The first section of the book provides a concise introduction to the field with a particular focus on legislation and consumer interests, principle drivers of waste management. Part 2 addresses the minimisation of biowaste and the optimisation of water and energy use in food processing. The third section covers key technologies for co product separation and recovery such as supercritical fluid extraction and membrane filtration as well as important issues to consider when recovering co products such as waste stabilisation and microbiological risk assessment. Part 4 offers specific examples of waste management and co product exploitation in particular sectors such as the red meat, poultry, dairy, fish and fruit and vegetable industries. The final part of the book summarises advanced techniques to dispose of waste products that cannot be reused and reviews state of the art technologies for wastewater treatment. Waste management and co product recovery in food processing is a vital reference to all those in the food processing industry concerned with waste minimisation, co product valorisation and end waste management.
