

A movie poster featuring a muscular man, Mark Alders, shirtless and wearing a dark loincloth. He is bound with heavy metal chains on his wrists and waist. He is looking down with a somber expression. The background is a dark, swirling blue and purple, suggesting a night sky or a stormy sea. The title 'THE SOLDIER' is prominently displayed at the bottom in a large, metallic, stylized font. Above the man's head, the name 'MARK ALDERS' is written in a similar metallic font. At the very bottom, the text 'BORDER WORLD'S SAGA' is written in a smaller, yellow, sans-serif font.

The Soldier Borders Of Worlds :

On the Borders of World-Systems: Contact Zones in Ancient and Modern Times Yervand Margaryan, 2020-12-17

This work examines the historical archaeological and political interpretations of world systems theory and geocivilizational analysis. The macrosociological issues of ancient and modern history are presented through five case studies concentrating on the Taurus-Caucasus region which functioned as a contact zone throughout the different periods. Borders and Border Politics in a Globalizing World Paul Ganster, David E. Lorey, 2005. Borders represent an intriguing paradox as globalization continues to leap barriers at a vigorous pace merging economies and cultures through world trade, economic integration, the mass media, the Internet, and increasingly mobile populations. At the same time, the political boundaries separating peoples remain pervasive and problematic. Borders and Border Politics in a Globalizing World offers a carefully selected group of readings to enhance student understanding of the complexities of border regions. The reader brings together key writings on the histories of borders, their social development, their politics, and the daily life that characterizes them. The authors place their analyses of these issues in an international context, stressing how borders influence and how they are influenced by global processes. The selections provide a window on our current understanding of human interactions at and along national and interethnic boundaries, interactions that will characterize borders and border politics for decades to come. Drawing on a worldwide set of case studies, this text divides border issues into seven thematic categories: borders as barriers, borders migrants and refugees, borders and partitioned groups, borders perceptions and culture, borders and the environment, borders goods and services, and maritime and space borders. An excellent text for courses on boundaries, ethnicity, and international relations, this collection of cutting edge information and analysis on borders and border politics in the context of ongoing globalization will shed light both upon international and subnational boundaries and upon the unfolding processes of globalization or decades to come. Soldiers' Lives through History - The Ancient World Richard A. Gabriel, 2006-11-30 Once warfare became established in ancient civilizations it s hard to find any other social institution that developed as quickly In less than a thousand years humans brought forth the sword sling dagger mace bronze and copper weapons and fortified towns The next thousand years saw the emergence of iron weapons the chariot the standing professional army military academies general staffs military training permanent arms industries written texts on tactics military procurement logistics systems conscription and military pay By 2 000 B C E war was an important institution in almost all major cultures of the world This book shows readers how soldiers were recruited outfitted how they fought and how they were cared for when injured or when they died It covers soldiers in major civilizations from about 4000 B C E to about 450 C E Topics are discussed cross culturally drawing examples from several of the cultures armies and time periods within each chapter in order to provide the reader with as comprehensive an understanding as possible and to avoid the usual Western centric perspective too common in analyses of ancient warfare

The Humanities in a World Upside-Down

Ignacio López-Calvo, 2018-06-11 Following the metaphor of the world upside down this essay collection highlights the importance of the humanities in addressing along with the sciences pressing challenges in today's rapidly changing world. Crossing across a variety of disciplines, historical periods and regions in the world, this volume represents a useful tool for humanities scholars and students exploring the key role of our disciplines in public debates about pressing issues such as the refugee crisis, climate change, denialism, environmental justice, racism, and the current worldwide crisis of democracy. It provides practical examples of how societies throughout the world have historically coped with unexpected and distressing changes in government, core values, axiomatic systems, assumptions, beliefs, ideology, or cultural constructions. The feeling of topsy-turvy consternation as a result of sudden harrowing change as is shown here is not new; rather, it has simply evolved throughout time and space.
