Locating Technology Education in STEM Teaching and Learning Wendy Fox-Turnbull, P. John Williams, 2024-05-23 This book offers clarity and consistency of thinking in relation to Technology Education when situated within a STEM approach to teaching. It examines the range of Innovations and Issues which are being considered by schools as they implement STEM with particular focus on the place of Technology or the T in STEM. The book is divided into three sections: Philosophy, Implementation, and Issues and Innovations, with each containing five to seven chapters. The first section lays the foundations for the remainder of the book; it focuses the readers on the technology aspect of STEM education and situates it to align with the international understanding of technology education. The second section provides insights into how STEM is best implemented to give technology due consideration across a range of disciplines with technology education including engineering, food technology, and textile technology. This section also provides suggestions for the successful implementation of the STEM approach and offers further insight through a range of case studies. The third section outlines and discusses a range of issues that pose a threat to the position and understanding of technology within the STEM teaching and learning approach. This section also examines how technology and STEM are situated within, are supported or are threatened by other current innovations and approaches to teaching an integrated curriculum such as the Maker Space Movement and Play based Learning.

English,2022-10-13 This Handbook explores the discourse within the field of educational leadership and management It provides a clear analysis of the current field as well as older foundational ideas and newer concepts which are beginning to permeate the discussion. The field of educational leadership and management has long acknowledged that educational contexts include a variety of leaders beyond school principals and other school officials such as informal and middle level leaders. By looking at the knowledge dynamic rather than a static knowledge base, this Handbook allows research to be presented in its multidimensional evolving reality.

The Distance Learning Playbook for School Leaders Douglas Fisher, Nancy Frey, Dominique Smith, John Hattie, 2020-09-26. Effective school leadership is effective leadership regardless of where it occurs. In March 2020, there was no manual for leading schools and school systems during a pandemic. School leaders had to figure things out as the crisis unfolded. But starting now, leaders have the opportunity to prepare for leading schools through distance learning with purpose and intent, using what works best to accelerate students' learning all the while maintaining an indelible focus on equity. Harnessing the insights and experience of renowned educators Douglas Fisher, Nancy Frey, and John Hattie, The Distance Learning Playbook for School Leaders applies the wisdom and evidence of the VISIBLE LEARNING research to understand what works best. Spanning topics from school climate to a distance leader's credibility, care for self and colleagues, instructional leadership, teams, stakeholder advisory groups, and virtual visibility, this comprehensive playbook details the research and evidence-based strategies school leaders can mobilize to lead the delivery of high-impact learning in an online, virtual, and distributed environment. This powerful guide includes actionable insights and hands-on steps for each module to help school leaders realize the evidence-based leadership practices that result in meaningful learning in a distance environment. Discussion of equity challenges associated with distance learning, along with examples of how leaders can work to ensure that equity gains that have been realized are not lost. Analysis of the mindsets that empower leaders to manage change rather than technology. Space to write and reflect on current practices and plan future leadership strategies. The mindframes for distance learning that serve leaders well in any instructional setting and will position schools after the pandemic to come back better than they were before. The Distance Learning Playbook for School Leaders is the essential hands-on guide to leading school and school systems from a distance and delivering on the promise of equitable quality learning experiences for students.

The School Leader's Guide to Student Learning Supports Howard S. Adelman, Linda Taylor, 2006. Offers a broad view and a systemic approach missing from most books on school reform and improving student outcomes, especially for the student who is not achieving. Susan Wooley, Executive Director, American School Health Association. I have not read any other book that is as comprehensive in explaining how the fragmentation of services limits our ability to serve children as well as provides the how to. In this era of data-based decision making, the authors continue to present well-researched material that perhaps many educators have only read about in isolation.
