The Spectre Of Comparisons Nationalism Southeast Asia And The World:

The Spectre of Comparisons Benedict Richard O'Gorman Anderson, 1998 A controversial collection from the author of the celebrated Imagined Communities While Benedict Anderson is best known for his classic book on nationalism Imagined Communities many of his most telling and incisive interventions have been made in his essays Those collected in this new book span a range of subjects from Aquino's Philippines where the horses on the haciendas ate better than the stable hands to political assassination in contemporary Thailand where government posts have become so lucrative that to gain them candidates will kill their rivals In these writing the subtle imbrication of politics national imaginings bureaucracy modernization and its agents particularly print culture is brought out in all its complexity and richness The spectre of comparisons was a phrase used by the celebrated Filipino nationalist and novelist Jose Rizal 1861-96 whose work and fate in the national imagination are discussed in these pages In his finely wrought observations on Southeast Asian societies Anderson raises deep questions concerning this spectre about how for instance Manila is changed when it can no longer be seen through a comparison with European capitals and how more broadly nationalism is produced by the process of increasing global connection The Spectre of Comparisons is an indispensable resource for those interested in South East Asia But it also contains important theoretical and historical considerations about nationalism national literature and memory modernization and the prospects for the Left in what Anderson dubs The New World Disorder

The Spectre of Comparisons Benedict Anderson, 1998-09-17 The Spectre of Comparisons contains important theoretical and historical considerations about the nature of nationalism the prospects for the Left in the so called New World Disorder

The Geopolitics of Health in South and Southeast Asia Vivek Neelakantan, 2023-02-27 This book analyses the complexity of South and Southeast Asia in international health taking into account the impact of the geopolitics of the Cold War on the development of public health and development in the regions In light of the recent health pandemic which has mobilized experts and governments and led to a securitized approach to global health this book offers a regional approach to global health histories The chapters provide case studies ranging from the Cold War to the present time and covering countries from across South and Southeast Asia Contributors analyse issues related to disease control an adjunct to wider Cold War geopolitics They also examine the responses of regional organizations particularly the ASEAN Association of Southeast Asian Nations and SAARC South Asian Association for Regional Cooperation towards COVID 19 Collectively the book illustrates how narrowly conceived global health programs implemented by aid agencies failed to account for the local national or regional contexts Situating health in South and Southeast Asia in broader global contexts the book will be a valuable contribution to the History of Medicine and Health and Political Economy of South and Southeast Asia

Grounds of Comparison Pheng Cheah, Jonathan Culler, 2013-08-21 Benedict Anderson professor at Cornell and specialist in Southeast Asian studies is best known for his book Imagined Communities: Reflections on the Origin and Spread of Nationalism 1991 It is no understatement to say that this is one of the most influential books of the last twenty years Widely read both by social scientists and humanists it has become an unavoidable document For people in the humanities Anderson is particularly interesting because he explores the rise of nationalism in connection with the rise of the novel InterAsian Intimacies across Race, Religion, and Colonialism Chie Ikeya,2024-09-15 In InterAsian Intimacies across Race Religion and Colonialism Chie Ikeya asks how interAsian marriage conversion and collaboration in Burma under British colonial rule became the subject of political agitation legislative activism and collective violence Over the course of the twentieth century relations between Burmese Muslims Sino Burmese Indo Burmese and other mixed families and communities became flashpoints for far reaching legal reforms and Buddhist revivalist feminist and nationalist campaigns aimed at consigning minority Asians to subordinate status and regulating women s conjugal and reproductive choices Out of these efforts emerged understandings of religion race and nation that continue to vex Burma and its neighbors today Combining multilingual archival research with family history and intergenerational storytelling Ikeya highlights how the people targeted by such movements made and remade their lives under the shifting circumstances of colonialism capitalism and nationalism The book illuminates a history of belonging across boundaries a history that has been overshadowed by Eurocentric narratives about the mixing of white colonial masters and native mistresses InterAsian intimacy was and remains foundational to modern regimes of knowledge power and desire throughout Asia Democracy and Civil Society in Asia: Volume 1 F. Quadir,J. Southeast Asian Paper Tigers K. S. Jomo,2013-04-03 This important collection is a timely contribution to the debate on the Asian financial crisis With chapters written by well established international experts in Asian economics this book constitutes a finely judged example of the varying opinions on the matter Remapping the Cold War in Asian Cinemas Sangjoon Lee,Darlene Espena,2025-10-01 This book is about cinema and the cultural Cold War in Asia set against the larger history of the cultural political and institutional linkages between the US Europe and Asia at the height of the Cold War From the popularity of CIA sponsored espionage films in Hong Kong and South Korea to the enduring Cold War rhetoric of brotherly relations in contemporary Sino Indian co production cinema has always been a focal point of the cultural Cold War in Asia Historically both the United States and the Soviet Union viewed cinema as a powerful weapon in the battle to win hearts and minds not just in Europe but also in Asia The Cold War in Asia was properly speaking a hot war with proxy military confrontations between the United States on one side and the Soviet Union and China on the other Amid this political and military turbulence cataclysmic shifts occurred in the culture and history of Asian cinemas as well as in the latitude of US cultural diplomacy in Asia The collection of essays in this volume sheds light on the often forgotten history of the cultural Cold War in Asia Taken together the volume s fifteen chapters examine film cultures and industries in Asia to showcase the magnitude and depth of the Cold War s impact on Asian cinemas societies and politics By shifting the lens to Asia the contributors to this volume re examine the dominant narratives about the global Cold War and highlight the complex and unique ways in which Asian societies negotiated contested and adapted to the politics and cultural manifestations of the Cold War

Theatre and Music in Manila and the Asia Pacific, 1869-1946 meLê yamomo, 2018-07-20 This book examines the intersection between sound and modernity in dramatic and musical performance in Manila and the Asia Pacific between 1869 and 1948 During this period tolerant political regimes resulted in the globalization of capitalist relations and the improvement of transcontinental travel and worldwide communication This allowed modern modes of theatre and music consumption to instigate the uniformization of cultural products and processes while simultaneously fragmenting societies into distinct identities institutions and nascent nation states Taking the performing bodies of migrant musicians as the locus of sound this book argues that the global movement of acoustic modernities was replicated and diversified through its multiple subjectivities within empire nation and individual agencies It traces the arrival of European travelling music and theatre companies in Asia which re casted listening into an act of modern cultural consumption and follows the migration of Manila musicians as they engaged in the modernization project of the neighboring Asian cities from the nineteenth century to the present Including contributions by some of the most notable scholars working on communalism in South Asia and its diaspora as well as by some challenging new voices the book encompasses both different disciplinary and theoretical perspectives It looks at a range of methodologies in an effort to stimulate new debates on the relationship between communalism and globalization and is a useful contribution to studies on South Asia and Asian History
