Volume 3 Nordic Leviathans Lars Erik L. Gjerde, 2025-10-10 This book offers a theoretical synthesis between the Foucauldian theory of power and the Weberian theory of the state The book centres on the politics of COVID 19 in Norway and Sweden It analyses the different tactics strategies and rationalizations of these states to develop the theoretical framework while using the theoretical framework to better advance our understandings of the politics of COVID 19 and how state power worked in subtle and overt direct and indirect ways during this crisis It argues that a marriage between Foucauldian and Weberian theories of the state and power engenders a holistic understanding of how power works at the microlevel and macrolevel This invites scholars to interrogate the diverse sources of power caged within the modern state and how these can be enacted through and over society thereby manifesting as various mechanisms of power War,

Alexander, 2019-11-01 In this book Jeffrey Alexander develops a new sociological theory of social crisis and applies it to a wide range of cases from the church paedophilia crisis to the MeToo movement He argues that crises are triggered not by objective social strains but by the discourse and institutions of the civil sphere When strains become subject to the utopian aspirations of the civil sphere there emerges widespread anguish about social justice and the future of democratic life Once admired institutional elites come to be represented as perpetrators and the civil sphere becomes legally and organizationally intrusive demanding repairs in the name of civil purification Resisting such repair institutional elites foment backlash and a war of the spheres ensues This major new work by one of the world's leading social theorists will be of great interest to students and scholars in sociology politics and the social sciences generally of theoretical construction and detailed empirical work allows him to offer new insights into social inequality in education systems credential theory and the IB Diploma
