The Sociolinguistics of Place and Belonging Leonie Cornips, Vincent A. de Rooij, 2018-03-15 This volume shows the relevance of the concepts of place and belonging for understanding the dynamics of identification through language It also opens up a new terrain for sociolinguistic and linguistic anthropological study namely the margins Rural as well as urbanized areas that are seen as marginal or peripheral to places that are overtly recognized as mixed and hybridized have received relatively little sociolinguistic attention Yet people living in these supposedly less spectacular margins are not immune to the effects of globalization and rapid technological change They too constantly form new ensembles from linguistic and cultural resources which they invest with novel instable often ambiguous meanings This volume focusses on the purportedly unspectacular in order to achieve a full understanding of the relation between language place and belonging The contributors to this volume therefore focus on language practices analyzing them as dialectically related to political economic processes and language ideologies

Durkheim and the Internet Jan Blommaert, 2018-07-12 Sociolinguistic evidence is an undervalued resource for social theory In this book Jan Blommaert uses contemporary sociolinguistic insights to develop a new sociological imagination exploring how we construct and operate in online spaces and what the implications of this are for offline social practice Taking mile Durkheim s concept of the social fact social behaviours that we all undertake under the influence of the society we live in as the point of departure he first demonstrates how the facts of language and social interaction can be used as conclusive refutations of individualistic theories of society such as Rational Choice Next he engages with theorizing the post Durkheimian social world in which we currently live This new social world operates offline as well as online and is
