

CLASS

Comparatives of Adjectives

LEVEL

CEFR A1; class 1B

DATE

12/15/2020

OBJECTIVE

What will your learners be able to do by the end of the lesson(s)?

To introduce my students to the comparative form of 1 adjective ('big' to 'bigger') initially and demonstrate they can use this structure with many other short adjectives.

OPENING (5 min.)

Getting them engaged and telling them what's going to happen

Show building blocks. Build a big tower. Elicit 'big'. Repeat out loud. Then build an even bigger tower. Through head shaking and facial gestures, try to elicit words for this bigger tower. No correct responses.

Then focus on word big using Anjelica and Carlos-front of class. Don't have a word to describe Carlos, who is bigger. They return to their seats. Tell them: Important to know this and other words to describe differences in people, animals, things. Words not difficult. Will help them. Will show words on board then use Anjelica and Carlos again. Then a written activity and some fun games.

INTRODUCTION OF NEW MATERIAL (10 min.)

Introducing the new learning

Board. Draw Anjelica. Then draw Carlos. What can they see? Carlos is ____? Gestures and hand movements to show Carlos bigger but don't have a word. Tell them Carlos is bigger. Write bigger under Carlos, underlining the ending -er. Get them to repeat bigger as a class and ask learners at random to repeat the word. Get them to repeat: Anjelica is big. Carlos is bigger. Point to the ending -er. Bring out Anjelica and Carlos again. Ask the class at random. Who is big? Who is bigger? Confirm and praise. Anjelica and Carlos return to their seats.

Now ask all the learners to get into pairs, swiftly – with one partner being bigger than the other. Go round the pairs, checking they can identify themselves as big and bigger. Confirm and praise.

Now demonstrate again from board work that for the comparative (won't use this word) they add -er to the basic word when the other person, thing, or animal is bigger – both in speaking and writing. Remind and demonstrate to them on the board that this happens with most words that they know, e.g. small-smaller, young-younger, old-older, miming these and using the learners to demonstrate your point.

Keep them engaged! Emphasize these new words are very important. But they'll use lots of words they already know. Finish with a fast-moving question/answer session to ensure engagement and interest.

GUIDED PRACTICE (20 min.)

Practicing the new learning, to check their accuracy, under my guidance and control

Activity 1

Tell and demonstrate. Pin up (Blu-Tack) flipchart sheet – a large copy of the worksheet. Ensure all can see. Hold up worksheet. Explain what they are going to write in their answers on their worksheet. The exercise has 4 questions.

In questions 1-4, they need to fill in words, using the same form as they learned about the word big by adding -er on the end of the word. Check their understanding.

Hand out worksheets. Then monitor, help, and correct throughout this step. Ignore spelling. Then correct as a whole class, asking pairs at random to give their answers, confirming each got it right and checking pronunciation by class drilling and by a random selection of learners. Confirm and praise. Clear up any mistakes.

Then, I will introduce some realistic toy animals and things that they can compare, giving out their responses orally, while using the practiced structure, e.g. bigger, smaller, younger, older. This will further consolidate their learning.
