The Spirit Of Development Protestant Ngos Morality And Economics In Zimbabwe:

The Spirit of Development ,2003 This work is an ethnographic account of the work of transnational Christian non governmental organizations NGOs in Zimbabwe Protestant NGOs are one of the voices of pluralism in southern Africa sometimes challenging the state and at other times collaborating with it The tensions of such engagement are key to understanding the successes and failures of transnational humanitarian endeavors to foster democratic governance in Zimbabwe While much scholarship has been focused theoretically on the role of NGOs in democratization in Africa regarding international foreign policy few studies Between Humanitarianism and Evangelism in Faith-based Organisations May Ngo,2018-04-27 Religion has always played an important if often contested role in the public domain This book focuses on how faith based organisations FBOs interact with the public sphere showing how faith based actors are themselves shaped by wider processes and global forces such as globalisation migration foreign policy and neoliberal markets Focusing on a case study of an FBO in Morocco which gives aid to sub Saharan African irregular migrants the book reveals some of the challenges the organisation faces as it tries to negotiate at once local national and international contexts through their particular Christian values This book contends that the contradictions tensions and ambiguities that arise are primarily a result of the organisation having to negotiate a normative global secular liberalism which requires a strict demarcation between religion and politics and religion and the secular Faith based actors particularly within humanitarianism have to constantly navigate this divide and in examining the question of how religious values translate into humanitarian and development practices categories such as religion the secular and politics and the boundaries between them will need to be interrogated This book explores the diversity and complexity of the work of FBOs and will be of great interest to students and researchers working at the intersections of humanitarianism and development studies politics and religion Christian Mission and Economic Systems John Cheong,Eloise Meneses,2015-02-16 A Critical Survey of the Cultural and Religious Dimensions of Economies Christian mission in the twenty first century has emphasized endeavors that address poverty alleviation business as mission marketplace ministry rural urban development microeconomics and Christian attitudes toward money and consumerism However neither the macroeconomic circumstances in which the church does such ministry nor the assumptions that believers have absorbed from the larger economy have been adequately explored Christian Mission Economic Systems gathers scholars experts and practitioners to address the relationship of Christians to the economic systems in which they are embedded and do ministry and to evaluate the different cultural and religious dimensions of both micro and macroeconomic systems around the world from a kingdom perspective Practitioners doing business as mission will grow in their understanding of the significance of local economic practices Students and academics will benefit from the critical assessment of the intersection between micro and macroeconomic systems in the contexts of specific ethnographic circumstances Missionaries and churches will glean new insights on the difference that being a Christian makes to economic life NGOs nonprofits or other Christian organizations doing work related to markets will benefit from a challenge to their previous understandings Since work for the kingdom always takes place in some kind of an economic environment this book will equip Christians in a variety of capacities to be more effective in their ministries Resilience Under Siege Ezra Chitando, Munyaradzi Nyakudya, Government Phiri, 2016-04-26 This volume explores the challenges and solutions experienced within Zimbabwe's economic and social spheres with particular reference to the crisis years 2000 2008 and the promising turn 2009 2012 This latter phase was prompted by the formation of the Government of National Unity GNU The contributors to the volume pay attention to how individuals and institutions sought to respond to the crisis critiquing the reactions of various actors and exploring solutions to the various challenges that were experienced Chapters in this book include reviews of agricultural subsidies a gendered approach to poverty the collapse of service delivery including a particular focus on education the look East policy the expansion of the religious sector and the experiences of Zimbabwean migrants in South Africa Underlying these contributions are the concepts of resilience and agency The authors all highlight the massive challenges that individuals and institutions had to navigate and acknowledge the creativity deployed in such quests This book will appeal to scholars in economics history and economic history religious studies education and political science as well as the general reader

