A Beautiful Ending John Jeffries Martin, 2022-01-01. An award-winning historian's revisionary account of the early modern world showing how apocalyptic ideas stimulated political, religious, and intellectual transformations. A masterful synthesis of the prognostications of faith, knowledge, and politics on a global stage. Martin's book illuminates one of the enduring themes that shaped the medieval and early modern world. Paula E. Findlen, Stanford University. In this revelatory immersion into the apocalyptic, messianic, and millenarian ideas and movements that created the modern world, John Jeffries Martin performs a kind of empathic time travel, entering into the psyche, spirituality, and temporalities of a cast of historical actors in profound moments of discovery. He argues that religious faith—Christian, Jewish, and Muslim—did not oppose but rather fostered the making of a modern scientific spirit buoyed along by a providential view of history and nature and a deep conviction in the coming End of the World. Through thoughtful attention to the primary sources, Martin re-reads the Renaissance, excavating a religious foundation at the core of even the most radical empirical thinking. Familiar icons like Ibn Khaldun, Columbus, Isaac Luria, and Francis Bacon emerge startlingly fresh and newly gleaned agents of a history formerly untold and of a modern world made in the image of its imminent end. The Oxford Handbook of Qur'anic Studies Mustafa A. Shah, M. A. Abdel Haleem, 2020. The Qur'an is the foundational sacred text of the Islamic faith. Traditionally revered as the literal word of God, its pronouncements and discussions form the bedrock of Islamic beliefs and teachings. Notwithstanding its religious pre-eminence and the fact that it is the sacred text for over one billion of the world's Muslims, the Qur'an is also considered to be the matchless masterpiece of the Arabic language. Its historical impact as a text can be discerned in all aspects of the heritage of the Arabic literary tradition. Over recent decades, academic engagement with the Qur'an has produced an impressive array of scholarship, ranging from detailed studies of the text's unique language, style, and structure to meticulous surveys of its contents, concepts, and historical contexts. The Oxford Handbook of Qur'anic Studies is an essential reference and starting point for those with an academic interest in the Qur'an. It offers not only detailed reviews of influential subjects in the field but also a critical overview of developments in the research discourse. It explores the tradition of Qur'anic exegesis and hermeneutics making it a comprehensive academic resource for the study of the Qur'an. No single volume devoted to such a broad academic survey of the state of the field currently exists.

How to Do Comparative Theology Francis X. Clooney, Klaus von Stosch, 2017-12-12 For a generation and more the contribution of Christian theology to interreligious understanding has been a subject of debate. Some think of theological perspectives as of themselves inherently too narrow to support interreligious learning and argue for an approach that is neutral or on a more popular level grounded simply in open-minded direct experience. In response, comparative theology argues that theology as faith-seeking understanding offers a vital perspective and a way of advancing interreligious dialogue aided rather than hindered by commitments. Theological perspectives can both complement and step beyond the study of religions by methods detached and merely neutral. Thus, comparative theology has been successful in persuading many that interreligious learning from one faith perspective to another is both possible and worthwhile, and so the work of comparative theology has become more recognized and established globally. With this success, there has come to the fore new challenges regarding method. How does one do comparative theological work in a way that is theologically grounded, genuinely open to learning from the other, sophisticated in pursuing comparisons, and fruitful on both the academic and practical levels? How To Do Comparative Theology therefore contributes to the maturation of method in the field of comparative theological studies, learning across religious borders by bringing together essays drawing on different Christian traditions of learning, Judaism and Islam, Hinduism and Buddhism, the wisdom of senior scholars, and also insights from a younger generation of scholars who have studied theology and religion in new ways and are more attuned to the language of the spiritual but not religious. The essays in this volume show great diversity in method and also over and over again, and from many angles, coherence in intent, a commitment to one learning from the other, and a confidence that one's home tradition benefits from fair and unhampered learning from other and very different spiritual and religious traditions. It therefore shows the diversity and coherence of comparative theology as an emerging discipline today.

Qur'ān Translation as a Modern Phenomenon El-Hussein A.Y. Aly, 2023-09-25 It is a well-established fact nowadays that modernity impacts Islam, but there has not been much focus on how modernity impacts the Qur'an, the foundational text of Islam and the verbatim word of God. This book argues that the early Muslim Qur'an translations into English are attempts to reconcile the Qur'an with modernity by producing translations that encompass modern concepts and interpretations of the Qur'an. Are these modern concepts and interpretations valid, or do they alter the word of God? This is the main question that the book attempts to answer, particularly that these early translations have affected and still affect Qur'an translation.

A Cultural History of Race in the Middle Ages Thomas Hahn, 2023-06-01 This volume presents a comprehensive and collaborative survey of how people individually and within collective entities thought about, experienced, and enacted racializing differences. Addressing events, texts, and images from the 5th to the 16th centuries, these essays by ten eminent scholars provide broad, multi-disciplinary analyses of materials whose origins range from the British Isles

Western Iberia and North Africa across Western and Eastern Europe to the Middle East These diverse communities possessed no single word equivalent to modern race a term raza for genetic religious cultural or territorial difference that emerges only at the end of the medieval period Chapter by chapter this volume nonetheless demonstrates the manifold beliefs practices institutions and images that conveyed and enforced difference for the benefit of particular groups and to the detriment of others Addressing the varying historiographical self consciousness concerning race among medievalist scholars themselves the separate analyses make use of paradigms drawn from social and political history religious environmental literary ethnic and gender studies the history of art and of science and critical race theory Chapters identify the eruption of racial discourses aroused by political or religious polemic centered upon conversion within and among Jewish Christian and Islamic communions and inspired by imagined or sustained contact with alien peoples Authors draw their evidence from Hebrew Latin Arabic and a profusion of European vernaculars and provide searching examinations of visual artefacts ranging from religious service books to maps mosaics and manuscript illuminations
