True Tales of a Traveller series consists of three travel stories two substantial novella length stories separated by a story of short story length These stories can read separately but the best way to read them is to start with the first That principle applies to the whole series and also to this volume It isn't necessary however to read all the stories of Volume One to enjoy those related in Volume Two The book begins in late 1984 with the sixth tale in the series overall Culture Shock This story finds the young traveller myself taken from the relative orderliness of a life in London where he had been attempting with mixed results to pursue a career in travel related in the fifth story of the series A Career in Travel and throws him into the furious assault on the senses that constituted life in the Indian capital Delhi at that time The second story of this volume Just A Businessman is set in Indian administered Kashmir At nearly 17 000 words this account constitutes a lengthy short story which may need more than one sitting to read In addition to being a travel story Just A Businessman is also a story about religious and ethnic conflict and political upheavals and the extents to which these can affect the life of a traveller or an outsider Overlanding Part One is the third story in this volume and at over 46 000 words the longest story of the series so far for one of the shortest periods of actual travel Of all my travels in the 1980s in terms of time spent undoubtedly no journey made such a deep and lasting impression on me as this overland trip from Karachi to Rotterdam Not only did it unceremoniously blow away many of my own preconceived notions of life in Pakistan and Iran it was also a harsh lesson for me as a traveller in the virtues of being prepared for any journey into terra incognita Additionally the first part of the journey from Karachi to the Turkish border with Iran was relatively dangerous not due to involving difficult terrain but rather to man made hazards But overall the journey turned out to be something I originally had never suspected for a moment it would be an intensive course in the follies of racial prejudice and ethnic chauvinism Like all the other stories in the series these three stories provide not only entertaining reads but also information on all the places visited some relevant only to the era in which the story is set but most still relevant at the time of this book s publication Tarot Time Traveller Marcus Katz,Tali Goodwin,2017-11-08 In the story of tarot nothing is as it first appears to be Throughout the generations personal relationships esoteric practices and cultural beliefs have blended together to form tarot s many layers of meaning and mystery Join authors Marcus Katz and Tali Goodwin as they share reading methods card meanings and spread ideas based on the most important developments in the history of tarot Along the way you ll witness the creation of some of the most influential decks and meet the artists mystics teachers occultists and writers behind them When you delve into tarot s fascinating back story you open yourself to unique perspectives helping you develop your own interpretations of the cards even if they don t always match the current era s ideas Tarot Time Traveller is a guided tour through history providing new insights for your reading practice and deepening your relationship with the cards Travellers' Tales George Robertson,1994 Travellers Tales is the second of a series which brings together theorists from different disciplines to assess the implications of economic political and social change for intellectual enquiry and cultural practice The series arises from and continues the concerns of BLOCK 1979 to 1989 the journal of visual culture A Time Traveller's Best Friend W.R. Gingell, Meet Marx Meet Kez Marx is a small angry man with a time machine and a chip on his shoulder Kez is a homicidal little girl with a price on her head and a penchant for kicking people where it hurts the most After a narrow escape from the owners of the stolen craft he pilots the last thing Marx wants is another gun pointed at him What he wants and what he gets however are two very different things On the run from killers shadowy corporations and one very specific Someone the last thing Kez wants when she points a gun at yet another apparent killer is a self appointed protector What she wants and what she needs however are two very different things Inglese in viaggio Daniel Stephens,2002 Lab.