The House of Service David Tittensor, 2014 David Tittensor offers a groundbreaking new perspective on the G len movement a Turkish Muslim educational activist network that emerged in the 1960s and has grown into a global empire with an estimated worth of 25 billion Named after its leader Fethullah G len the movement has established more than 1 000 secular educational institutions in over 140 countries aiming to provide holistic education that incorporates both spirituality and the secular sciences Despite the movement's success little is known about how its schools are run or how Islam is operationalized Drawing on thirteen months of ethnographic fieldwork in Turkey Tittensor explores the movement's ideology and how it is practiced in the schools His interviews with both teachers and graduates from Africa Indonesia Central Asia and Turkey show that the movement is a missionary organization but of a singular kind its goal is not simply widespread religious conversion but a quest to recoup those Muslims who have apparently lost their way and to show non Muslims that Muslims can embrace modernity and integrate into the wider community Tittensor also examines the movement's operational side and shows how the schools represent an example of Mohammad Yunus's social business model a business with a social cause at its heart The House of Service is an insightful exploration of one of the world's largest transnational Muslim associations and will be invaluable for those seeking to understand how Islam will be perceived and practiced in the future

Institutionalised Dreams Elżbieta Drążkiewicz, 2020-01-01 Using examples from Poland El bieta Dr kiewicz explores the question of why states become donors and individuals decide to share their wealth with others through foreign aid She comes to the conclusion that the concept of foreign aid requires the establishment of a specific moral economy which links national ideologies and local cultures of charitable giving with broader ideas about the global political economy It is through these processes that faith in foreign aid interventions as a solution to global issues is generated The book also explores the relationship linking a state institution with its NGO partners as well as international players such as the EU or OECD

Ideologies and Infrastructures of Religious Urbanization in Africa David Garbin, Simon Coleman, Gareth Millington, 2022-11-17 How do urbanization and development intersect with religious dynamics to shape contemporary African cityscapes To answer this timely question contributors from across Europe North America and Africa are brought together to explore mega cities including Lagos Cape Town Dar es Salaam and Kinshasa as powerful venues for the creation and implementation of religious models of urbanization and development This book interrogates how religious socio spatial models and strategies engage with challenges of infrastructural development urban social cohesion inequalities and inclusion Chapters explore how faith based practices of urban and infrastructural development link moral subjectivities with individual and wider aspirations for modernization change deliverance and prosperity The volume brings together ethnographically rich and theoretically grounded case studies of religious urbanization across the African continent It advances discussions of the ambivalent role of urban religion in development and documents the complex multifaceted socio cultural and political dynamics associated with religious urbanization in Africa

The Oxford Handbook of Law and Anthropology Marie-Claire Foblets, Mark Goodale, Maria Sapiñoli, Olaf Zenker, 2022-04-01 The Oxford Handbook of Law and Anthropology is a ground breaking collection of essays that provides an original and internationally framed conception of the historical theoretical and ethnographic interconnections of law and anthropology Each of the chapters in the Handbook provides a survey of the current state of scholarly debate and an argument about the future direction of research in this dynamic and interdisciplinary field The structure of the Handbook is animated by an overarching collective narrative about how law and anthropology have and should relate to each other as intersecting domains of inquiry that address such fundamental questions as dispute resolution normative ordering social organization and legal political and social identity The need for such a comprehensive project has become even more pressing as lawyers and anthropologists work together in an ever increasing number of areas including immigration and asylum processes international justice forums cultural heritage certification and monitoring and the writing of new national constitutions among many others The Handbook takes critical stock of these various points of intersection in order to identify and conceptualize the most promising areas of innovation and sociolegal relevance as well as to acknowledge the points of tension open questions and areas for future development

Humanitarianism and Challenges of Cooperation Volker Heins, Kai Koddenbrock, Christine Unrau, 2016-02-05 Humanitarianism as a moral concept and an organized practice has become a major factor in world society It channels an enormous amount of resources and serves as an argument for different kinds of interference into the internal affairs of countries and regions At the same time and for these very reasons it is an ideal testing ground for successful and unsuccessful cooperation across borders Humanitarianism and the Challenges of Cooperation examines the multiple humanitarianisms of today as a testing ground for new ways of global cooperation General trends in the contemporary transformation of humanitarianism are studied and individual cases of how humanitarian actors cooperate with others on the ground are investigated This book offers a highly innovative empirically informed account of global humanitarianism from the point of view of cooperation research in which internationally renowned contributors analyse broad trends and present case studies based on meticulous fieldwork This book will be of great interest to students and researchers in the areas of political
