Turquerie And The Politics Of Representation 17281876:

'Turquerie' and the Politics of Representation, 1728-1876 Nebahat Avcioglu, 2011 Devoted explicitly to the examination of Ottoman Turkish inspired architecture in Western Europe during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries in this study Nebahat Avcioglu rethinks the question of cultural frontiers not as separations but as a rapport of heterogeneities Reclaiming turquerie as cross cultural art from the confines of the inconsequential exoticism it is often reduced to Avcioglu analyses hitherto neglected constructions and links them to notions of self representation and politics "Turquerie and the Politics of Representation, 1728-1876" Nebahat Avcioglu, 2017-07-05 In this first full length study devoted explicitly to the examination of Ottoman Turkish inspired architecture in Western Europe during the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries Nebahat Avcioglu rethinks the question of cultural frontiers not as separations but as a rapport of heterogeneities Reclaiming turquerie as cross cultural art from the confines of the inconsequential exoticism it is often reduced to Avcioglu analyses hitherto neglected images designs and constructions and links Western interest in the Ottoman Empire to notions of self representation and national politics In investigating why and to what effect Europeans turned to the Turk for inspiration Avcioglu provides a far reaching cultural reinterpretation of art and architecture in this period Presented as a series of case studies focusing on three specific building types kiosks mosques and baths chosen on the basis that each represents the first full fledged manifestations of their respective genres to be constructed in Western Europe the study delves into the cultural politics of architectural forms and styles The author argues that the appropriation of those building types was neither accidental nor did it merely reflect European domination of another culture The process was essentially dialectical and contributed to transculturation in both the West and the East The Mobility of People and Things in the Early Modern Mediterranean Elisabeth A. Fraser, 2019-07-23 For centuries artists diplomats and merchants served as cultural intermediaries in the Mediterranean Stationed in port cities and other entrepôts of the Mediterranean these go betweens forged intercultural connections even as they negotiated and sometimes promoted cultural misunderstandings They also moved objects of all kinds across time and space This volume considers how the mobility of art and material culture is intertwined with greater Mediterranean networks from 1580 to 1880 Contributors see the movement of people and objects as transformational emphasizing the trajectory of objects over single points of origin multiplicity over unity and mutability over stasis Picturing Marie Leszczyńska (1703-1768) Jennifer G. Germann, 2017-07-05 Portraits of Queen Marie Leszczyńska 1703-1768 were highly visible in eighteenth century France Appearing in royal châteaux and after 1737 in the Parisian Salons the queen's image was central to the visual construction of the monarchy Her earliest portraits negotiated aspects of her ethnic difference French gender norms and royal rank to craft an image of an appropriate consort to the king Later portraits by Maurice Quentin de La Tour Carl van Loo and Jean Marc Nattier contributed to changing notions of queenship over the course of her 43 year tenure Whether as royal wife devout consort or devoted mother Marie Leszczyńska's image mattered

While she has often been seen as a weak consort this study argues that queenly images were powerful and even necessary for Louis XV's projection of authority This is the first study dedicated to analyzing the queen's portraits It engages feminist theory while setting the queen's image in the context of portraiture in France courtly factional conflict and the history of the French monarchy While this investigation is historically specific it raises the larger problem of the power of women's images versus the empowerment of women a challenge that continues to plague the representation of political women today The Oxford Handbook of the Baroque John D. Lyons, 2019 Baroque the cultural period extending from the mid sixteenth to the mid eighteenth century created some of the world's most striking monuments music artworks and literature This Handbook goes beyond all existing studies by presenting Baroque not only as a style but also as a global cultural phenomenon arising in response to enormous religious political and technological changes

The Afterlife of Used Things Ariane Fennetaux, Amélie Junqua, Sophie Vasset, 2014-10-03 Recycling is not a concept that is usually applied to the eighteenth century The environment may not have existed as a notion then yet practices of re use and transformation obviously shaped the early modern world Still this period of booming commerce and exchange was also marked by scarcity and want This book reveals the fascinating variety and ingenuity of recycling processes that may be observed in the commerce crafts literature and medicine of the eighteenth century Recycling is used as a thought provoking means to revisit subjects such as consumption the new science or novel writing and cast them in a new light where the waste of some becomes the luxury of others clothes worn to rags are turned into paper and into books and scientific breakthroughs are carried out in old kitchen pans

state gave rise to the advent of museums its influence in times of transculturality and post decolonial studies appears to have vanished But is this really the case With case studies from various geo and sociopolitical contexts from around the globe the contributors investigate which roles the nation state continues to play in museums collections and heritage They answer the question to which degree the nation state still determines practices of collection and circulation and its amount of power to shape contemporary narratives The volume thus examines the contradictions at play when the necessary claim for transculturality meets the institutions of the nation state With contributions by Stanislas Spero Adotevi Sebasti n Eduardo D vila Natasha Ginwala Monica Hanna Rajkamal Kahlon Suzana Milevska Mirjam Shatanawi Kavita Singh Ruth Stamm Andrea Witcomb

Intimate Interiors Tara Zanardi, Christopher M. S. Johns, 2023-03-23 A desire for intimacy in domestic spaces motivated by a growing sense of individualistic expression an incentive to conceal the labor or enslavement taking place and an appetite for solace and comfort led to interiors taking on more specific roles in the eighteenth century By examining the architectural visual and material culture of eighteenth century spaces Intimate Interiors foregrounds the interrelated concepts of intimacy privacy informality and sociability in order to show how these ideas played an increasingly integral role in the period s architectural and material design Across eleven innovative chapters that explore issues of gender politics travel exoticism imperialism sensorial experiences identity interiority and modernity this volume demonstrates how intimacy was a fundamental goal in the planning of private quarters In doing so the political nature of private spaces is uncovered whilst highlighting the contradictions and complexities of these highly performative private interiors Employing distinct methodological perspectives across various geographical sites from Turkey to Versailles Britain to Benin Intimate Interiors draws as yet untraced connections between Enlightenment Europe imperial outposts and major metropolitan centers across the globe
