The Spirit Of Education:

Education in Search of the Spirit John Fentress Gardner, 1996 Real education will always seek to strengthen what is best in the human soul its longing for the experience of spiritual truth that brings into the self an objective appreciation of the noble aspects of its own nature together with a subjective sense of real affinity with the rest of humanity the earth planet as a whole and the great cosmos above and beyond The premise of this book is that a human being is a being of body soul and spirit whose core is eternal spirit from which center one should strive to live From this perspective the aim of true education is to help our children activate this deepest center in themselves For this living intuitive thinking must be brought to life in a new way The organ for such thinking is the heart where will and feeling join in uniting self and world morality and truth love and action This book is in three parts The first poses the problem the second describes the Waldorf approach as a solution and the third deals with questions of special interest to parents and educators alike such as authority discipline and freedom the nature of genius and the question of cultural pluralism The first edition of this book was titled The Experience of Knowledge in response to a clear call for experience in education Certainly if the sole purpose of education is to acquire information learning becomes dry abstract and deadening To have meaningful consequence in a person's life coming to know must become an experience Too often however such experience is understood simply as doing field trips class projects and so on But doing if unconnected to the whole person is just activity To become true experience it must speak out of and toward a student's secret center the spirit Hence the author affirms that authentic education is always in search of the spirit

The Spirit of Education Jeff White, 2006 What is education It's a term we use every day to describe the process of putting 25 or 30 young souls into a cinder block room and filling their heads with what all over the course of the first quarter of their lives But is that education If it's not what is it And what are its consequences Education true education is not a process of pouring in from without but of calling forth what is within It's not a process of memorization or socialization or instillation but a process of nurturing of allowing of evoking It's a process of bringing forth the person one is meant to be The Spirit of Education attempts to begin anew our conversations about education what it is and where it might take us

Educational Ministry in the Logic of the Spirit James E. Loder, 2018-07-20 In November 2001 James E Loder Jr Professor of the Philosophy of Christian Education for forty years at Princeton Theological Seminary suddenly died He was a creative and profound thinker who had just completed a promising book In it he developed a compelling interdisciplinary model to disclose how the divine Spirit affirms reconstitutes and transforms the human spirit to bring new energy and creativity into human experience He called it redemptive transformation You now hold that book in your hands Those who know Loder's work are confident that Educational Ministry in the Logic of the Spirit though delayed for over fifteen years will

Gordon Ambrosius Joseph STAPF,1851 Educating in the Spirit Eric J. Kyle,2019-05-16 This book is an attempt to address two struggles for theistic educators e g those who approach their educational vocation from a religious perspective whether they are working in secular or faith based institutions The first struggle is that while numerous guidelines on teaching excellence have been compiled the resulting checklists can contain more than a hundred criteria to consider This book therefore identifies the evidence based guidelines that are likely to have the highest impact on student achievement thereby empowering educators to focus their efforts in more substantial ways The second struggle is related to the lack of resources which can help educators to view and approach their vocation from a theistic perspective While there are texts that discuss the relationship of spirituality and or theology to education few to date have sought to bring evidence based educational literature into dialogue with the western Christian tradition and thereby develop a bottom up theology of education This book addresses this historical and theological gap Overall this book is therefore intended to not only provide theistic educators with high impact guidelines that can significantly improve the quality of education in their school systems but it also strives to do so from a thoroughly theistic perspective Cultivating the Spirit Alexander W.
