Womens Activism And Globalization Linking Local Struggles And Global Politics:

Women's Activism and Globalization Nancy A. Naples, Manisha Desai, 2004-04-16 Women's Activism and Globalization is a broad and comprehensive collection that shows how women activists across the globe are responding to the forces of the new world order in their communities. The first person accounts and regional case studies provide a truly global view of women working in their communities for change. The essays examine women in urban, rural, and suburban locations around the world to provide a rich understanding of the common themes as well as significant divergences among women activists in different parts of the world. Women's Activism and Globalization Nancy A. Naples, Manisha Desai, 2002. First Published in 2002. Routledge is an imprint of Taylor & Francis, an informa company.

Gender and Global Politics in the Asia-Pacific B. D'Costa, K. Lee-Koo, 2008-12-22 This book demonstrates the integral nature of gendered issues and feminist frameworks for a comprehensive understanding of contemporary IR, bringing together the work of feminist scholars, teachers, and activists into a coherent and accessible collection.

Gender and Crisis in Global Politics Laura Sjoberg, 2018-02-02 The global political arena is again in a time of crisis. Different sources pay attention to different crises: the Global Financial Crisis, the Debt Crisis, the Crisis of ISIL/Daesh in Iraq and Syria, the Crisis of Israel and Palestine, and the Iran Nuclear Crisis have gotten significant attention in media coverage of global politics. But those are not the only crises that scholars and practitioners discuss. Environmentalists warn of ecological crisis, health scholars warn of disease crises, cyber security experts suggest a coming information crisis, and migration experts warn of population crises. Feminist work on global politics has addressed many of these crises, historical and contemporary, in crisis language and without it, as well as a number of the non-crises that looking for women and gender in the international arena draws into focus. That work, however, had generally not explicitly theorized the conceptualization of crisis, its gendered dimensions, and/or gender-based crises as such. Across this book, feminist conversations about crisis in global politics suggest that a single feminist approach to definition of or politics of crisis is impossible to find. That same variety of work, though, makes a strong case that paying attention to crises in the world and to the manufacture of crisis rhetoric alongside events in global politics is not only generally important but an important place for feminist scholarship, feminist political activism, and direct attention. This book was previously published as a special issue of the International Feminist Journal of Politics.

Transnational Feminist Rhetorics and Gendered Leadership in Global Politics Rebecca S. Richards, 2014-10-28 Transnational Feminist Rhetorics and Gendered Leadership in Global Politics examines the rhetoric surrounding women who hold or have held the highest office of a nation-state. Heads of state such as Golda Meir, Margaret Thatcher, Benazir Bhutto, Ellen Johnson Sirleaf, and Michelle Bachelet have navigated their ascent to executive government in vastly different ways while contending with gendered expectations of leadership, especially since most of them are the first woman to occupy their country's highest governmental position. This book analyzes how these women rhetorically perform their positions of power discursively, visually, and physically in a traditionally male leadership role Specifically this project examines how certain rhetorical acts open up and close down the potential to confront the gendered expectations surrounding political leadership When people analyze campaign for or critique a female prime minister or a woman president they are not just talking about one woman but also referencing a collective neoliberal logic that interrupts and reaffirms the belief that the nation state is an eternal inevitable structure Diverse political figures such as Angela Merkel Julia Gillard and Indira Gandhi are continually put in conversation with one another through popular media representations academic scholarship and political analyses This book examines the effect of such comparisons and connections ultimately arguing that many of these gestures reduce or over simplify women s contributions to world politics In order to show this effect this book manifests the transnational connections found in autobiographies organizations political commentaries biographical films and other sources that focus on women who have been heads of state

Research Handbook on Law, Movements and Social Change Steven A. Boutcher,Corey S. Shdaimah,Michael W. Yarbrough,2023-07-01 The study of law and social movements provides an ideal lens for rethinking fundamental questions about the relationship between law and power This Research Handbook takes up that challenge framing a new more global dynamic reflexive and contextualised phase of social movement studies

Gender Inequality in Our Changing World Lori Kenschaft,Roger Clark,Desiree Ciambone,2015-07-24 Gender Inequality in Our Changing World A Comparative Approach focuses on the contemporary United States but places it in historical and global context Written for sociology of gender courses this textbook identifies conditions that encourage greater or lesser gender inequality explains how gender and gender inequality change over time and explores how gender intersects with other hierarchies especially those related to race social class and sexual identity The authors integrate historical and international materials as they help students think both theoretically and empirically about the causes and consequences of gender inequality both in their own lives and in the lives of others worldwide

Gender, UN Peacebuilding, and the Politics of Space Laura J. Shepherd, 2017-08-02 The United Nations Peacebuilding Commission UNPBC was established in December 2005 to develop outlines of best practice in post conflict reconstruction and to secure the political and material resources necessary to assist states in transition from conflict to peacetime Currently the organization is involved in reconstruction and peacebuilding activities in six countries Yet a 2010 review by permanent representatives to the United Nations found that the hopes of the UN peacebuilding architecture despite committed and dedicated efforts had yet to be realized Two of these hopes relate to gender and power specifically that peacebuilding efforts integrate a gender perspective and that the Commission consult with civil society NGOs and women's organizations This book is the first to offer an extensive and dedicated analysis of the activities of the UN Peacebuilding Commission with regard to both gender politics broadly conceived and the gendered dynamics of civil society participation in peacebuilding activities Laura J Shepherd draws upon original fieldwork that she conducted at the UN to argue that the gendered and spatial politics of peacebuilding not only feminizes civil society organizations but also perpetuates hierarchies that privilege the international over the domestic realms The book argues that the dominant representations of women gender and civil society in UN peacebuilding discourse produce spatial hierarchies that paradoxically undermine the contemporary emphasis on bottom up governance of peacebuilding activities

The Space of the Transnational Shirin E. Edwin, 2021-12-01 This book examines Muslim women's creative strategies of deploying religious concepts such as ummah or community to solve problems of domestic and communal violence polygamous abuse sterility and heteronormativity By closely reading and examining examples of ummah building strategies in interfaith dialogues exchanges and encounters between Muslim and non Muslim women in a selection of African and Southeast Asian fictions and essays this book highlights women's assertive activisms to redefine transnationalism understood as relationships across national boundaries as transgeography Ummah building strategies shift the space of or respatialize transnational relationships focusing on connections between communities groups and affiliations within the same nation Such a respatialization also enables a more equitable and inclusive remediation of the citizenship of gendered and religious citizens to the nation state and the transnational sphere of relationships
