-25 The central thesis of Lawrence Hogue s book is that criticism of Afro American literature has left out of account the way in which ideological pressures dictate the canon This fresh approach to the study of the social ideological and political dynamics of the Afro American literary text in the twentieth century based on the Foucauldian concept of literature as social institution examines the universalization that power effects how literary texts are appropriated to meet ideological concerns and needs and the continued oppression of dissenting voices Hogue presents an illuminating discussion of the publication and review history of major and neglected texts He illustrates the acceptance of texts as exotica as sociological documents or as carriers of sufficient literary conventions to receive approbation Although the sixties movement allowed the text to move to the periphery of the dominant ideology providing some new myths about the Afro American historical past this marginal position was subsequently sabotaged co-opted or appropriated Afros became a fad presidents gave the soul handshake the hip talking black was dressing one style and talking another This study includes extended discussion of four works Ernest J Gaines's The Autobiography of Miss Jane Pittman Alice Walker's The Third Life of Grange Copeland Albert Murray's Train Whistle Guitar and Toni Morrison's Sula Hogue assesses the informing worldviews of each and the extent and nature of their acceptance by the dominant American cultural apparatus

Alice Walker Boxed Set Alice Walker, 1985-12-01 Alice Walker Gerri Bates, 2005-10-30 Alice Walker born in Eatonton Georgia in 1944 overcame a disadvantaged sharecropping background blindness in one eye and the tense times of the Civil Rights Movement to become one of the world's most respected African American writers While attending both Spelman and Sarah Lawrence Colleges Walker began to draw on both her personal tragedies and those of her community to write poetry essays short stories and novels that would tell the virtually untold stories of oppressed African and African American women providing readers with hope and inspiring activism Perhaps best known for her novel The Color Purple 1982 which won the Pulitzer Prize in 1983 and became a controversial film three years later Walker has introduced and developed womanist theory criticism and practice and continues to champion the causes of women of color by encouraging their strength and liberation in her life and her writings Literary works analyzed in this volume The Third Life of Grange Copeland Meridian The Color Purple The Temple of My Familiar Possessing the Secret of Joy By the Light of My Father's Smile The Way Forward Is With a Broken Heart Now is the Time to Open Your Heart
